

Towel Shower For Bride-To-Be

Miss Helena Kingston, Oak
Lake, Guest Of Honour At Happy Event, Wednesday

Miss Helena Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kingston, Oak Lake, and a bride of next week, was guest of honour at a tea towel shower given for her on Wednesday afternoon, June 5, at the home of Mrs. Harold Detlor. Mrs. Jerry Marshall and Mrs. Detlor were joint hostesses for this happy event, and capably provided a very entertaining afternoon.

The making of a bride's scrap book occupied a brief period of time, and then, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the fair bride-to-be was escorted to the living room where seated at a table piled with parcels, she was given all kinds of advice, in prose and poetry, as to what is expected of a farmer's wife and housekeeper.

Miss Kingston then unwrapped, and all admired as nice a collection of tea towels as one could ever find gathered in one spot, and voiced her appreciation in a neat brief speech, following which Miss Mae Currie read the following address:

Dear Helena:

It affords your friends on this line much pleasure to have you as their guest of honour this afternoon. This pleasure may be not too often indulged in the future, since you are so soon transferring the sunshine of your smile to another section of the township. Somehow or other, possibly in our everlasting and feverish pursuit of materials for meals, body covering and persistent dust and dirt, we do not gather in these social groups as often as we might. We wait for some special occasion, when such an occasion as this arises, how happy we are to rise to meet it!

While we sincerely hope this afternoon will be remembered as our gift of a few happy hours, we have not limited our hopes to the immediate present, but have also looked ahead to your future happiness.

If you dream of a future made up of romance, of moonshine and roses and infinite bliss,—we think of those times when you'll come face to face with your dishes—and his!

If you see yourself blushing with pride and with pleasure as cakes, pies and cookies call forth hubby's praise,—we think of the pan from which

MISS ELSIE IRVINE

Miss Elsie Irvine, a farm daughter from Haldimand County, a former Homemaking Club member and a graduate of MacDonald Institute, has been appointed as a Home Economist on the staff of the Women's Institute Branch, and will carry on her work in Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, Hastings and Prince Edward Counties. Since graduating Miss Irvine has been in charge of food services. She comes to the work highly recommended and is well qualified to give leadership to rural young people.

hands emerge, blushing, three times every day!

While you're dreaming of bliss, we remember the blisters you are likely to get as you spend hours and hours of your rosy future in washing up china—his dishes and yours!

Three times every day! But don't let it "get" you! We thought of all that and just look at our gift,—this array of new tea towels should certainly give your dishwashing a lift!

There are towels of all colors and sizes, Helena, and added to them are our very best wishes that romantic dreams will lose none of their glamor while doing your dishes.

Signed by all present: Pansy Detlor, Luella Marshall, Bertha Lindenfield, Gladys Campbell, Neva Cain, Frances Bird, Edna Kerr, Annie Searles, Ella Lindenfield, Mrs. F. Clare, Hazel Tufts, and Misses Eva Bird, Grace Connor and Mae Currie.

Mrs. Fred Kingston and Miss Alberta Kingston, mother and sister of the guest of honor, were also among those present.

The lunch served by the hostesses, sandwiches, cakes, cookies, coffee and ice cream, was one of the best yet.

A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Victory Day Service At St. Paul's Sunday

St. Paul's will mark the Second Anniversary of D-Day and celebrate Empire Victory Day next Sunday morning when the Brownies, the members of the local Legion and the members of the Frankford Legion will parade to Morning Worship led by the Stirling Band. There will be special music by the choir under Mr. G. L. Clute's direction, the Lessons will be read by the Adjutant of RCAF Station, Trenton, Squadron Leader P. V. K. Triple, DFC and Russell West, formerly Lieutenant of Royal Canadian Navy. The Minister will conduct the service and preach.

I.O.O.F. Attend St. Mark's

St. Mark's Church, Bonarlaw was filled to overflowing on Sunday evening last when Springbrook Lodge of Oddfellows together with a large number of visiting Rebekahs, members of the Cantons and Encampment, and members of other subordinate lodges attended the evening service at 8 p.m.

The Rector Rev. J. M. Brownlie preached an inspiring and appropriate sermon and also sang a solo.

Past Grand Howard Martin acted as marshal.

Next Game Here Monday Night

Softball fans are reminded that the next game in the Rawdon League to be played locally will be on Monday night next, June 10th, when Mt. Pleasant and Bell Telephone will play at the School Grounds. The date of this game has been advanced from Tuesday night due to a counter attraction.

On Tuesday night Bethel plays Stirling here and Bonarlaw at Glen Ross.

Sold Property

A real estate deal of interest was completed this week when Messrs. Dodwell and Broadworth disposed of the property they purchased some months ago from the Bellinger Estate to F. H. Sheridan, of Toronto. The new owner expects to move his household effects here this week.

Rawdon Minister Resigns Charge

Following four years successful ministry on the Rawdon Circuit of the United Church, Rev. T. F. Townsend, B.A., B.D., has tendered his resignation to the Official Board to take effect June 30th, and has accepted the Deseronto charge. Rev. Nathaniel Cole of Renfrew, will be his successor on the Rawdon charge.

Bowl At Campbellford

Two rinks of local bowlers attended the Men's Triples Tournament in Campbellford yesterday afternoon and evening. Those attending from here were Dr. P. V. Helliwell and Messrs. R. A. Patterson, Walter Elliott, F. R. Mallory and A. Brooks.

"China And Pottery" Subject of Papers At St. Paul's W.A.

Excellent Programme Was Presented — Samples Of Chinaware Were Displayed

The June meeting of St. Paul's Woman's Association was held at the home of Mrs. Claude Tucker on Tuesday afternoon, June 4th with a large attendance. Mrs. A. Armstrong, 1st vice president, directed the devotional and business portion of the meeting, due to the unavoidable absence of the president.

The meeting opened with the singing of the theme song, and prayer by Mrs. Armstrong. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, along with all other communications received during the past month, also reported fifteen cards and two letters were sent during May. The visiting committee, Mrs. H. David and Mrs. G. H. Leury reported twenty one calls made during May. Mrs. A. Bradburn and Mrs. E. Somerville will act as visiting committee for June. A complete and very satisfactory financial report was presented by the treasurer Mrs. J. B. Thompson.

Mrs. Warren Preston, convener of the Friendly Workers Group of the W.A., gave a very interesting, and complete report of their work. She also gave a donation of twenty-five dollars to the Women's Association, for which a vote of thanks moved by Mrs. Nora Wescott, seconded by Mrs. J. B. Thompson was tendered.

After some discussion the Friendly Workers Group decided to make an entry fee and join the Stirling Agricultural Fair as a group.

Excellent reports of the Annual W. A. and Ladies Aid Societies' convention held in Albury United Church, Prince Edward County on May 23rd, was ably presented by Mrs. Arthur Scott, and was greatly appreciated by all present.

The program of the day was capably directed by Mrs. Walter Elliott. After the singing of hymn 15, Mrs. J. Irish read the Scripture lesson, the 95th Psalm, followed with prayer by Mrs. Elliott. A very interesting program had been arranged by Mrs. Elliott and her committee in connection with the topic "China and Pottery", and with her committee's assistance a display of Spode, Wedgwood, Royal Crown Derby, Shelley, and other valuable designs in china was presented. The topic was divided in four parts, the Veterans Shun!

All War Veterans of Stirling and Vicinity are invited to assemble at Stirling Community Hall at 10.45 a.m. sharp on Sunday, June 9th, for the purpose of attending the Second Anniversary of D Day at a Special Victory Day Service at St. Paul's United Church.

Gary Rose Struck By Car Sunday

Gary Rose, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rose, was struck by a passing car in front of his father's home, a few miles west of this village on the Stirling-Campbellford Road, on Sunday night and suffered a slight concussion as well as severe head abrasions and multiple bruises to his body. He was rushed to Belleville Hospital and latest reports are that his condition is showing improvement.

Just before dark Sunday evening Gary was playing around a parked car, the occupants of which were visiting with other members of the family, when he darted out from behind the vehicle and was struck by a car driven by Raymond Geen, of Sidney Township. Although driving slowly at the time of the accident, the driver of the car had no chance to avoid striking the boy, it was reported by police who investigated.

Attending Sessions General Assembly

Rev. W. H. V. Walker, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, is a commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church being held in Knox Church, Toronto, June 6-13th. Mrs. Walker accompanied him and will be a guest of relatives for the week.

Fire Destroys Barn And Livestock

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the main barn, together with eight calves and a number of pigs, on the farm of Jonathan Thain on the 6th concession of Rawdon, about eleven o'clock Wednesday morning.

Neighbors quickly noticed the blaze and immediately formed a bucket brigade to battle the flames but the structure was completely destroyed.

Part of a chicken house was also burned but the main portion was saved.

first, covering the manufacture of China and Pottery and was given by Mrs. Elliott. This manufacture dates back 6000 years. The material used is tested for 6 months, ground for 3 weeks constantly, then put in a large vat and constantly stirred. An electric magnet is used to draw off all iron, then strained to a putty consistency and put through a pug mill process to remove the air. Following this process, it stands for 2 months to ripen as it were. Following the moulding in the potter's hands the china is fired in an oven at 300 degrees Fahrenheit which takes about 50 hours, and several days to cool. The gold is put on by hand and only by men. After the painting, the china is fired for ten hours. No seconds are allowed to go on the market to spoil their reputation.

Mrs. P. Statia gave a splendid paper on the "History of Spode China" which started in 1733, established in 1770 and has continued ever since.

Mrs. X. P. Mayhew also presented an interesting paper on "The History of Wedgwood China". Mrs. J. L. Good related "The story of the Willow Plate", which represented an ancient Chinese legend, and proved a fitting climax to a topic which was most interesting and educational.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. A very dainty luncheon was served by the committee in charge and a social period was enjoyed by all. Mrs. W. L. Fox voiced the appreciation of all the ladies present to the hostess, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Elliott, and the entire committee for making possible such an enjoyable meeting.

Regular Session Village Council

Mill Street Ditch Subject of Lengthy Discussion — Engage Caretaker of Library

The regular meeting of Stirling Village Council was held on Monday night with Reeve West presiding and all members of council in attendance.

Reeve West stated that in searching the records at the Registry Office it was found that Lot 14 and part of Lot 13 on the north side of Church St., the same being a portion of the L.H. Schol campus, was registered in the name of His Majesty the King. Investigation disclosed that this piece of land approximately 82' x 160', had been deeded to the Crown in 1914, in the hopes that an Armouries would be erected on the site.

Council decided to take action to reclaim the property, if possible, and the clerk was instructed to communicate with the local member, Geo. S. White concerning the matter.

A request from Arthur Scott for a 12-foot extension to the sidewalk on the south side of Wright St. was laid over until the streets committee started doing cement work.

July 1st being Dominion Day, the next meeting will be held on Friday night, June 28th.

Councillors E. G. Bailey gave notice that he would introduce a by-law to set the municipal levy at the next meeting of Council.

The matter of a caretaker for the Public Library was discussed at length and on motion of Councillors Wells and Elliott, Mr. W. Gravers was engaged at a salary of $10 per month, retroactive to Jan. 1st, 1946.

The purchase of a 16 ft. 12 inch metal culvert for use on the streets, was authorized by Council.

The matter of the unsanitary condition of the ditch at the rear of the properties on Mill St. was discussed at some length. Various suggestions were offered for taking care of the situation but due to the fact that it is private property no definite line of action was decided on. It was decided to secure the advice of an engineer on what could be done and an approximate cost.

The following accounts were presented for payment.

NATIONAL CLOTHING COLLECTION

Those pinching shoes, those shiny pants,
That old-but-still-good suit;
The socks that shrank, the coat too snug,
That dress no longer cute.

These very things would bring delight
To many refugees;
So why not pack them up to-day
For sending overseas.

—from 'Net Results'

This little ditty was circulated to-day by the Headquarters of the National Clothing Collection, as a reminder to Canadian housewives to start getting together their old and serviceable apparel and bedding to contribute to the Campaign from June 17th to 29th inclusive.

Unless Canada answers this appeal with 12 million pounds of clothing and bedding, millions of people in Europe face death from sickness and exposure next winter, Health Minister Russell T. Kelley, Provincial Chairman said to-day. He urged all householders to start saving clothing for all ages, bedding, boots, shoes, top coats, overcoats, suits, dresses, gloves, caps, underwear, sweaters, pyjamas and other items of apparel.

NO MORE MUNICIPAL TAX SALES

By a new act, passed by the Ontario Legislature at its last session, municipal tax sales will be a thing of the past. Under the new act the maximum opportunity will be given the owner to redeem his property.

By the new plan, lands on which taxes remain unpaid for three years, are registered by the municipality, which takes no further action for another year. If the taxpayer then finds himself able to pay up his taxes, or at any time before the town disposes of the land, he can recover it by paying back taxes and interest, plus a fee for changing the title.

Third parties and the expense of a tax sale are eliminated under the act, and all sales of property by the municipalities must be approved by the Ontario Municipal Board.

The new system has been in use in "Supervised" municipalities and it is said to have many advantages—chief of which is to give the owner every reasonable chance of retaining his property.

Tax sales have been a feature of municipal life ever since the early days, and many good properties have been picked up over the years by alert citizens who kept their eyes on tax sale lists. But the new plan looks like a good one if it will help hard-pressed taxpayers to make a come-back and regain ownership of their homes or other property.

NAVY LEAGUE TAG DAY

On Saturday, June 8th, the Ontario Division of the Navy League of Canada will ask for the financial support of Stirling through the medium of its annual tag day which is, this year a special occasion marking the League's fiftieth or "Golden Jubilee" year since its inception in 1896.

Because of the demands now being made for the further development and expansion of the Sea Cadet movement as a proven, youth-training program, the need for funds with which to carry on this increasingly important work is greater than ever before.

Owing to the emergency of war and the services the Navy League was called upon to provide, it was not possible to fully acquaint public opinion with the peace-time value of the Sea Cadet movement during the war years but to Federal, Provincial and Civic Officials as well as to many men and women in private life, the advantages offered through membership in a Sea Cadet Corps are, and have been, well known.

In brief, Sea Cadet training directs youthful energies along useful lines and gives an active boy a definite objective to work for and think about. A new interest in school studies is awakened when he discovers that he can make practical use of his book learning, in such subjects, for example, as navigation and radio. He develops good habits and traits that stand him in good stead for the rest of his life. He spends two weeks at a well-organized and properly supervised summer camp and he can qualify for a Navy League scholarship to the Royal Canadian Naval College.

Such a movement commends itself to parents, ministers, teachers, employers and all others interested in Canadian youth, but the extent to which it can be made effective depends upon the extent to which it receives public interest and support.

The St. John's Chapter of the I.O.D.E., under the leadership of Miss Rosa Spry, are carrying out the canvas in the village and we trust they will meet with a generous response.

PREMARITAL AND BLOOD TESTS

The case for premarital blood testing—boosted recently by legislation enacted by the Prince Edward Island and Manitoba legislatures—is well set out in a pamphlet issued by the Health League of Canada's Social Hygiene Division. Such legislation already is in effect in Alberta and Saskatchewan, while a similar British Columbia law still has to be proclaimed.

The pamphlet emphasizes that the war on VD is not over, and reveals that in Canada in the first two months of this year there was an increase of 25 per cent in cases of syphilis and gonorrhea as compared with the same period last year.

It calls for protection of marriage and newborn children through further legislation for premarital and prenatal blood testing. It is emphasized that while the ideal preventive is any measure or measures that will tend to prevent exposure, the blood test also prevents in that it detects hidden syphilis, for the benefit of both the already infected and the uninfected, or the newborn.

The pamphlet notes that in the case of the expectant mother, treatment within the first five months of pregnancy nearly always assures the birth of a healthy baby. Available information on prenatal legislation in effect in the United States reveals that such laws usually require the physician, nurse, or midwife attending the prospective mother to arrange that a blood test be included in the regular prenatal examination. There are no prenatal blood testing laws in existence in Canada at present.

In regard to premarital blood testing, it is stated that since 90 per cent of all Canadians marry—the majority of them between the ages of 20 and 30, an age group in which venereal disease is rampant—detection and treatment of VD on the threshold of marriage would go a long way in a short time toward stamping out VD.

FACTS COUNT

Have you ever noticed in an argument that the man who has the facts always comes out on top. It is easy to discuss agricultural problems in general terms but when someone starts quoting figures, the argument is about over. The future of agriculture is being discussed and argued about a lot these days not only in Canada, but all over the world. Canada is very much concerned in these arguments and needs to have her facts right up to date. The Agricultural Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics is the authority on agricultural facts for Canada but officials of that Branch must depend on the co-operation of farmers if they are to have the facts ready when they are needed. The annual June 1 survey card dealing with crop acreages and live stock numbers is now being distributed. You will be doing Canada and Canadian agriculture particularly, a service by completing and returning your card promptly.

What Others Say!

BOTHER AND CHILD DOING WELL

In an Ontario Township there's a mother, aged fifteen, currently receiving the baby bonus on account of an infant to whom she gave birth not long since. The mother's mother is at the same time receiving the baby bonus on account of her erring daughter.

If the fifteen-year-old girl had acquired a lawful husband she would have deprived her mother of the $8 per month. A cynic suggests that perhaps the infant's father's mother also may be getting the bonus on his account, but there is a regrettable lack of exact information on that point.—Printed Word.

CLASSIFYING FILMS

Ontario's Board of Censors of Motion Pictures will hereafter classify all pictures submitted to its members so as to enable the theatre owner to provide appropriate entertainment for children of impressionable age. This will also provide direction for parents and guardians who seek suitable entertainment for their children or charges, says the report for the year ending March 31st, 1946, of the Motion Picture Censorship and Theatre Inspection Branch of the Ontario Treasury Department issued this week. This measure started the first of June of this year.

In keeping with its decision the board will request theatre owners to indicate in their advertising matter such classification as may be decided upon. For example the board may decide that a particular film should be seen only by adult audiences and the theatre owner should then indicate that fact on billboards, in newspaper and other advertising media. "This measure is in effect for one year and the board will further judge if the 'grading' is being displayed in a way that serves the purpose intended. At the end of the period specified, the results will be examined and their effect on the question of suitable entertainment for juveniles discussed with the board's senior officer and those community groups interested."

The board's opinion is that about 15 per cent of all films produced each year belong to the type of "murder mystery," "horror" and "crime" form of drama and the report says that "since the life of a film in Canada is longer than a year it is logical to assume that circulation of such entertainment in great volume is fraught with dangerous consequences to some. It adds that "it is only fair to observe that cases of juvenile delinquency in the Toronto court during 1945 were the fewest recorded in 25 years. This reduction took place at the time of the greatest agitation against motion picture industry which was accused of contributing to juvenile delinquency. However, the board realizes its re-

The Only Remedy for Hunger is FOOD!

The most efficient way in which we can send increased bulk shipments of WHEAT, MEAT, CHEESE and EGGS to needy countries is through the Canadian government food boards. These increased bulk shipments can only be made providing we reduce our own consumption. Here are five important ways by which we can make greater quantities of food available for export:

- (1) BUY AND USE LESS BREAD, FLOUR AND OTHER WHEAT PRODUCTS, MEAT, CHEESE AND EGGS. SUBSTITUTE VEGETABLES, FRUIT AND FISH WHERE POSSIBLE.
- (2) KEEP YOUR HOME STOCKS LOW — BUY ONLY ENOUGH FOR IMMEDIATE REQUIREMENTS.
- (3) AVOID ALL WASTE.
- (4) GROW A VICTORY GARDEN AGAIN THIS YEAR. PLANT MORE THIS TIME IF YOU CAN.
- (5) DONATE ANY MEAT COUPONS YOU CAN SPARE. ENQUIRE AT YOUR LOCAL RATION BOARD.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

EXPECT NEW WEED KILLERS FOR LAWNS

During recent months there has been considerable interest in the amazing new weed killer, commonly called 2,4-D. There is no doubt that this is the most promising selective weed killer yet developed for many lawn weeds, such as dandelions, plantains, and several other broad leaved turf weeds. Undoubtedly new preparations even better than those based on 2,4-D, will soon be produced. Any of the 2,4-D products on the market may be used and it is recommended that the manufacturer's recommendations and warnings be followed very closely, says J. H. Boyce, Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

What is often overlooked in using selective weed killers is that it is useless to kill the weeds in a lawn unless steps are taken to make desirable species of grasses grow in the spots where the weeds are killed. If the bare areas are not taken over very quickly by the grass they provide admirable seed beds for more weeds and eventually the lawn may be weeder than it was before the weed killer was used. A dense vigorous growth of grass, on the other hand, discourages the encroachment of weeds. The development of such a turf depends on following suitable cultural practices such as fertilization, in some cases liming seeding with adapted species, watering, and mowing. Circulars on the construction and care of lawns are available from the Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

POULTRY INDUSTRY IS BIG BUSINESS

The poultry industry in Canada has become big business. It is made up, however, of a multitude of small businesses. It is in the continued success or non-success of these individual businesses can hope to succeed. The fullest possible utilization of the products of nature is a basic principle in economics and good management.

In poultry management, there are some things often overlooked, such as grass, earthworms, water, air light, earth and exercise. Grass is the most readily available source of vegetables protein and essential nutrients for poultry, and animal protein is easily obtainable in earthworms. Only one or two species of earthworms may carry poultry parasites. They can be avoided. Water is almost more important than feed. From their peculiar structure, poultry suffer more readily from lack of water than from lack of feed. Light is essential especially in the fall and winter. High producing stock needs extra light and extra feeding time to produce well. Concerning earth there are virtues in good earth and contentment for the birds in a dust bath, and in good poultry management it is a maximum that growing stock should be obliged to arrange for part of its ration.

CULLING POULTRY ON RANGE PROFITABLE

Culling starts on the day the chicks are hatched as it is essential that all chicks be examined and weak ones discarded before being sent to the brooders. During the rearing period first in the brooders and later on ranges the flock should be watched constantly and any birds showing weakness of any kind discarded. Each weak bird on the range means a loss of feed and time because they can never become good adult stock and are a menace to their pen mates. Only when all stock has its full measure of health and vitality is the range operating efficiently, states C. R. Goodwin, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Disease presents a problem to the poultryman at any time of year, but particularly when rearing young stock. Pullorum disease can now be avoided by the purchase of eggs or chicks from pullorum free flocks but the poultryman has still the menace of coccidiosis and worms to contend with. These can be combated by sanitation and care in management. It is advisable to be sure that all equipment is clean and that young birds are separated from old birds. Well ventilated and clean houses are also essential.

The transition from range to the laying house provides the occasion for a most thorough culling on the basis of physical condition and disease. If culling has been efficient during the range period only a small number will have to be removed at this time. Weaklings should not get beyond this point, however, as they may be morbid and lay only spasmodically thus adding additional feed cost to that already accumulated against them during the rearing period. To sum up; be particularly thorough about culling on range because the longer a bird, which is likely eventually to give a poor account of itself in the laying house, lives, the greater will be its rearing cost without the compensation of adequate later egg production to offset out of pocket expenses for feed and other charges.

SWARM PREVENTION MEANS MORE HONEY

Thousands of pounds of honey are lost every year by colonies of bees that swarm. Many swarms are lost entirely, while some may be caught and rehived either in a new location or in the parent hive, says C. A. Jamieson, Bee Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The production of the colony that swarms is never as large as the one in which no swarm cells are built. Once the swarming fever becomes predominant in a colony all its normal functions are reduced. The queen reduces egg production, many of the field bees cease foraging, a dozen or more queen cells are built and all activities are concentrated on the preparation for the new colony. As the swarming season usually coincides with the beginning of the main honey flow, it can readily be seen how its presence can materially affect the honey crop even though steps are taken to prevent the swarm from leaving the hive.

Swarming is nature's method of colony increase and some races of bees are more inclined to swarm than others. There are also some strains of bees in which this characteristic would seem to be dominant and in such cases it is advisable to requeen from a strain which shows little or no swarming tendency.

The most important contributing factor to swarming is the congestion of the brood nest. Normally the queen reaches her maximum egg production just prior to the main honey flow and, if at any time during the build-up period she is restricted in comb space, swarm cells are usually started. By providing plenty of room throughout the development period swarming is almost entirely eliminated.

Strong colonies will need three brood chambers until the beginning of the main flow at which time one of them may be raised above an excluder. For colonies of medium strength two chambers will usually take care of the space needed by the queen, although removal of a few combs of honey to a super above may be necessary.

When swarm cells are started the demaree method of swarm control consists of separation of the brood from the queen while at the same time all cells are destroyed. Information concerning the detail of this method may be obtained by writing to the Bee Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Careful attention to brood development in colonies so that queens are provided with adequate room when needed will pay dividends in increased honey production.

A parson had occasion to reprove a small boy for swearing.

"If you feel you must say something just say 'Bother!'" he said. "Your father doesn't swear, does he?"

"Oh, no sir!"

The parson became curious.

"Well, then; if he were working in the garden and suddenly stepped backwards on to a rake which flew up and hit him from behind, what would he say?"

"He'd say, 'You're back early, dear!'"

THEIR FIRST CANADIAN RAIL JOURNEY

AFTERNOON TEA in the dining car with their mother, Her Excellency, The Viscountess Alexander, and then the thrill of a visit to the cab of the giant Canadian National Railways locomotive pulling the Vice-Royal special from Halifax to Ottawa were among the pleasant and, indeed, exciting experiences for the Alexander children during their first two days in Canada. They were delighted to see grapefruit and bananas, for instance, on the dinner menu, both rare commodities in Britain, to say nothing of roast beef, fruit pies and ice cream. On boarding the train the three children, Rose, Shane and Brian, discovered a well-filled fruit bowl in the dining room of the Governor-General's car and soon after received permission from their governess to help themselves. The bananas, oranges, pears and apples quickly disappeared and Rose, speaking for herself and two brothers, told the steward that the fruit tasted "marvellous".

Bell Telephone Downs Bonarlaw

In a scheduled game in the Rawdon Softball League played at the school grounds on Monday night, Bell Telephone defeated Bonarlaw by a score of 19-11. A good crowd was on hand and witnessed a good brand of ball.

Bill Long, on the mound for the winners, pitched steady ball all the way and was given good support by his teammates, Ray, who tossed them up for the losers, also pitched good ball but his lack of control and some shaky fielding by his supporters aided in their defeat.

Bell Telephone went down in order in the first inning but shoved six runs across the plate in the second to take the lead. They added one in the third and really salted the fixture away in the fourth when they added nine runs to their total. Two more were added in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Bonarlaw got two in the first, but Long set them down in order in the next two innings. However they added three in the fourth, two in the fifth one in the sixth and three in the seventh for a total of eleven.

Crisis and Confusion

Behind the numerous stories which are circulating about the current world food crisis which is not expected to be limited to 1946, according to well-informed quarters in Ottawa, extending at least until after the summer harvest of 1947, there is a story here which hints that the Canadian Government would be willing to consider on its merits any other steps which may be taken to give further assistance, though foresight in the form of a conservation policy has allowed Canada to export more wheat alone to starving nations during 1945-46 than was actually harvested in 1945 with the Canadian system enabling wheat, cheese and bacon to be shipped to the extent of 70 percent.

Moreover, it is also strongly hinted in some quarters that it is not being done only in a spirit of charity since there is already a "suggestion" for example, that Britain may have a "permanent interest" in purchasing meat from Canada, though, of course, at this time, there can be no commitment for Britain to make such exclusive purchases here. Likewise, there is a story that charity in the distribution of food may be a thing of the past within the year possibly and world shipments of food may be on a distinct commercial basis.

Price Increases Explained

It is reported in Ottawa that the upward revision in maximum prices of farm machinery, as announced by Wartime Prices and Trade Board, constitutes provision for appropriate increases in prices but does not make such increases mandatory. This is to say that in any case where a buyer and a seller had a firm contract as of April 13 for future delivery of farm machinery at prices lower than the new maximum price the buyer has the ordinary protection of the law against any variation in the contract price, though if both buyer and seller agree the price might be adjusted within the limits of the revised maximum price.

Important Measures

Termed by one prominent member as the "most far reaching constitutional change since Confederation", the Government's proposed system of redistribution of seats in the next Parliament, as explained by Justice Minister Louis St. Laurent, is considered as a "very lively issue" along Parliament Hill. Some of the points brought out show that changing the basis of representation in Parliament which now is founded on 65 into the population of Quebec formula, may be accomplished by a petition to the British Parliament for amending the British North America Act of 1867; since this is in reality an affair concerning the central Parliament such a petition does not need the consent of the various provincial legislatures; the resolution does not need the unanimous approval of Parliament; the previous amendment to put off redistribution during the war received passage through the British Parliament in approximately ten days.

Under the proposed plan, the representation in the next Parliament would be as following, present representation being given in brackets; Prince Edward Island, 4 (4); New Brunswick, 10 (10); Quebec, 73 (65); Ontario, 83 (82); Manitoba 16 (17); Saskatchewan 20 (21); Alberta 17 (17); British Columbia 18 (16); Yukon 1 (1); total 255 (245).

On June 7, 1946, Premier King will equal the record of the longest term of public service of any British Empire Prime Minister, that is Sir John A. Macdonald who served from July 1, 1857 to Nov. 6, 1873, and from Oct. 17, 1878 to June 6, 1891. Mr. King has served from Dec. 29, 1921, to June 28, 1926; from Sept. 25, 1926 to Aug. 7, 1930, and from Oct. 23, 1935 to the present.

7-Man Appeal Board

A report tabled in the Senate in Ottawa has recommended the creation of a seven-man appeal board to hear and to decide any appeal made by a Canadian taxpayer from an assessment under the Income War Tax Act and the Excess Profits Tax Act. This report was the first of three to be made by a special committee of the Senate, this established in the fall of 1945, in order to look into the provisions and operations of the Income War Tax Act and the Excess Profits Tax Act.

Value of Expedition

It is evident in Ottawa that the exercise Musk-Ox proved most valuable in providing information about Canada's vast Arctic region, judging by at least two significant statements here. Col. J. T. Wilson, director of operational research at National Defence Headquarters and leader of the exercise Musk-Ox, stated in Ottawa that much valuable information of this kind had been obtained, though more blanks on topographical maps of the vast Canadian Arctic remain to be filled in and if Canadians do not explore it then expeditions from other countries will do it. Group Capt. V. S. J. Millard, staff officer to RCAF Maintenance Command, also declared to the House of Commons war expenditures committee that exercises similar to Musk-Ox could be expected in future.

Changes Planned

Important changes are proposed in the Unemployment Insurance Act and it is reported in this capital that these include placing the National employment service in the jurisdiction of the Labour Minister acting through the Unemployment Insurance Commission increasing from $1 to 1.50 a day the amount received by a person under unemployment insurance as earned without losing insurance benefits; providing for compulsory reporting of employment changes. Likewise, consideration is being given extending the insurance scheme to seamen and others and broadening the definition of a person with dependents, such as those maintaining a household and supporting a related person.

Probe Of Immigration

Since it is known in Ottawa that there is a virtual flood of applications or requests of persons wishing to come to Canada, the special Senate committee investigating immigration is one being watched with intense interest, with A. L. Joffe, director of immigration, testifying that about 60,000 dependents of Canadian servicemen were in the United Kingdom and Europe and about half have been brought to this country already, estimating the remainder might be here during the present year. Moreover, from 1939 to 1945, Canada's total immigration was 68,287 and in the same period Canadian emigration to United States was a little less than 10,000 a year, probably 55,000 altogether.

Said In The Capital

"Women of Canada cannot expect to protect their homes, and the things their husbands, sons and brothers died for, unless they recognize their responsibilities as citizens and the need for the establishment and protection of their civil rights", said in Ottawa the only woman member of Parliament, Mrs. Gladys Strum in endorsing the creation here of the Civil Liberty Group. "We have tried to emphasize for the benefit of all concerned that it is good business for the future not to gyp tourists this year on the different services rendered them," declared the director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, D. Leo Dolan, in discussing such matters before the tourist committee of the Senate. "In all your hotels, service to the public could be improved by a little cracking down on the private graft," said Leslie Mutch, M.P., to the president of the C.N.R., R. C. Vaughan, in referring to some of the employees in these hotels before a hearing in the Railway Committee of the House of Commons with Mr. Vaughan promising to investigate. "An important question before us at present is the number of farmers Canada's land can carry," said Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa. "If we can increase the area of arable land by 50,000,000 acres, we will have reached in my opinion, the limit of agricultural expansion."

Weekly Wind-Up

Authorities have considered it carefully and they have reported in Ottawa that there is no prospect of an increase in sugar which will be available for canning purposes in Canada. Dr. H. F. Lewis, superintendent of wild life protection has told in Ottawa that there was need in this country of a national zoological garden, with the practice in many countries of establishing it near the national capital, though in the case of Canada no definite site has been recommended. One of the largest delegations of M. P.'s went from Ottawa to the annual convention of the Canadian Legion in Quebec. The R.C.A.F.'s peacetime force has received a huge number of applications for commissioned posts, it is learned in Ottawa, with the Air Minister Gibson's statement revealing that "about 11,000 applications have been received so far for approximately 1,500 commissioned openings and the number of applications is increasing every day."

Rawdon Council

Rawdon Township Council met on May 27th with all members present. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Deputy-Reeve Spencer and Councilor Bateman were appointed a committee to investigate Hill on the side road between 9th and 10th Concession on east side of Township. It was moved that Thos. H. Prest, Road Voucher for the month be paid.

The following accounts were ordered paid:

Roslin Finch, for sheep killed by dogs, on completion of affidavit $21.50
Valuator's fee $2.00
Council resumed general business and it was decided that Assessor be paid $3.00 for attending Court of Revision and Collector's time for collecting roll be extended to July 1, 1946 also that Council adjourn to meet Wednesday afternoon, July 3rd at 2 o'clock.

Letter To Editor

564 Victoria Avenue,
Windsor, Ontario,
June 1st, 1946

Dear Sir:

The Chiropractic profession has been suggested to a most intolerant attack in the June issue of the Reader's Digest, a well known internationally circulated magazine. It would seem only fair that the following facts be presented to the public:

1. Ontario Chiropractic Licence requires four years training, with nine months in each year, subsequent to Junior Matriculation. The Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College, Bloor St., Toronto, provides such a course of instruction. This College will have a new wing built this summer.

2. If Chiropractic training has been deficient in the past, by that much will Chiropractors in the future do even better work than now.

3. To help bring this about, let public grants be given to Chiropractic Colleges similar to Medical Colleges, so that they can get all the necessary equipment and instructors and have funds for proper development and enlargement.

4. The Government must be convinced of the value of Chiropractic or it would not pay for veterans to take such training.

5. Chiropractors receive recognition under the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Act, and most insurance companies recognize claims based on Chiropractic treatment.

6. Similarity in the early origin of both Christianity and Chiropractic in that both founder and disciples were of humble birth. This certainly does not detract from the value of either.

7. Diversity of Christian sects does not disprove fundamental Christian truth nor does different Chiropractic techniques and methods of practice disprove the basic principle behind Chiropractic science.

8. Finally, if Chiropractic was a fraud it would not continue to grow stronger each year, but would have died long ago.

Yours for fair play,
I. R. Harrison, D.C.

If an engine does not spark you cannot coax it to go. Engines have to be fueled and repaired. If the human engine does not function, we cannot carry on. People have to eat. Yet there are millions of people in the world today who are without necessary fuel for their bodies. There are people throughout the world who resemble delapidated machines — they look so gaunt, so sober, even weird. There are children whose expressions are pitiful, they do not smile or chuckle. It's a horrible thought to realize that 20 million children in Europe are developing anaemia, tuberculosis and other diseases.

True, more food is likely to become available at harvest time, but that's a long, long time to go hungry.

Meanwhile the emergency must be met. Action is required—voluntary action in our own homes and shops. The individual response will pile up an impressive result. Foodstuffs will become automatically available if Canadians will share their daily food requirements necessary for existence. Bulk shipments will go forward with efficiency and speed—compared to individual bundles and shop parcels.

To the question, "What can you and I do to help?" the answer is: share and play fair.

1. Eat less of certain foods: wheat, meat, edible fats and oils, eggs and cheese. We have an adequate supply of perishables to substitute for these foods wanted so badly in Europe today.

2. Prevent waste. Plan shopping carefully so that there will be no mouldy crusts or bone-hard cheese. Provide proper storage facilities.

3. Plant a vegetable garden. We should all be proud to see what Canadian soil can produce.

SAVINGS

Small savings add up. For instance, one slice of bread saved each day by each Canadian household would total 117,000 loaves of bread.

1. Serve milk and fruit desserts in place of those made of flour.

2. Make vegetable toppings on meat pies. Forget about dumplings and yorkshire puddings. Saute foods instead of dredging them with flour.

4. Freshen stale rolls and muffins by heating in top of double boiler or in a moistened paper bag in oven. Use what you have on hand before buying more.

5. Keep bread wrapped and in a ventilated box or covered crock. The refrigerator keeps bread fresh longer.

6. Use tested recipes, accurate measurements add careful cooking to avoid wasting precious ingredients. Don't cook for six when there are only four to feed. If you have leftovers make them interesting and be sure they are used up.

7. Send unused meat ration coupons to Ration Liaison Officers. Use moderate cooking temperature to prevent shrinkage of meat. Cover cooked meats to keep pieces from drying out.

A sharp carving knife means more servings.

8. Keep cheese wrapped tightly in a cloth moistened with vinegar and then rolled up in wax paper. Cover table pieces or wedges with wax paper pressed with a warm pan. Cheese crumbs keep fresh in an airtight jar, transfer to smaller jar when quantity is reduced.

9. Keep eggs fresh by storing in cool dark place away from aromatic products. Store egg yolks in a glass of water and poach them for sandwich filling.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

Mrs. G. C. says: Use a potato to clean a grater which has been left with lemon or other dried food on it.

Mrs. C. T. says: Spinach and other greens need no other water for cooking than that which clings to the leaves. Keep pans covered so that the steam cooks vegetables; cook only until tender and drain immediately.

Mrs. S. J. says: Orange bread made with oranges which have been cut and seeded and put through the food chopper whole makes a moist, tasty loaf.

DEADLINE LADY

CHAPTER XIII

Ann caught her breath and looked at him, shocked and incredulous.

"How?" she asked after a moment, and Tracy nodded in answer to the look in her eyes.

"Suicide," he said grimly.

"Oh not!" in a small shocked whisper.

"An overdose of a sleeping medicine, taken by accident," will be the story in the paper as brief as we can make it," Tracy told her quietly. "She had been in ill health for some time—your know the line."

Ann was very still for a moment then she said unevenly, "Poor Julie!" Tracy studied her curiously.

"You never liked her particularly, and once she tried to kill you," he said grimly. "Yet now you can be sorry for her?"

Ann lifted her head proudly, unashamed of the tears in her eyes. "Julie—wasn't really to blame," she said swiftly. "She was—neurotic, unhappy. She was—insane about Lyn—and he well, he's pretty much of a heel—as we both know now."

"As I've always known he was," stated Tracy flatly.

"Then it must upset you a lot to think of him being married to Lissa," Ann offered with delicate insolence.

"Lissa can take care of herself in a situation like that," Tracy told her flatly. "Anyway Frazier's nuts about her and I've an idea Lissa is going to revenge some of her sex who haven't known how to handle him. I—had dinner with them last night."

Tracy went on, his eyes on the salt shaker he was moving about the table as though he had been playing chess with it. "Julie—took poison late yesterday afternoon. The nurse who takes care of the baby found her and managed to get an ambulance and get her to the hospital. It was touch-and-go for a few hours—they thought up until late this afternoon, that Julie would live. But—she got away from them, at five twenty this afternoon—less than one hour ago."

"Lissa telephoned me yesterday as soon as she learned what Julie had done. She asked me to come to dinner and talk things over with Lyn. He was worried sick for fear that something would leak out and that the Board would wire him after all; and with a thing like this bounding him, he was pretty desperate. I went and—he came clean. I honestly think he told me the truth."

Ann smiled thinly. "He can be very charming," she said coolly. "When it suits his purpose."

Tracy looked at her almost sternly. "You think it would have served some good purpose for me to have broadcast through the papers that Julie Barton was so insanely in love with Dr. Lyn Frazier that, after having staged a scene at his home yesterday afternoon, she went back to her own home and took poison? What earthly good could it have done anybody—to shame the Fraziers, to humiliate Dan Barton, to hang an ugly story on their baby, a story she would never quite outgrow—just so that the gossip mongers and scandal bearers could have a juicy tidbit to roll about their evil tongues for a few days?" he demanded almost savagely.

Ann studied him coolly for a long moment. "You have changed," was her only comment.

He looked badgered and bewildered, but he tried hard to speak lightly. "For the better, I hope?"

"I'm not sure," she answered him quietly. "When I first came to work on the paper, you were all for broadcasting all the news regardless of where the effects might hit. Remember the first hint you had of Julie Barton's affair with Lyn, when you ordered me to go out and get the story—all of it, because our readers were entitled to it? Whatever became of that Tracy Driscoll, I wonder?"

Tracy colored and looked like an abashed small boy.

"Huh? You heard? He met a small enchanting person named Ann Clayton, who took him off his feet and injected a bit of milk of human kindness into a heart he didn't know he had—until he discovered he'd given it to her!" he told her gently.

Ann's eyebrows went up a little, just as though her heart was not beating like mad. "Oh that could not be the same Tracy Driscoll," she protested. "That is unless he's been taking lessons from Lyn Frazier—and I wouldn't like it if I thought he had."

"Look Ann," Tracy said doggedly, "you know darned well that I love you—"

But Ann flung up pretty hands, palms outward, and said swiftly, "Please! Let's not go into that again! I'm afraid I'm a little bored by that record!"

Tracy was angry now, his jaw set and hard, his eyes blazing.

"For two cents, I'd turn you across my knee right here and whale some sense into you!" he told her recklessly.

Ann nodded thoughtfully. "It's a twist in the lines," she admitted judiciously. "But I'm not sure it's an improvement. After all, that caveman stuff is terribly overdone, don't you think?"

Grimly Tracy studied her, and then he asked shortly, "Well then, what lines would you suggest?"

Ann's laugh was brittle. "One you could never possibly put over, so there's no use your trying it! Simple sincerity and honesty—shall I draw you a diagram?"

Once more Tracy studied her for a moment without speech. And then he said grimly, "Well now that we're being frank, perhaps I might be permitted to point out that your own little line is a bit frayed—the gay little sophisticated isn't you, Ann! You do it very badly."

Her face burned, but before she could answer him, Nick arrived with their dinner. And paused to chat a moment, asking about "the grandmama," and when he had gone, Tracy suggested politely, "How is the grandmama, by the way?"

"Having the time of her life," Ann answered, attacking her dinner just as though she was really as hungry as she should have been. "She's found an apartment she adores, bought Andrew and Martha a little farm and installed them on it, and it's hard to tell who's the most excited about it, Sarah or Andrew and Martha. Janie likes the new apartment, too. It's small, only has one bedroom but Sarah says she's entertained house guests all her life and now she's going to visit instead of being visited."

Tracy looked startled. "Only one bedroom? Then what becomes of you?"

Ann looked up at him with a polite pretense of surprise.

"Oh, I'm enlisting in the WAC," she told him cheerfully. "Just as soon as I finish serving out my thirty days notice to the Courier."

"In the WAC?" protested Tracy, unbelieving.

"The Woman's Army Corps—hadn't you heard?" asked Ann gently.

Tracy was half out of his seat, his eyes blazing.

"You'll do nothing of the sort!" he protested dazedly.

"The only problem," Ann went on as though he hadn't spoken, "is Junior. He told me confidentially he wouldn't like an apartment, and Sarah has only three rooms, and Junior is growing so fast that he would wag his tail once and wreck the place. So I suppose the only thing for him is a boarding kennel—I'm afraid he's not going to be very happy there—maybe you could suggest something?"

She said it brightly, as though they had been the most casual acquaintances discussing a problem of only momentary importance.

Tracy ran his fingers through his dark red hair and said sharply, "What is all this nonsense about you joining the WAC. I won't have it!"

Ann's smile was a delicate insult.

"More caveman stuff? You never learn do you?" she suggested sweetly. "You have nothing whatever to do with my affairs—"

"Listen you!" said Tracy so loudly that several people turned from the bar to look at him in lively curiosity, and he lowered his voice. "See here, Ann, all this is crazy business. You know darned well that I love you and that I want to marry you—"

"You've certainly managed to keep that a secret—remember the night Lissa wired us she was married, and Sarah tried so hard to play Cupid? You balked like a—like an Army mule at the very thought of getting married to me—"

"And you and Sarah both knew why," he told her violently. "It was because I was afraid I couldn't make you happy. Because I was afraid I couldn't take care of you the way you deserved. I knew that—once you were really mine, I couldn't go on living if I lost you—if you walked out on me—because I wouldn't have anything to live for."

"But if I loved you, why should I walk out on you?" she demanded sharply.

"I don't know—it's well, I suppose it's chiefly because nothing really swell ever really happened to me that didn't—have to be paid for in painful coin!" he admitted wryly, his eyes bitter and bleak with memories that were not happy. "Judging by what happened to me in the past, I guess I sort of took it for granted that—the happiness and the delight of having you could only be paid for by the misery and agony—of losing you—after a little while. And—I felt it would be easier to—give you up without ever really having you—than to—lose you—afterwards."

She stared at him now, every trace of anger and fight melting away from her, her wide eyes filled with tears. "Tracy—you poor lamb!" she said huskily. "What a rotten time you must have had—to be so terribly afraid of happiness!"

He nodded grimly. "I guess that sums it up—I've always been afraid—a little suspicious—of happiness; usually the price tag's pretty high and—I wasn't sure I could afford it—not this time."

"My darling," she said huskily. "Will you please marry me, so I can—make you happy and—teach you not to be afraid any more?"

He looked at her with humility so new that it was deeply touching and said it very low, "Would you, dear?"

"I'd—adore to," she told him and smiled through the tears.

He leaned forward and kissed her, completely oblivious to anyone who might be looking on. In fact, in that moment, he and Ann forgot there was anyone else on earth save the two of them.

For a moment that kiss endured, and then, in quick alarm he protested "But the WAC, Ann—you—you won't leave me?"

"No dearest," said Ann swiftly as she would have spoken to a small and adored child frightened of the dark. "I can aid the war effort on the home front—homes are terribly important, you know, and—you are fond of babies, Tracy?" she remembered to ask in quick alarm.

Such a look of radiance came into his eyes that she felt humbled. And at the same time deeply proud that she could bring such a look upon him.

"Fond of 'em? I'm mad about 'em," said Tracy with simple fervor.

Ann beamed at him contentedly.

"Then I'll do my bit by the war effort by raising a family," she told him happily, and her voice shook a little.

"Oh darling, darling—what fools we have been—to waste so much time—when we might have been so happy together!"

"We'll not waste another minute," he told her simply, and his hand held hers tightly. "Tomorrow, darling?"

She bent forward and kissed him.

and said her voice shaken with magic. "Tomorrow, my darling."

And Nick, watching them from the door of the kitchen, turned and went back, carrying the tray on which was their dessert knowing that probably there had never been a time when they were less interested in food than at this moment.

THE END

Modern New Cheese Factory Officially Opened

The Rylestone Cheese and Butter Co-operative, under the presidency of Clarence Barnum, held the official opening of their new cheese factory on Friday evening when one of the most modern buildings of its kind in this area was inspected by the public.

Built to replace the old factory which burned down on July 7, 1945, the new building has been erected across the road from the old site. The old site has been utilized for a new house for the cheesemaker, Harold G. Henderson, who is spending his third season with the company.

The new factory, designed and built by local labor at a cost of $23,000, is a cement block building finished in white stucco, and could easily be mistaken for a roadside restaurant. The overall length is 68 feet, and the width 46 feet.

The main room is the make room, a large airy and spotlessly clean room, also finished in white. By means of an electric hoist, the milk cans are unloaded from the trucks directly into this room where they are weighed and checked on a special platform.

The curing room, in which the finished cheese is stored, has been finished in tongue and groove planking, while the shelves on which the cheeses stand are 16-foot lengths of 10-inch wide Georgia pine, varnished to high finish. Next door to this is a whey butter storage room, and when the installation can be made, both these rooms will be kept at a temperature of 35 degrees by means of cooling machinery.

In a new departure, a special part of the building contains the whey tanks, usually found outside in most factories, and there is no perceptible odor inside or outside the plant.

In addition to a capacious test-room and a large boiler room, the factory is also equipped with a shower-room in which the staff may clean up before and after the day's work.

Inside storage has been provided for cheese boxes, in an aluminum-painted room which will hold a large supply of the containers. This is reached through the small modern office, which has been incorporated in the building, a neat little place with cream stucco walls and a sponge finish.

Jammed to Doors

Despite a heavy rain the new factory was jammed to the doors when President Clarence Barnum called the meeting to order. Mr. Fred Barnum, director of the factory for 29 years, officially welcomed the guests and told of the discouraging fire which last year had destroyed their fully equipped plant. However, failing to be discouraged and showing faith in the future of the dairy industry, patrons had formed a new co-operative and had decided to rebuild the most modern factory possible.

Speakers heard during the evening included W. C. Cameron, Chief Dairy Products, Grading and Inspection Services, Ottawa; C. E. Lackner, Director of Dairying, Toronto; George H. Stokes, M.P. for Hastings South; J. Fred Wilson and Roscoe Robson, M.L.A. of Hastings West and Hastings East; Major Drope, M.P. for Northumberland Durham; S. L. Joss, secretary Ontario Cheese Producers' Association; George S. White, M.P. for Hastings-Peterborough; Harold Cunningham, Dairy Grader, Belleville; J. M. Bain, chief instructor for Western and Central Ontario; John Murray, district instructor, J. L. Irwin, former dairy grader, and Ralph Banbury, Agricultural Representative for Northumberland.

All speakers paid tribute to patrons of Rylestone Co-operative and claimed that their new factory building was a credit, not only to themselves but to the entire dairy industry of Ontario. C. E. Lackner stated he was looking forward to the day when visitors could be taken into any cheese factory in the province without owners being ashamed of the plant. He stressed the importance of milk quality if quality cheese was to be produced, while Mr. Cameron told of Canada's place on the world export cheese market.

Roscoe Robson, M.P.P. for Hastings East, drew a big hand from the factory patrons and visitors when he declared that patrons of district cheese factories would all be envious of the splendid plant built by the Rylestone patrons.

"But we cannot all have factories of this type because we are not receiving enough for our product," he said. "The $3 per cwt. which the industry is asking for cheese milk is not a cent too much."

The Simpson Sisters, Mrs. Tom Wallace, and Francis de Carol rendered vocal numbers with Bruce Barnum acting as piano accompanist. Mr. Barnum also delighted with several piano solo numbers.

Motion pictures, one of them showing life on an English farm during summer, were shown while to conclude the evening's program the ladies served sandwiches and coffee.

Questions and Answers

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper to Information Branch, WPTB, 490 Sussex Street, Ottawa.

Q. Is it legal for a landlady to demand a week's rent from a boarder who wishes to give up a room and board instead of allowing the boarder to give a week's notice of intention to move. The amount charged for room and board was paid each week and there was no agreement to give notice of removal?

A. This is a situation which does not come under WPTB jurisdiction. In this case it would be advisable to consult your lawyer as it comes under Provincial Law.

Q. Why can grocers refuse to sell certain goods when it is known they have them in stock?

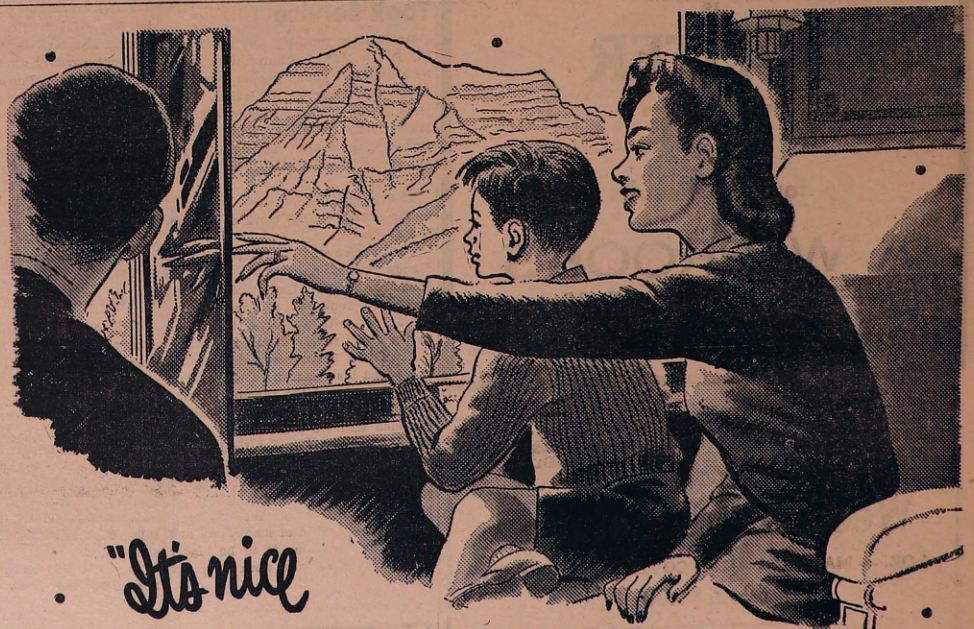

A. This question has been asked many times. The Board does not require any dealer to sell any article and sometimes grocers keep goods in short supply for their regular customers.

Q. My husband was discharged from the services some time ago and when he applied for his ration book the other day it only contained coupons from the date on which he applied for the book. Why shouldn't he get coupons from the date of his discharge?

A. Your husband could have called for his book immediately after his discharge and it would have contained all the coupons from that date on. Naturally it is assumed that the coupons are not needed if a person does not apply for a ration book immediately and for that reason coupons which become valid before the date of application are removed before the book is issued.

If each Canadian family used just one ounce less of meat each day, the national saving would be over 600 tons of meat a week—meat that would find its way to those who live with hunger.

Food is the world's number one problem. Buy less—use less—waste nothing. Share with the hungry!

Attended 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sables and Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooke attended the twenty-fifth Anniversary of Frankford L.O.B.A. on Saturday, May 25th. The Scarlet Degree was conferred on a number of candidates by the Trenton L.O.B.A. degree team. The banquet table was centred with a three-tier birthday cake adorned with twenty-five candles. The cake was cut by Sister Fox of Mar-mora, and the candles were blown out by Sister Lindsay, the Grand Mistress of Ontario East, of Ottawa, and the charter members of Frankford Lodge. The Grand Mistress gave an outstanding address on "Orangeism and the Holy Bible." Addresses were also given by Sister Gamble and Johnston of Ottawa; Sister Williams, of Mar-mora, and Sisters Rodgers and Dandford, of Stirling. A vote of thanks was extended W.M. Sis. Holland and members of Frankford lodge for a lovely evening.

Others in attendance from this district were Mrs. H. Cook, Mrs. S. Dandford, Mrs. Kirkey, Mrs. Fred Martin, Mrs. F. McMurray and Mrs. A. Lake.

Young People Took Service

On Sunday morning the service in St. Paul's United Church was taken by a group of young people from Hol-loway St. Church, Belleville. This team is one of several teams that has taken many church services in the surrounding district during the period of the "Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom."

The young people were welcomed to the church by the clerk of session, Mr. H. Hulin.

The service was conducted by Miss Maude Burke, assisted by Mr. Max McGuire. Misses Beth and Roslyn Robertson rendered a duet "Living for Jesus" with a charm that added to the effectiveness of the service.

Mr. Harry Denton was the speaker and based his remarks on the conversion of Paul and the theme "Missing the Boat." He compared the "boat" to the idea that we must accept Christ and if we neglect to put forth an effort and do so we shall be in the same plight as one who stands looking after the boat that has sailed, left behind. The service left the congregation many thoughts of inspiration and value and the team is to be highly recommended for the work they are doing.

ROYLE — BRADY

Bethel United Church was decorated with lilacs, tulips and geraniums in various hues for the evening wedding at 7.30 p.m. Saturday, June 1st, when Miss Ida Marjorie Brady, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brady, 4th Concession, Rawdon, became the bride of Stanley Edgar Royle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Royle Belleville.

The pastor, Rev. T. F. Townsend, B.A., B.D., officiated while Mrs. T. F. Townsend rendered wedding music. The winsome bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor length model of ivory satin designed with tight-fitting basque, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt with slight train. Her veil of filmy tulle was held in place with orange blossoms and she carried a white Bible with sprays of lilies of the valley and gardenia on satin floor length streamers.

Her attendants were Miss Gertie McMullen in a floor length gown of orchid sheer and Miss Irene Royle, sister of the groom in a lemon yellow floor length sheer. Both girls wore matching shoulder length veils and headresses and they carried bouquets of Happy Morn red roses.

Little Miss Gail Royle, niece of the groom, was a charming picture in a floor length frock of mauve organza with a basket of white lilacs.

Mr. Leslie Brady, of Tweed, assisted his nephew and the ushers were the groom's brothers, Messrs. Elwood and Malcolm Royle, of Belleville.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Leslie Brady of Tweed rendered a violin solo.

The home was decorated with pink and white streamers with bouquets of spring flowers and three tiered wedding cake centered the dining table.

Six girl friends of the bride served a buffet lunch and they were assisted by Mrs. Harry Preston, Mrs. Fred Martin and Mrs. Orval Jackson.

About seventy guests were present from Belleville, Point Ann, Peterboro and Toronto, while friends were present at the church from Calgary and Oshawa.

The bride chose for travelling to points East, a lime green wool dress maker suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Several photographs were taken of the group at the church and the home. Mr. and Mrs. Royle will reside in Belleville.

MITCHELL — HAY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Mount Pleasant, was the setting for a very pretty wedding at eleven o'clock Saturday morning, June 1st, when their youngest daughter, Miss Gladys Emily Hay, became the bride of Delbert Bernard Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mitchell, Warkworth.

The rooms were a bower of beauty with spring flowers in profusion and the ceremony was performed by the Pastor, Rev. T. F. Townsend, B.A., B.D., beneath an Arch of Evergreen and Spirea.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor length

Mount Pleasant United Church Celebrates 75th Anniversary

LARGE CONGREGATION PRESENT
AT BOTH SERVICES. REV.
FRED JOBLIN, WAS SPEAKER

By Florence MacMullen
Sunday, June 9th, was a memorable day in the annals of the church history when crowds of worshippers gathered from far and near for the 75th anniversary of Mount Pleasant United Church.

By 10.30 a.m. the large edifice was filled to capacity while dozens stood throughout the entire service. About seventy people were unable to gain admittance and remained on the church lawn while others came to the church and then travelled on to their friends' homes.

At the evening service an overflow meeting was held at the church hall where by means of a P.A. system the audience in the hall enjoyed the service. Mr. Will Fox of Stirling was in charge of this feature.

Large numbers of folks attended both services from Wellmans, Bethel, Salem, Carmel, Rylestone, Hoards, Burnbrae, Springbrook, Stirling and Marsh Hill, while other guests were present from Trenton, Belleville, Foxboro, Frankford, Kingston, Napanee, Johnstown, Shannonville, Toronto, Brantford, Markham, Port Perry, Detlor, Madoc, Lockport, New York, Gardenville, Brighton and other points.

Rev. Frederick H. Joblin, B.A., assistant pastor of Deer Park United Church, Toronto, was guest speaker and delivered two splendid messages. At the morning session he gave a few reminiscent thoughts of the days gone by when he drove his father, the Rev. F. G. Joblin around the circuit. He then spoke on the text found in Proverbs—"A good man leaves an inheritance to his children."

He challenged the young folks to seize hold of the inheritance that the Mount Pleasant pioneers had established and then build on that sure foundation, so that in future days they too could pass down to the next generation and inheritance of goodness. All should have enough Christianity to be truly happy and individuals should turn to the only source of goodness "God the giver."

At the evening service, "Fred" as his friends at Mount Pleasant all address him tendered appreciation to the choir for their music on behalf of himself and the congregation and spoke briefly on "The work of the church in general." Fred was a padre in the Canadian Army overseas and he gave a special word of advice to the returned soldiers and said, "the church needs these men."

He spoke of the need for a closer unity between the churches as well as the need for a closer unity among church members.

Days like June 9th are mountain-top experiences but we must always go down to the valley and work.

The Christian faith is still the most vital power in the world and individuals must ever strive for a new world outlook, finding new work for our minds and hearts and helping to build a better future.

REV. FRED H. JOBLIN, B.A.

For the first time in public the church organ was played by Mrs. Carleton Potts with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as pianist and they rendered several duet numbers before the services.

The choir rendered two anthems at the morning service. "The Heavens Declare Thy Glory"—Shawber and "Tell it to Jesus"—Lorenze-Benson, and Mrs. T. F. Townsend sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul".

In the evening the choir was heard in "The Church Marches On".

The male chorus, Messrs. H. Mudd, E. White, Robert Hoard, John Coggins, Orno Sharp and T. F. Townsend sang "The Good Shepherd" and Rev. and Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Marguerite McMillen, Mrs. Carleton Potts and Mr. John Coggins rendered "The Voice of Thy Saviour."

Beautiful baskets of spirea, iris and peonies added to the setting and the two silver cups won for presentation of a drama in 1942 by Mrs. MacMullen's group were on display. The large birthday cake with its 75 candles graced the communion table and these to be lit at the anniversary supper.

Baptismal Font
At the morning service a lovely Baptismal Font was received as a gift of the late Allen Bailey and was presented by Garnet Bailey and Isobel Turner in loving memory.

Greetings from former Pastors
Two former pastors were in attendance and at the morning service Rev. W. H. Clarke, Deseronto, who took charge of Rawdon circuit in the early part of 1907 said he remembered the work on the charge with deepest devotion. He said he followed God's leadership when he came to Rawdon circuit and he preached his first sermon from the text "For me to live is Christ". Early in 1909 special evangelistic services were held jointly with Rev. W. Stephens of the Baptist Church and thirty-three young people joined the Methodist Church while others decided to serve in the Baptist Church.

INJURED IN CRASH WITH CAR

Charles Bridges, age 20, Holloway suffered a broken arm and severe cuts and abrasions to his body and legs about eleven o'clock Sunday morning, when riding his motorcycle out of Stirling on Highway No. 14 he was in collision with an automobile as he attempted to make an angling left-hand turn off the highway. Driver of the car involved in the accident was Miss Olive Hamby, of Napanee. Dr. P. V. Helliwell attended the injured man who was later taken to Belleville Hospital.

The accident was investigated by Constable Sam Eggleton, of Stirling, and Provincial Constable Sam Ervine, of Belleville.

The latest report is that while his condition is improving, he will remain in hospital for some time yet.

Memorial Service

There will be a Memorial Service in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, on Sunday, June 23, 1946, at 2.30 p.m. in memory of Warrant Officer J. K. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wood, Stirling.

Arrived Home

Pte. Leonard Waterfall, of the Third Highland Light Infantry of Canada, arrived home from overseas yesterday after spending a year and a half with the Canadian forces in Germany. He enlisted in Toronto Scottish Regiment in July 1944 and proceeded overseas in January of last year. Later he was transferred to the Third Highland Light Infantry.

St. Paul's W.M.S. Entertains Mission Bands

On Tuesday afternoon, June 11th, the ladies of St. Paul's W.M.S. gave their annual party for the members of the Mission Band, and Baby Band with their mothers. The Sunday School Rooms were brightened with bouquets of the Mission Band emblem flower, the Daisy.

Mrs. Helliwell called the meeting to order and a short devotional period followed. The secretaries gave their reports with Community Friendship reporting 19 calls made, the Baby Band secretary listing 41 members and the treasurer gave the monthly report.

A short sing song with a chorus by the tiny tots, filled in the time until the school children arrived. They were welcomed by the Auxiliary president and then the meeting was taken over by Roberta Good, president of the Mission Band who announced the following programme: Song by Senior Girls—The Emblem of Our Mission Band; Poem—Allan Wells; Piano Solo—Ruth Donnan; Poems—Evelyn Lancaster, Agnes Chambers; Patsy Donohue; Song—Janet Ann Good; Poems—Keith Williams, Helen Irish, Tommy Wells, Norma Donnan, Glen Belcourt, Marie Arnold, Judy Baker; Song—Barbara Fair; Poems—Mary Ann Laverty, Bobby Palmer; Piano Solo—Marlene Carlisle; Poems—Ruth Donnan, Marjory Ketcheson; The Mission Band song written by Dr. Currie of Africa entitled "Lalipo" sung by the entire Band.

Every number was thoroughly enjoyed by the listening audience, and showed much time had been spent in training the children, not only in the individual numbers but in the department of each one. A great deal of credit is due the leader, Mrs. A. M. Laverty. Mrs. M. Ayrhart also deserves a lot of credit for her work in connection with the younger members.

At the close of the programme, the children were treated to chocolate milk, sandwiches, and cookies, while their mothers enjoyed a cup of tea and a social half hour with the W.M.S. ladies.

Roberta Good on behalf of the Mission Band thanked the Auxiliary for the very nice party which they had so thoroughly enjoyed.

There were between forty and fifty children present at this meeting and it is the hope of the W.M.S. members that in future years these children will take their place as members of the great missionary organization.

CLOTHING CANVAS WEDNESDAY NEXT

What can you spare that they can wear? The local chapter of the I.O.D.E. will make a house to house canvas in aid of the National Clothing Drive for devastated Allied Countries on Wednesday next June 19th.

Every single item counts! Don't let them down! Go through closets, drawers, shelves, trunks and chests. Gather all used clothing including boots, shoes, blankets, sheets, and winter and summer clothes. Tie or box your donations and put them on your verandah or at your front door where they can be easily seen.

GETS DEGREE

At the University of Toronto Commencement on June 7th, Peter R. Simmons, a former pupil of Stirling High School, was admitted with honours to the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Suffers Heart Attack

Mrs. Thos. McGrath suffered a heart attack while attending St. James' Church on Sunday morning. She was taken to the Green Nursing Home but has since returned home and is much improved in health.

Lose First

Two rinks of Stirling bowlers played the first scheduled game in the District Bowling League on Monday night when they were defeated by Belleville 38-25 on the round. Those taking part from here were R. A. Paterson, Dr. E. A. Carleton, W. Wright, H. R. Tompkins, skip, and A. Livingstone, W. T. Elliott, E. Fox, and F. R. Mallory, skip. The former was opposed by Ab. Wonnacott's rink and the latter by C. Argue's rink.

D-Day Anniversary and Empire Victory Sunday Celebrated

who was recently appointed as assistant to H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative.

MEMBERS OF CANADIAN LEGION, I.O.D.E., BROWNIES, GIRL GUIDES, VETERANS PRESENT

The second Anniversary of D-Day and Empire Victory Sunday was observed in St. Paul's United Church on Sunday, June 9th. Those participating were the Hon. J. R. Cooke I.O.D.E., the I.O.D.E. Stirling Brownie Pack, 9th I.O.D.E. Girl Guides, Canadian Legion, Frankford, Canadian Legion, Stirling, and Stirling Citizen's Band, all of whom paraded from the Community Hall to the church.

Two large bouquets of roses were placed on the communion table by the Official Board in memory of the boys of the congregation who paid the Supreme Sacrifice.

The entire service was very impressive. Squadron Leader P. V. K. Tripe, D.F.C. Adjutant R.C.A.F. Trenton, read the first lesson and Lieutenant Russell West, R.C.N., reading the second lesson. The full choir under the leadership of Mr. G. L. Clute sang very effectively the anthem "My Own Dear Land" by John Oxenham. The Padre, Rev. A. Marshall Laverty, pastor of St. Paul's delivered an outstanding and timely sermon on "The Crisis the Empire, and the Christian."

Choosing as his text "God Standeth in the congregation of the mighty; He judgeth among the Gods," Rev. Laverty said "By superhuman effort and matchless sacrifice we have unseated the evil gods who would have ruled over us and have vaulted over nature into the atomic age, but we enjoy today a most uneasy security and the solution of the basic problems of human nature and society is not yet with us. And all this after so much pain and travail, destruction and death. This is the Crisis!"

"We face this crisis as citizens of the senior Dominion of the British Empire and Commonwealth, the first of the great nations to accept the challenge of the new barbarians and second to none in the price paid for the victory. We face this crisis as brothers of our friends who 'rose from defeat to fight again who 'counted life a light thing to lay down in the faith they bore' who 'laid the world away, poured out the red sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be of work and joy.'"

These, our brothers, are forever our creditors. Let us not forget that they died not to strengthen us in our justice for the material comfort of life, not to assist us in our thirst to the top of the heap, but in the faith and hope that their dying who who survived would have a second chance to build today and tomorrow better than we build yesterday that their kind and kin, their children, might live in peace.

"We face this crisis as Christians who know whose servants we are, even God's, and who strive in repentance and in faith to actualize His will for us and for all men in this world of mingled good and evil. As Christians we wear in faith and with courage that 'God standeth in the congregation of the mighty; He judgeth among the gods' for we know that if we regard His standing we shall not need to fear His judging and that we shall regard His standing if we believe in His presence, behave as if we believed it, do those things that are pleasing to Him."

A moment of silence was observed, in memory of the boys who did not return from the War.

The church was filled to capacity for this very impressive service.

Tag Day Successful

The response to the appeal for the Navy League on Saturday last was not as good as in the past years. However the sum of $58.87 was collected by the members of the I.O.D.E. under the leadership of Miss Rosa Spry. The thanks of those in charge is extended to the canvassers and all those who contributed.

- Coming Events -

Uncle Hy Says

They called them victory gardens just a year or so ago, and victories indeed they were for those who didn't know how to till or how to sow, just how to make a garden grow.

And now that we have passed the test, and think we know it all, we'll fight the weeds and fight the bugs and many a bitter squall, and we'll put back in our place before the first of fall.

It's Nature's way to make us strong, determined still to win, for Nature likes the man when downed who comes up with a grin, so steadfast stand, you gardeners, keep up, keep up your chin.

WILLIAM RUSSELL STAPLEY

(Contributed)

A large number of county and district friends paid their last tribute to the late William Russell Stapley, who died here on May 15th, after a brief illness, when the funeral took place on Saturday, May 18th, from his late residence to Eggleton United Church.

The service was conducted by Mr. Kenneth Stewart, assisted by the Rev. A. M. Lavery, of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling and Mr. George Butcher, of the Grace Chapel, Stirling. Mr. Stewart based his remarks on a favourite text of the deceased found in II Timothy, Chapt. 4, verses 6-7: "For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the Faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing." During the service Mrs. Wm. J. Fitchett sang a solo.

"No Night There."

The pallbearers were Messrs. Emory Hough, Ben Blecker, Leonard Prest, Chas. Prest, Clarence Fitchett, and James Campbell. Many floral tributes exemplified the high esteem in which the late Russell Stapley was held. Interment was made in Clarke's cemetery.

The late Russell Stapley was born and resided his entire life at Madoc Junction. He was the son of the late Samuel Stapley and his wife, the late Sarah Tufts, and was in his 58th year. He was well known throughout the community and Hastings County and his passing has brought genuine feelings of regret. In religion he was a member of the Grace Chapel, Stirling.

Surviving are his wife, the former Nora Bernice Bronson, six daughters, Mrs. Harold West (Lenora), Keitha, Marcella, Vera, Helen and Joan, two sons, Kenneth and Forde, a daughter, Luella, predeceased him in 1928, and a son, Ralph, lost his life in June 1944 while serving with the overseas forces. Four sisters, Mrs. J. L. Dodds, British Columbia; Mrs. Ethel Danford, Belleville; Mrs. Philip Carr, Stirling; and Mrs. M. Terwilliger, Picton; also three brothers, Frank and Oliver, Stirling, and Nelson, Madoc Junction, survive.

"Our loved one, all his trials and troubles past

Has entered through the portal, Death at last,

Into a land of endless, peaceful years, Where God will wipe away the bitter tears,

Where there is no more sighing, no more pain,

Where, with the Lamb, he will forever reign."

West Hastings W.I. Holds 45th Annual Meeting

The forty-fifth district annual was held in Scott's church on May 31, with Mrs. Blecker presiding.

Roll Call was answered by "This Fair Canada of Ours", as follows:

Bay of Quinte—by Mrs. John Reid, who spoke on the extent in size and produce; the industries and exports.

Wallbridge—by Mrs. Earl White—Vast resources, both developed and undeveloped. Back these various organizations in order to prepare for the future—get behind them.

Pine Grove—by Mrs. H. Coulter—Many resources but people, the greatest resource. We must have faith and qualifications—a knowledge of past to help shape the world of tomorrow.

Chatterton—by Mrs. E. Horton—Canada a possible home for people of war-torn Europe. Immigrants must be right calibre and must be treated right.

Stirling—by Mrs. E. Cook—Poem on Canada.

Uniondale—by Mrs. Bert Bush on Canadian National Unity. Canada is national in area, resources, agriculture, Canadian sentiment. May the fabric of our national life be sound. Our Women's Institute will help.

River Valley—by Mrs. Utman—The heritage of Canada. We are between the dark of war and the light of the future. Let us help youth to carry on the torch.

Treasurer's report showed a balance of $82.68 on hand and in the seven branches $444.68.

Reports of Standing Committees

Mrs. Mitts reported for Agriculture and Canadian Industries. On Citizenship Mrs. L. Ketcheson said: Citizenship is the right ordering of our several loyalties."

Mrs. Leslie Finkle said: "All seven branches had reported on historical research. Mrs. West reported Home Economics and Mrs. Geo. Burditt, Social Welfare. From now on the war work report will be included in Social Welfare.

In his address of Welcome, Rev. H. H. Hillis stressed co-operation and his advice to all was "to carry your corner where you are".

Mrs. Roy Bush very graciously replied. The point she made was "Not to stay just inside but to come on in."

In the Publicity report, Mrs. West said, "we are all publicity agents for our Institute. Be always a booster."

Mrs. Hayes discussed the reports. She thought "we should be more interested in agriculture and Canadian Industries." She said to accentuate the positive—always stress the good.

There are just two girls' classes—Chatterton and Stirling. Mrs. L. Rodgers' class of four girls put on a skit showing the great value of this work especially in good grooming, patching, darning and sewing. Miss Irvine explained these girls need lots of encouragement but are doing grand work.

Mrs. Ross Bush, the Board Director, voiced appreciation for beauty of the church and flowers stressed the need for women to take more active part in public life. More should use loan library. There is to be a mammoth celebration in Guelph in July 1947 for the 50th anniversary.

Board Rulings—$1 per member per institute. Collect Nov. 1st. One cent per member to go to the A.C.W.W. Five cents per member to go to F.W.I. C. These two be paid with federation fee, she said "We must learn to work (2) to be content with little; (3) to win without pride; (4) to lose without bitterness; (5) to grow old without regret."

Good Leaders Needed

Mrs. Hayes said, "there is an urgent necessity for leaders whom we can trust for the future. We must develop our capacity for leadership. You learn to do by doing. Don't be afraid of criticism; develop steadfastness and turn criticism into advantage. The real threat to democracy is through the apathy and unwillingness of persons to do what they can. Because of their inertia and indifference dictatorship was established. There has never been a greater need for leadership, zeal, interest, energy and single-mindedness. We want to build a better, a brighter, a happier tomorrow."

For a co-operative program there will be a lecture-demonstration on Health, Safety in the home. First Aid in the late Fall.

A rally will be held in Wallbridge for the seven branches in the late Fall on "Responsibilities of Standing Committees."

Mrs. B. Bonsteel favored with a humorous reading "Uncle Josh's Ideas on Women."

Two resolutions were passed and sent on to the Area. One on venereal disease and a possible way to curb its rapid increase; the other on having holidays fall on Monday.

Health Unit was ably discussed by Ralph Campbell, who gave the set-up with regards to Hastings County and how it would operate. Keen interest was shown. Mrs. Roy Bush suggested each branch study the subject and send letters to county council before Fall.

Mrs. B. Boulton gave the courtesy report. Meeting closed with "God Save The King."

In Hymen's Bonds

NEUBAUER—DOBBIAS

Many guests attended the marriage of Miss Gabrielle Anne Dobbias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dobbias, to Mr. Joseph Neubauer, Frankford, son of Mrs. Neubauer and the late J. Neubauer, Czechoslovakia. St. Mary's Church was decorated with calla lilies and lighted candles, and Right Rev. Monsignor C. W. James officiated. Miss Mary McTague was at the organ, accompanying the chancel choir.

Mr. Dobbias gave his daughter in marriage. Her handsome gown of imported satin crepe moire of gardenia white was made with heart-shaped neckline, basque bodice and front princess panel. Cording lent a bustle effect to the bouffant skirt, which formed a flowing train. Her long veil was held with a beaded halo, and she carried a cascade of lily-of-the-valley and white orchids. Her six attendants were Mrs. J. C. Shorter, matron of honor; Miss Ethel Dobbias, a cousin; Miss Audrey Scott, Miss Marie and Miss Margaret Hammell and Miss Carolyn Wishart. They were gowned alike in white jersey with wide sashes and double net skirts. They had halos of the net, and carried cascades of coral roses and sweet peas. Mr. Charles Dobbias was groomsmen, and the ushers were Messrs. Anson Raymond, Bernard Holland, Theodore Dobbias, Stanley Hajdasz and Zigmund Stempel.

The reception was at the Old Mill, where Mrs. H. C. Martin, of Stirling, received with Mrs. Dobbias. The couple will live in Frankford.

VETS MAY SEE OWN DOCTORS

According to a recent announcement authorized by the Department of Veterans' Affairs, ex-servicemen now are allowed to go to their own doctors for medical attention when needed.

The local physicians have been notified of the change. Until now service personnel were permitted only to consult certain specified doctors who had been appointed by the Department.

NEW RATION BOOKS

COMING IN SEPTEMBER

Indicating that the rationing of such foods as meat, sugar and butter will prevail in Canada for a considerable time yet to come, Ration Book 6 will be distributed to Canadians during the week of September 9-16.

Officials of the Prices Board have begun their organizational work now to see that approximately 12,000,000 persons get their new books during that week. The present ration book will be invalid after that time.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

SYNTHETIC WOOLS

Science has not been able to duplicate all the good characteristics of wool in any one synthetic fibre. Some of these fibres feel like wool; others look like wool; while others do not resemble wool in character or use. Nevertheless, the wool grower must now compete with these new synthetic fibres, as well as the older fibres such as cotton and linen, in a restricted civilian market. If Canadian wool is to continue to hold its share of the market, the quality of the finished product must be the best possible.

FREEZING FOR HOME VEGETABLES, FRUITS

The popularity of frozen fruits and vegetables has been increasing at a rapid pace recently. Housewives in particular and the consuming public in general are realizing the many advantages of these products, both from the standpoint of ease of preparation and the ultimate palatability, says W. R. Phillips, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. As with many processes which are new, many errors are being made which lead to disappointment in the taste and quality of the frozen fruits or vegetables.

Many of the errors frequently noted are easy to correct. Delays between harvest and freezing result and loss of much of the fresh aromatic flavours associated with freshness. The ideal procedure is to commence the processing as soon as the fruit and vegetables are harvested.

Vegetables, and some fruits, should be blanched before freezing, which is done by placing the product in boiling water or a steam cabinet for a short time. The purpose is to arrest chemical reactions, often referred to as enzymatic activity, which will cause taints or off-flavours.

The choice of package for frozen produce is important. Rectangular packages, with the contents clearly marked, permit a convenient arrangement in the locker with a minimum of space. The package should also prevent the material from drying out. For this purpose, heavily waxed cellophane or rubber materials are very satisfactory. A well sealed glass container is good but is liable to break with freezing.

After being placed in containers, the fruits or vegetables should be frozen before being placed in the locker. Most locker plants have available sharp, fast, or preferably pre-freezers for this purpose. If an extra charge is necessary for this service it is usually found to be a good investment.

It is important, also, to see that the locker storage is maintained at zero degrees F at all times. At higher temperatures the products deteriorate at a much faster rate even if still frozen.

If these principles are followed, success in freezing fruits and vegetables should be assured.

The Division of Horticulture, Ottawa has prepared a publication entitled "The Preservation of Fruits and Vegetables by Freezing". If the principles contained in this publication are followed, successful results should be obtained. It is available by writing to Dominion Department of Agriculture.

GOVT. LOANS HELPING IMPROVEMENT FARMS

Loans exceeding one million dollars were made by the branches of the chartered banks in Canada for the month of April, 1946, under the Farm Improvement Loans Act. A large percentage of these loans were intermediate term loans for periods up to ten years for the construction, alteration and repair of farm buildings.

In view of the fact that the 1941 census figures disclose that 39 per cent of rural farm dwellings in Canada are in need of repairs, it is evident that the field for this type of loaning is extensive. It is estimated by the Administration of the Act that improvements will be made to over five thousand farms in Canada in the next year under the Act. Seven thousand five hundred farmers have taken advantage of the Act in the first 13 months of its operation.

Farmers desiring loans under the Act can get full information from any chartered bank or from the supervisor, Farm Improvement Loans Act, Department of Finance, Ottawa. Loans are made, under Dominion Government auspices at five per cent simple interest.

CONFERENCE OF AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVES

The annual Conference of Agricultural Representatives of the Province of Ontario is being held this year at the Kemptville Agricultural School on June 17 to 21. Representatives from every county and district in the Province will be in attendance for a week of discussions on matters vital to the future of Ontario agriculture. An elaborate programme of addresses and discussion periods has been arranged by C. D. Graham, Director of Agricultural Extension of Ontario, who will preside over the conference. Among the speakers who will address the Conference will be Dr. G. S. Barton, Deputy Minister of the Dominion Department of Agriculture; Hon. J. A. Taggart, chairman of the Agricultural Prices Support Board; Norman Lindsay, supervisor of Rural Adult Education for Ontario; Prof. G. N. Ruhnke, head of the Soils Department, O.A.C. Guelph; J. D. McLeod, Director of the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, and several of the agricultural representatives. A whole day will be spent at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

In announcing the Conference, C. D. Graham states that any individuals interested in agricultural extension and development will be welcomed at its sessions.

North Hastings District Annual Meeting

The 38th District Annual Convention of North Hastings Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, June 4th in the Cooper Church with about 150 delegates and visitors in attendance. Lovely flowering plants and spring flowers made an effective setting for the occasion. The president Mrs. Gawley, opened the meeting in the usual manner with the singing of "O Canada", "The Institute Ode" and repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Mrs. Morris Reynolds, of Cooper, extended a warm welcome to the visitors and Mrs. Moon, of Madoc, made a gracious reply.

Mrs. C. Hayes, of the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, was welcomed as was Miss Elsie Irvine, Superintendent of Girls' Work, Mrs. Ross Bush Provincial Board Director, and three members of the new branch formed during the past year were also introduced.

The Secretary, Mrs. I. V. Hulin, read the minutes of the last Annual Meeting as well as the Spring Executive meeting and Mrs. Whytock presented the Auditor's Report. All were adopted as read. After a short singing led by Mrs. Rollins and Mrs. Hass, Mrs. Gawley gave a short address thanking the officers and members for their help and co-operation. She had enjoyed her term of office and her only regret was in not being able to visit all the branches but she had written each one personally. She concluded her remarks with a poem by Miss Powell, "O to be a Home-maker". Mrs. Leslie Rundle favored with a very fine solo Hawaiian Sunset.

Reports of Standing Committees were given in a way that drew very favorable comment from Mrs. Hayes, who offered helpful suggestions after each report. She was particularly pleased that the chairmen of the branches sent in such full reports. In nearly all the 9 branches each had done their work very thoroughly.

Canadian Industries and Agriculture was dealt with very fully by Mrs. J. C. Sills covering the papers given at meetings, Topics, Roll Calls and other helpful hints. She urged Institute members to attend the County Federation of Agriculture in Belleville and stressed the value of Farm Forums. Slides may also be obtained from Ralph Campbell, of Foxboro, along these lines, which are proving helpful as a means of education and pleasure. In closing Mrs. Sills said "No person can profess ignorance or indifference to Agricultural Matters. It is education we need."

Mrs. Geo. Eastwood summarized "Historical Research" and gave the highlights from each branch in the District. Six branches reported on Home Economics and Mrs. Rollins stressed the important ideas given under the heading "Social Welfare".

Mrs. Ross Bush brought the message from the Provincial Board. She urged that fees be sent in promptly; resolutions prepared and sent in correctly; a complete and accurate account of all War Work done, that posterity will know the complete story of the war; and printed stationery for officers. The Institute will celebrate its 60th Anniversary next year and it is expected a monster celebration will be staged in July. The Slogan will be "The 50th Anniversary, 50,000 members and a 50 cent fee". Branch Institutes are asked to study the question and report at the Area Convention in the Fall.

Each Institute will be asked to consider contributing $1 per member towards the Anniversary; 1 cent per member towards the Associated Country Women of the world and 5 cents per member towards the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada. Her wish in closing was that "we work to be content, to win with pride and grow without regret."

Cooper Institute served a splendid dinner which everyone enjoyed to the utmost.

Convening about 1.15 a few minutes were spent in Community singing after which Mrs. Hayes addressed the gathering. In part she said "Instead of peace, of moral and social unrest and the greatest need for these critical and troublous times is 'leadership.' Helpful hints were given as to how to speak and gain confidence as a leader. Learn by doing. Don't fear criticism; benefit from it. Your contribution is needed to help carry the load.

Health was chosen as Co-operative Study.

Mrs. Ken Bateman, Mrs. Carl Clancy and Mrs. Rollins gave brief reports of their committees. A solo by Mrs. Welsh, piano solo by Miss McInroy, a humorous reading and a Quiz on "Canada" were very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Bush presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows: Hon. President—Mrs. J. Gawley President—Mrs. E. Moore, Madoc 1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. Clifford Clancy, Wellmans.

2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. L. Green, aMarmora

Sec. Treas.—Mrs. I. V. Hulin

Fed. Rep.—Mrs. Gordineer, Marmora.

Alt. Fed. Rep.—Mrs. J. F. Baker, Bonarlaw

District Delegate—Mrs. E. Moore, Madoc

Alt. Dist. Delegate—Mrs. E. Irwin

Convenors of Standing Committees: Citizenship—Mrs. H. Henderson

Agriculture & Can. Industries—Mrs. C. Mitts

Historical Research—Mrs. Geo. Eastwood, Bonarlaw

Home Economics—Mrs. L. Green, Marmora

Social Welfare—Mrs. Wm. Rhodes

Publicity & Press Reporter—Mrs. H. W. Sabine, Marmora

Girls' Work—Mrs. Clayton Wright

Rep. to Hastings Co. Federation of Agriculture—Mrs. K. Bateman

Alt.—Mrs. W. D. Lavender, Marmora

In vacating her chair, Mrs. J. Gawley extended to Mrs. Moore, the new president, her best wishes and asked the sincere co-operation from the members that had been given to her.

Mrs. F. M. Rutherford, of Campbellford, Representative of the Federation of Agriculture gave a very comprehensive and detailed account of the work of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, of which she is a member. Rylestone kindly offered to entertain the 1947 District Annual. The Courtesy Committee thanked all who had assisted in any way for the splendid dinner, the beautiful flowers and on the program. The meeting was closed by singing "God Save the King".

WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

Order No. 615

Slaughtering of Live Stock and Stamping of Carcasses

The following regulation is a reprint of WPTB. Order No. 533 as amended by Order No. 615 and is published by the Stirling Creamery (Locker Cold Storage) for the information and guidance of all concerned.

Under powers given to the board by the Wartime Prices and Trade Regulations, being Order in Council P.C. 8528 of November 1, 1941, and amendments, the Board hereby orders as follows:

1. This Order comes into force on April 1, 1946.

2. Section 9 of Board Order No. 533, as amended, is hereby revoked and the following substituted therefor:

Exceptions

(1) A farmer does not need to hold a slaughter permit to entitle him to slaughter live stock on his own farm premises or to have live stock slaughtered for him on his own farm premises if, in each case, the meat obtained from the slaughter is

(a) used and consumed on his own farm premises; or
(b) sold or supplied by him direct to another farmer for use and consumption only on the farm premises of the other farmer.

(2) A farmer may, to obtain meat for the purposes mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of subsection (1) of this Section, have live stock slaughtered for him elsewhere than on his own farm premises if

(a) he obtains a special authorization in writing from a Regional Foods or Meats Officer of the Board or from some other officer of the Board duly authorized in that behalf by the Administrator; and

(b) he delivers such authorization to the slaughterer prior to or at the time he delivers the live stock to him for slaughter.

(3) If a farmer slaughters or has a head of cattle or a hog slaughtered for him for the purposes mentioned in subsections (1) and (2) and is unable, in accordance with subsections (1) and (2) to effectively dispose of the entire carcass, he may sell the balance to any person who is the holder of a valid slaughter permit; provided, however, that he may not so sell any beef which is not in the form of a side or quarter of the carcass and he may not so sell any pork which is not in the form of a side of the carcass.

(4) Every holder of a slaughter permit who buys any meat from a farmer who is not the holder of a slaughter permit shall

(a) stamp such meat when it is delivered to him, as required by Section 7;

(b) maintain for inspection by any authorized representative of the Board, a record of the date of such purchase, the farmer's name and address and the kind and quantity of meat purchased.

(5) A person who is not a farmer may slaughter or have slaughtered for him not more than two head of live stock per year which he has raised on his own premises

(a) if he obtains a special authorization in writing from a Regional Foods or Meats Officer of the Board or from some other officer of the Board duly authorized in that behalf by the Administrator; and provided that if such person slaughters such live stock himself he must return such authorization to such Officer within two days after the date on which he slaughtered the live stock, and provided further that if such person has such live stock slaughtered for him by any other person he must deliver such authorization to such slaughterer prior to or at the time he delivers the live stock to him for slaughter.

(b) if the meat so obtained is used and consumed only on his own premises and not elsewhere;

(6) No farmer who slaughters or has slaughtered for him any live stock pursuant to this Section shall sell or supply the meat thereby obtained otherwise than as permitted by this Section. No person who slaughters or has slaughtered for him any live stock pursuant to an authorization issued under subsection (5) of this Section shall sell or supply the meat thereby obtained to any other person.

(7) Every person who slaughters any live stock for any farmer or other person pursuant to subsection (2) or (5) of this Section shall obtain from such farmer or person his special authorization to have such live stock slaughtered for him and shall forward such authorization to the Board with his next regular monthly report of slaughtering.

(8) In this Section the word "farmer" includes rancher and means a person who derives the major portion of his livelihood from agricultural pursuits carried on by him on a farm or ranch.

HERE'S THE STORY BEHIND THE WORDS

"It's Allied"

The feature "It's Allied" is the secret of B-A Peerless Motor Oil time-tested superiority. It's the process that transforms a top-quality oil into the finest lubricant obtainable. B-A Peerless Motor Oil is first refined far beyond ordinary standards. Then, "It's Allied"—an exclusive B-A process that gives this great oil its ability to stand up better in service—to withstand conditions that would cause ordinary oils to quickly break down into sludge and varnish.

It will pay you to insist on B-A Peerless Motor Oil because it makes any car or truck last longer—run smoother.

Change to B-A Peerless—the tough oil. It is a change for the better.

B-A Peerless Motor Oil is matched only by the friendly, courteous service of your B-A dealer.

TENDERS FOR COAL AND COKE

Federal Buildings—Province of Ontario

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Coal," will be received until 3 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), Friday, June 28, 1946, for the supply of coal and coke for the Dominion Buildings throughout the Province of Ontario.

Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, and the Supervising Architect, 36 Adelaide St. East, Toronto, Ont.

Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto. Coal dealers' licence numbers must be given when tendering.

The Department reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer, before awarding the order, a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque, if required to make up an odd amount.

Such security will serve as a guarantee for the proper fulfilment of the contract.

By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE,
Secretary

Department of Public Works
Ottawa, June 7, 1946.

Demands And Difficulties

It is recognized on Parliament Hill that the demands for cuts in the Canadian rates of corporation and personal income taxes as well as other so-called taxes are widespread but at the same time well-informed sources in Ottawa emphasize in no uncertain language that, in face of the end of the war quite a long time ago now yet the estimates for the fiscal year reveal a daily budget of about $7,000,000 on ordinary expenditures of the Government. Indeed, in breaking down figures for the average man or woman to understand readily, it is apparent that some unavoidable departmental costs may reach high amounts, with Defence calling for $448,608,641 in the demobilization and reconversion process, though this implies a reduction of considerable proportions from last year's $1,983,000,000; Health and Welfare calling for $295,653,586 or an increase from last year's $232,432,178; Reconstruction and Supplying requiring over $200,000,000; War Service Gratuities and Rehabilitation Credits in other words, when it is born in mind that the Dominion-Provincial Conference could not reach any accord and other factors had increased ordinary departmental expenditures, it can be clear why the Federal Government may not be able to satisfy a great many demands for changes to reduce taxes of various sorts in this year's annual budget to the extent of these popular requests which are no longer any secret on Parliament Hill.

Uranium and Canada

With atomic energy or bombs occupying the spotlight on the international scene, Reconstruction Minister Howe's statement during discussion in Parliament on a bill to create an "Atomic Energy Control Board" is of the greatest possible importance to the man-in-the street in this country since he disclosed that Canada was the only nation in the world among Britain, United States and herself which has an excess of uranium over its own requirements, with the main purchaser being United States and a little quantity going to Britain, though no mention of price was given.

"It is unlikely that radium will have the same value in future that it has had in the past and for that reason I'm not sure that we have been charging enough for uranium," he said most significantly. "I rather think we have not."

Factors For Farmers

Agricultural Minister Gardiner has

Council had ruled a "National Marketing Act" was ultra vires of Parliament and he felt that it would be most difficult to draft legislation which could operate concurrently with the provinces, especially under the constitution as it is now. This was an answer to a request from several members of Parliament for the establishment of a National Marketing Board to control the organized marketing of Canadian farm products.

British Preference Rumoured

According to a story heard along Parliament Hill, it would seem that most of the briefs submitted to the special trade and tariff committee, headed by Hector B. McKinnon, in Ottawa where it was formed to prepare Canada's case for the international trade conference planned for this fall in the United States show that Canadian industry favours the continuation somehow of the British Preference system, though, of course, this is not confirmed officially and there is no report from the committee.

Modified Plan Only

Ever since the Canadian Government has announced that more immigrants will be allowed into Canada from abroad according to a specific plan, there have been many wrong impressions drawn from this announcement. As a matter of fact, this is only a modified policy for more immigrants to be allowed entry and it will not even have a chance to show itself until the beginning of 1947. The announcement has merely pointed out a "short term measure on immigration" as Orders-In-Council were passed to widen the grounds of admissibility, especially where there is an assumption of responsibility for their maintenance by Canadians. Moreover, there is no attempt in Ottawa to estimate, at this time, the number of additional immigrants who are likely to come here under this modified immigration policy which does not apply to cases from the Orient, stressing that shortage of transportation facilities, the need for bringing service personnel and their dependents, and other factors will not allow this plan to operate extensively for a long time on the basis of present observations in this capital.

"Repeaters" In Prison

The Justice Department in Ottawa has revealed that convicts in Canadian prisons cost the Government now $2.57 a day as against $1.90 a day about twenty years ago and 78.4 per cent of the prisoners in penitentiaries in 1945 were "repeaters" as compared with 70 per cent in 1935.

Good Salaries

The importance of science in this modern age was emphasized in no uncertain way in the House of Commons when Canada's Minister of Reconstruction, Hon. C. D. Howe, said that it was hoped to provide "good salaries" for Canadian scientists, making this statement while explaining the plans of the National Research Council. He added that there was a shortage of good scientists throughout the world so that any scientist could leave a Government position and step into another post at a much greater salary in industries. The National Research Council had a staff of 300 in 1939 but the peacetime staff now would be approximately 1,500.

Veterans and Housing

Veterans Minister Ian MacKenzie has indicated in Ottawa that he would arrange for the Veterans' Affairs Committee to discuss the whole question of veterans' housing costs at an early date.

Said In The Capital

"Make no mistake in thinking that these increases are a signal for a general rise in prices since they are definitely not," said in Ottawa Donald Gordon, Chairman, of Wartime Prices and Trade Board, in commenting on the recent increases allowed in furniture, clothing, etc. "I don't believe in the isolation of the Catholics," stated Senator T. D. Bouchard in the capital in referring on an order by Mgr. E. Limoges, Bishop of Mont Laurier requiring Roman Catholics in his diocese to resign membership in Rotary Clubs because they were "neutral organizations." "Let him mind his own business," interjected a member in the House of Commons, when another member protested against a statement attributed to Lord Inverchapel, new British Ambassador to the United States, who was quoted as saying he hoped the new design of the Canadian flag would retain the Union Jack. Incidentally, Britain's new High Commissioner to this country, Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, who succeeded Lt. Hon. Malcolm Macdonald refused to think the Government should take the entire scheme over," said in the Senate Hon. John T. Halg in urging the abolition of the Unemployment Insurance Commission. "Evidence is slowly piling up to show that the family allowances are achieving a definite social improvement in Canada" declared at meeting here the deputy Minister of National Health and Welfare, Dr. George F. Davidson, who pointed out that his Department has paid out $218, 500,000 in "baby bonus" in the eleven months of operations.

Weekly Wind Up

Air Minister Gibson has announced in Ottawa that Sept. 30 has been set as the deadline for RCAF demobilization. It cost Canada a total of $783,141 to administer the Family Allowances Act from July 1 to Dec. 31, 1945, with this information being disclosed here at the same time as that there were 488 temporary and 36 permanent employees of the administration. A carload of grade "B" potatoes, three hundred 100-pound bags, had to be dumped in this capital on account of the strike in the United States in face of the world's severe food shortage because these potatoes were rendered "unfit for food". Canadian coal mines increased production by 8.4 percent in March as compared with March 1945, states a report in Ottawa. There are 13 diplomatic officers and 67 non-diplomatic persons attached to the Soviet Russian Embassy in Ottawa. This compares with 21 diplomatic officers and 76 non-diplomatic staff in the United States Embassy or 12 diplomatic and 22 non-diplomatic persons in the French Embassy in Ottawa. Mr. Symington, president of Trans-Canada Air Lines, appearing before the Railway Committee of the House of Commons, indicated that the TCA has planned to operate one out of its four daily cross country trips each way through Calgary instead of Lethbridge, Alberta, "when we get the planes"; it was proposed to run two mainlines through Ontario westward; he foresaw the North Atlantic air route as the toughest competitive route in the world. Senator T. A. Crerar said in Ottawa that was quite possible for the Canadian tourist trade to reach an annual total of $500,000,000. The Chairman of the Parliamentary Radio Committee is Ralph Maybank, Winnipeg Liberal. A permit has been issued in this capital for the construction of a $27,000 storage building for the National Gallery of Canada. For the first time in years, a dance was held in the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa after the wives of the Cabinet Ministers held a tea. A conference will be held here between British and Canadian officials on the sale of wheat to the United Kingdom.

Baby Band Met

On Wednesday afternoon, May 22, Mrs. Burton Morton was hostess to the mothers and babies of Wellman's Baby Band and Mount Pleasant group with their leader, Mrs. Sidmer Demorest also invited.

Mrs. Carman Atton, of Tweed, Baby Band Secretary of Belleville Presbyterian was guest speaker and brought a special message of interest to the mothers along the lines of Baby Band literature and books.

Mrs. F. F. Townsend opened the meeting and Miss Mildred Morton a little selection. All of the children present sang as a marching chorus "Jesus Loves Me."

Group pictures were taken on the lawn following the program and all enjoyed light refreshments.

Among the guests were Mrs. W. S. Gordon and Miss Margaret Atton, of Tweed; Mrs. Herbert Smith and Rodger; Mrs. Milford Wrightman and Allan; Mrs. S. Demorest, Mount Pleasant.

In Hymen's Bonds

CLARK-McCOY

Springbrook United Church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, June 1st, at 2.30 p.m. when the Rev. J. R. Holden united in marriage Edna Hene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McCoy, of Bonarlaw, Ont., and Frederick C. Clarke, of Chicago, Ill., son of Mr. W. E. Clarke and the late Mrs. Clarke, of Chicago, Ill.

Ferns with spring flowers decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a street length dress of pale pink sheer with a pale blue flowered hat and veil with matching gloves and a corsage of sweetheart roses and blue flowers.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Joan Green, of Stirling, who wore a light blue orrany dress with matching hat and carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

The groom was attended by the bride's uncle, Mr. Garnet Heath, of Springbrook.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Carmen Sine, of Harold, sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by Mrs. J. McKeown at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with thirty guests in attendance.

The young couple will reside in Chicago, U.S.A.

Mayor Ernest Ayrhart, of Campbellford is in a Toronto Hospital with a broken ankle, sustained during his recent trip to Yellowknife, the N.W.T. gold-mining town.

Hello Homemakers! The choice of where to eat on special occasions is usually decided by the Jiggs of our family. When are taken on a spree, the ornate city-hotel dining room is our favourite place. The service at the table is wonderful but the menu is amazing and often confusing because many of the items are foreign words and phrases. For that reason, we looked up the meaning of a few terms in common use and list them to keep you "in the know".

Boeuf a la mode—is beef larded and pot roasted.

Pie a la mode—is pie served with ice cream.

Blanquette — white meat in cream sauce thickened with eggs.

Canneton—meat stuffed, rolled up and roasted.

Compote—a stew; often applied to fruits cooked in syrup.

Ecclair—pastry or cake shell filled with whipped cream or custard.

Frappe—iced or frozen.

Gateau—cake.

Haricots verts—green string beans.

Jambon—ham.

Julienne—matchlike strips of vegetables.

Ragout—a thick, highly seasoned stew.

Sorbet—Frozen fruit juices.

Veloute—velvety or smooth.

TAKE A TIP

Along our holiday route we visited homes where flower arrangements created a distinguished atmosphere. Here are a few ideas we garnered.

Certain flowers are best used as individual specimens. The lily with large leaves and a large bloom, or the thick bough with many blossoms can make a balanced picture along with a china figure or candles.

Some flowers look best in large masses, such as pansies, asters, lilacs, nasturtiums and poppies. Arrange these for either small centre-pieces or large bouquets.

Balance flowers in a vase placing the heavier mass in the centre and the smaller blooms on the sides. Consider the length of stem and cut it to suit your purpose. Don't crowd large bunches, but spread them loosely in an irregular design.

Best colors for vases are neutral—a vase may detract from perfect natural beauty. Narrow neck bottles do not let enough air in. Use a receptacle in keeping with the texture and colour of the flowers. A coarse, woody bouquet does not look pretty in a dainty glass vase, use a pottery piece.

JELLIED MEAT LOAF

4 tbsps. gelatine, 1 cup cold water, 3 cups boiling water, 4 tbsps. salt, 5 tbsps. grated onion, 4 tbsps. prepared horseradish, 2 cups mayonnaise, 8 cups cooked diced veal, 4 cups chopped celery.

St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. L. Munro on Tuesday, May 21st, with a good attendance of members and visitors. The president, Mrs. W. L. Anderson, directed the devotional period. Mrs. Louis Rodgers read the Scripture lesson from Zachariah, 11th chapter, followed by the minutes and a business discussion. The next meeting will be held at the church as a Home Helpers also Mission Band meeting at 3.30 p.m. with Mrs. S. McIntosh and Mrs. Earle Fox in charge of the program.

Mrs. Hoard and Mrs. M. Tompkins gave the visiting report for April. The roll call was responded to by the word "Beauty". The offering was received and dedicated. The remainder of the program was prepared by Mrs. Munro with Mrs. N. Ray assistant. The hymn "Sow the seeds beside all waters" was sung followed by Miss Gena Spry leading in prayer. From the Glad Tidings a reading was given by Miss Lillian Mathells, "The Great Gardener", and "Something Good About You". Mrs. Foster had charge of the study book and talked on chapter three "The African Church". Meeting at Madras in 1938, the representatives of the Christian Churches on the various countries of the world spent much time in thought and discussion about the church. It was generally agreed that "It is the Gospel of Christ which we are to give to others and not our particular form of Christianity". Believing also that each nation has its own contribution to make to the Universal Christian Fellowship, they agreed that in any country the church should first of all be rooted in obedience to Christ, and bear witness to the Gospel a direct, clear and close relationship with the cultural and religious heritage of its own country. How does this apply to Africa? It is the natural thing for Africans to think of religion as being concerned with the whole of life and what an opportunity is thus presented to the Christian teacher to help them to feel the Sacredness of all the various activities of the Christian Community. In Africa as in many other countries, there is a serious danger that the church may not always be faithful to the Gospel which she preaches but there, as elsewhere, there are two safeguards to ensure that the Christian church will remain faithful to the Gospel of Christ. First, if the church is continuous, patient, painstaking in its teachings of its members and is so doing keeps close to the Bible, it will not go for wrong; secondly, we believe that the Holy Spirit of God is active in the lives of us all, and surely that spirit is working in the hearts of Christians in Africa, upheld in prayer by fellow-Christians throughout the world and depending on God will go forward in winning that great continent for Christ.

The meeting closed with hymn "Go labour on, speed and be spent". Mrs. Munro closed with prayer and Mizpah benediction.

Mrs. Hermiston voiced a vote of thanks to Mrs. Munro and Mrs. Ray for her home and lovely lunch.

St. John's W.A.

The St. John's W.A. was held in the Hall on Tuesday, May 28th with twenty members present. Mrs. H. Rodgers, president, opened the meeting by singing hymn 298, followed by the Litany and Members' Prayer. A Bible reading of the Hebrews Chap. 10 by Mrs. S. McMurray was read. Minutes were read and adopted also correspondence read. Visiting Committee made four calls for the month of May.

For the month of June, Mrs. B. Woodbeck and Mrs. W. Graver will do the visiting. Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Fred Kent. Mrs. G. Clute gave two Chapters of the Study Book. Mrs. T. Tanner and Mrs. G. Prince took charge of the programme and Mrs. Edward Kent gave a reading on "Quicken the Spirit Within You". Mrs. B. Woodbeck gave a solo "In The Garden". A Bible Character put on by the programme committee testing everyone's abilities.

A vote of thanks was then moved by Mrs. W. Savage to all those taking part in the programme. Meeting closed by singing hymn 656 and Prayers by Mrs. C. C. Brazill. A lovely lunch was enjoyed by all.

Welcome Home Service Held

Wellman's United Church held a special Welcome Home Service on Tuesday evening, May 21st, with over sixty in attendance. Mrs. Lorne Watson played several piano selections previous to the service.

Miss Faye Fleming, president of the "Wide-awake" Sunday School Class, gave the call to worship based on "Faith". Mrs. Durton Morton, teacher of the class, read the Bible Lesson and the president based her message on "Moses and the Faith of the Israelites to Move Forward".

Mrs. T. F. Townsend sang a vocal selection, Miss Mabel Sharp rendered a poem and the Pastor offered prayer. Two instrumentals were given by Mrs. Townsend and the Misses Eleanor Graham and June Dunham; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Watson sang a patriotic selection and Mr. Jack Dunham read "Our Duty to Our Flag". Mr. Gerald Clancy, secretary of the class, read letters of regret from Roy Sharp, of Kingston and Charles Thrasher, Harold.

The Pastor introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Lloyd Shorten, Foxboro, who chose as his theme, "At the cross roads which lay ahead and what of our part." He said all should be builders in Christ's Kingdom and should build well. Foundation, plan material and workmanship should be of the best possible. The art of being kind is what this old world needs today. Each individual should feel responsible for certain task and each should try to build his life according to God's plan.

Additions to Rural Hydro Service

Your Commission desires to bring to the attention of Ontario farmers who have applied for Hydro service, a condition which is now seriously slowing up the building of rural extensions.

Essential materials and equipment are in extremely short supply, and the prospects of obtaining additional quantities in the immediate future are very meagre. Strikes in various basic industries and the extraordinary national demand are holding back the supply of all equipment needed.

While the Commission will exert every effort to obtain material and equipment for rural line construction, it can complete this year only a small part of the full program which it had planned. Consequently, many applications already approved will not, of necessity, be completed this year.

Your Commission will endeavour to serve all applicants in order of receipt of applications, giving preference to all farm and similarly essential applications over those for other types of service.

These facts are presented for your information, and with the expectation that they will enable you to bear more patiently with a situation beyond the control of your Commission.

THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER COMMISSION OF ONTARIO

Mrs. F. Beckett and Miss Mina Dracup sang, "This is My Task". Rev. T. F. Townsend presented a framed Scroll with the following poem written specially by Mrs. Burton Morton for the occasion. The pastor did the printing and art work. The boys receiving these gifts were Lorne Watson, Charles Maybee, Roy Sharp, Donald Nix, and Charles Thrasher.

The class also presented the church with a lovely pulpit Bible, nicely lettered on the front inside page.

Mr. Earl Clancy spoke briefly and thanked the class on behalf of the congregation. Rev. E. Graham, Northport brought a message on "The Church and the Shepherd."

Welcome Home

When joyful bells of peace rang out
Our hearts were strangely gay,
We'd waited long, but not in vain
For that great day.

Our heads were bowed in silent prayer
That there be no more strife,
While memory let fall a tear;
Some had given life.

Then followed prayers of gratitude,
We had survived those years,
Our brave boys they had kept us free
Gone were our fears.

Oh, may we keep in mem'ry bright
The sacrifice they knew,
God grant them health and happiness
With sorrows few.

Of our own lads we're justly proud
They bravely met the test,
May they keep faith with what is right
Still give their best.

For this world wants men now in peace,
Men who are strong and true,
Each one must be a soldier brave
His work to do.

SHOREY-KINGSTON

Effective with summer flowers and a lovely arch of evergreens, spirea and colourful tulips the spacious lawn in front of the bride's home at Oak Lake was the setting for the marriage of Helena Marguerite, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kingston to Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kingston to Mr. Mr. Wilbur L. Shorey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Shorey, of Wallbridge, on Monday, Rev. A. L. Shorten officiated, and Mr. George Ketcheson played the wedding March.

About fifty invited guests were seated in a large semicircle upon the lawn facing the floral arch while the lake road was lined with neighbours and friends from far and near who had been graciously invited by the bride and her parents to witness an out-of-door wedding. This happy gathering we are sure, recalled the words of the poet, "What is so rare as a day in June; Then if ever, come perfect days for June the tenth was truly a perfect day; a day of bright warm sunshine, blue sky and balmy air. Light breezes, fragrant with the sweet perfume of flowers, gently waved the branches of the maples bordering the lawn. Soon the melodies of the birds in the trees above the guests were interrupted by the strains of Mendelssohn's March as at high noon the wedding procession appeared, slowly crossing the velvety lawn to the bridal arch.

The winsome bride, whose father gave her in marriage, was exquisite in a long gown of white sheer with finger tip veil and yoke of rose point lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of American beauty roses and ferns. She was attended by her friend, Miss Margaret Cockel, wearing a gown of pale blue sheer and picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The lovely little flower girl, Shirley Fisher, a niece of the groom, was daintily dressed in yellow net. She carried a tiny basket of flowers. Mr. Ray Shorey was groomsmen.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was given in the home of the bride's parents who also were celebrating their forty-third anniversary of their own wedding day.

The home was beautifully decorated with all kinds of garden flowers, while the dining room was a dream in pink and white. The bride's table was centred with a three storey wedding cake surrounded by silver and pink and white net. Pink candles in silver holders were on each side of the cake and tiny basket vases of white star flowers completed the table decorations.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Toronto and other western points, the bride travelling in a three piece costume of light blue with white accessories. On their return they will reside at Wallbridge.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among which was a chest of silver from the groom.

To the bridesmaid the groom presented a necklace; to the flower girl a gold locket; to the groomsmen and the pianist each a billfold.

The guests were from Toronto, Nanawee, Mountain View, Belleville, Bonarlaw, Springbrook, Thomasburg, Stirling and Wallbridge.

MISS FRANCES A. CHISHOLM

(Formerly Of Stirling)

Miss Frances Ann Chisholm, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chisholm, Stirling, died in Toronto, on Tuesday, June 4th. For some time she made her home in Pasadena, California.

Surviving her is one sister, Mrs. G. D. (Addie) Bly.

JOHN STANLEY HENDERSON

John Stanley Henderson, retired foreman of the City of Belleville Works Department, died in the Belleville General Hospital early Monday after an illness of two days' duration. The late Mr. Henderson, who was in his 85th year, was born in Prince Edward County, near Picton, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Henderson. For many years he resided in Belleville and for twenty-five years he served the city as foreman of the works department. For the past five years he made his home in Stirling.

Surviving him are three daughters, Mrs. Albert Juby, Peterborough; Mrs. Charles Hogle and Mrs. Douglas Row, both of Belleville, three grandchildren and one great granddaughter. His wife the former Mary Elizabeth Hicks, died twelve years ago.

The funeral took place at the Grant Funeral Home, Belleville, at 2:30 on Wednesday afternoon. Interment in Belleville cemetery.

JOHN (JAY) WEAVER

John (Jay) Weaver died early Sunday morning at his home 177A Pineville St., Belleville, after an illness of seven weeks' duration.

The late Mr. Weaver who was in his 58th year was born in Sidney township, near Stirling and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Weaver. For some years he lived in Stirling working at the blacksmith's trade leaving that business to go overseas in the First Great War. He had never been in good health since his return. For the last fourteen years he had resided on his farm in the second concession of Sidney township and lately was employed at the Universal Moulding Co. Mr. Weaver was well known in the city and district and was highly respected by many friends and acquaintances. He was a member of Hallway Street United Church.

In 1913 he was married to Etta Johnston of Rawdon Township, who survives, also one brother, Albert Weaver, of Trenton, three sisters, Mrs. William Carlisle and Mrs. Louise Anderson of Stirling, and Mrs. Henry Farrell, of Trenton, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The funeral which was largely attended was held Tuesday afternoon from the Belleville Burial Funeral Home. The service in the chapel and at Weaver's cemetery near Stirling, was conducted by Rev. C. A. Perkins, minister of Hallway Street United Church.

The bearers, all nephews of the deceased, were Ernest Carlisle, Orno Sharpe, Joseph Grills, Donald Johnston, Harry Brown and Robert Farrell.

Received Gash Over Eye

Charles Reynolds, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reynolds, suffered a bad gash over his left eye Wednesday evening when hit by a stone batted by another playmate.

Bride and Groom Honoured

On Tuesday night last about seventy-five friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Jackman to honour their son and his bride with a miscellaneous shower of lovely gifts.

Mr. Ted Pollock acted as chairman and a program of short speeches, reading and singing was enjoyed.

Ted then read a short address:

Dear Lenore and Gerald:—

We have gathered here tonight to do you the honour of recognizing a new home in our community.

As head of this new home we congratulate you Gerald on choosing such a lovely bride for your partner.

We indeed welcome her to the community and hope she will like us and be happy in our midst.

From childhood to manhood Gerald we have learned to appreciate your sterling qualities. We would also like to pay the tribute to you and your bride of being the fourth generation of Jackmans to live on this farm.

As a token of our esteem we ask you to accept these gifts for your new home, and with them we extend our best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

Signed on behalf of the community, Allen Heagle, Ted Pollock, Jack Dunham.

Gerald graciously replied and thanked all for gifts, and invited them to visit them at any time.

A dainty lunch was served and a pleasant hour was spent socially.

Mount Pleasant Anniversary

The Rev. F. G. Joblin of Port Perry served twelve years on the Rawdon charge and in his message he paid tribute to the previous work of Rev. W. H. Clarke who laid a good foundation. He said when Mount Pleasant church was built in 1871, "those were the days when men and women were strong in faith and mighty in prayer and during his ministry, church union came into being, also Rev. E. White, side, Evangelist, did splendid work at Mount Pleasant and only recently passed on to his reward. All regretted the illness of Mrs. Joblin which prevented her attending the services.

Rev. Joblin in looking over the vast audience noted many folk whom he had married and many children who had been baptized by him. He also brought greetings for an aged Minister, Rev. Wm. Brown, Port Perry who celebrated his 99th birthday, June 9th sent greetings to Mount Pleasant. He was teaching school at Wellmans, preparatory to entering the ministry when the church was dedicated.

Church, Stirling; Carmel United Church; from Rev. James E. Beckel, Elgin, a former pastor and now President of Conference; a letter from Rev. Melbourne T. Johnson, Trinity Methodist Church, Rosedale, Michigan possibly the only active minister from Mount Pleasant's own boys.

A telegram was also received from Mr. Charles Bailey, Winnipeg. The morning offering was two hundred and nine dollars and that service closed with the old hymn "There is a Fountain."

Bishop's Letter of 1874
Rev. T. F. Townsend, B.A., B.D., has been minister of the charge for four years and he presided at both services.

A portion of a letter written to the church in 1874 by Bishop James Richardson of the Niagara, Ontario and Bay of Quinte Episcopal Church was read and it is as applicable to the church in 1946 as it was at that time. "Attend to all the means of grace which are calculated to make you holy. Aim at high attainments in divine life. Remember that God is a fountain of light, life and love and that this fountain is inexhaustible and free. Forget not that the mansions are prepared and the crown is also ready and soon if you are faithful, you will be permitted to walk the golden streets of the city of God."

The pastor graciously welcomed all the guests to the service and also made the various introductions.

A few moments of silent prayer were given in memory of all the men and women who had worshipped at Mount Pleasant and passed on to their reward.

The anniversary service closed with the hymn, "A Charge to Keep I have, a God to Glorify," one of Charles Wesley's best known hymns and the Rev. F. G. Joblin pronounced the benediction.

Following the services the worshippers lingered on the church lawn to see old friends and again renew old friendships. The day was ideal and every home entertained guests.

Wellman's W. I.

The Wellman's Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Victor Taylor on Wednesday, June 19th. This is grandmother's meeting and a good attendance is looked for.

75th Anniversary Supper Held

OVER FOUR HUNDRED ENJOY FINE DINNER AND PROGRAM—REV. T. TOWNSEND IN CHAIR

On Tuesday evening, June 11th the Mount Pleasant ladies served over four hundred guests to an appetizing supper which consisted of a full course menu from pressed chicken and deviled eggs down a varied list of salads and jellies and ending with a fruit desert and cake. Many compliments were heard on the fine meal as guests from all the nearby points were in attendance.

The supper was served in the church shed and the tables were decorated with pink crepe tissue and vases of summer blooms.

At an early hour the church hall was filled to the doors and it too was decorated with sprigs and red pennies.

At 8.45 p.m. the programme commenced with the pastor, Rev. T. F. Townsend, B.A., B.D. in charge. The opening number was two choice numbers "Great are Thy Works Jehovah" and "The Church Marches On" with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as pianist. Mrs. Percy MacMullen directed a half hour play entitled "The Hubble Hill School of Long Ago". Old fashioned costumes were in evidence and it was an afternoon scene with pupils, teacher, the school committee and several visitors in attendance. The cast was as follows: The School master, Ebenezer Brown, M.D.; Lindsay McKeown; the School Committee, Deacon Josiah Partridge, Orno Sharp; Zebediah Shooks, Ernest White; Zebediah Von Pelt, Irvin Reid; the Visitors, Mrs. Humility Partridge (The Deacon's Wife), Elva Scott; Mrs. Endurance Perkins, Gertrude Dunham; Mrs. Hannah Parsons, Mabel Sine; Mistress Charity Hornwell (Spinster), Margaret Phillips; Penelope Hornwell (Charity's niece), Edna Campbell; the pupils, Jonah Partridge, Herbert Smith; Dorcas Doolittle, Eileen Demore; Abraham Whiteside, Harold Hagerman; Deborah Shooks, Edith Jeffs; Bud Hornwell, George Young; Belinda Hassett, Edna Hubble; Peter Paul Perkins, Norman McConnell; Temperance Whitestone, Doris Sine; Obadiah Shooks, Burton Sharp; Deliverance Tubbs, Marion Johnston; Patrick Von Pelt, Bert Sharp; Salvation Petkins, Lois McAdam; Josiah Doolittle, Raymond McConnell. An old fashioned Fourth Reader published in 1857 and the property of the late Sarah Jane Wescott Hoard, was displayed.

The second play was "An Old Photograph Album" with Mrs. Roy Thrasher telling the story of the old album and portraying the various old fashioned portraits—mother, Nettie Potts; father, Will Potts; Almira; when a little girl, Ina Scott; Almira's beau, Don Spencer; Almira as a bride, M. Spencer; Angelina and Adeline, the twins, Doreen Bailey and Ruth Linn; the preacher, Ross Hoard; Parson's wife, Una Spencer; sister Jane, Bertha McAdam; Jane's husband, Cyrus Summers; Village Belle, Eleanor Johnson; Squire Holmes of Rawdon, John Mulholland.

Candle Lighting Ceremony
The cake with 75 candles was the setting for this ceremony when candles were lit for the old pioneers by representatives of the family. Cummings by Herbert Smith; Reid, Allan Reid; Fox—Will Fox; Stirling; Williams—Lenora Williams, Toronto; Elijah Johnson—Rosella Reid; Wescott—Eileen Demore; Hoards—Robert Hoard; Hufman—Lois McAdam; Hubble—Edna Hubble; Daniel Johnston—Marion Johnston; Potts—David Potts; Jeffs—Paul Jeffs; Weavers—Lois Weaver; Balleys—Doris Sine; Linn—Ruth Linn; McConnell—Betty McConnell; Sharp—Ruth Sharp; Smith—Eleanor Ann Smith; Summers—Gladys Stapley, Oak Hills.

There were four visiting clergy in attendance, Reverends W. H. Clarke, F. G. Joblin, Frederick H. Joblin and Elgie Joblin. The names of the ministers during the past seventy-five years was read namely T. H. McDonald, W. H. Cook, J. McFarlane, S. Crookshanks, W. D. P. Wilson, R. Duke, D. Balfour, W. H. Clarke, J. C. Connell, S. Dixon, J. Batstone, F. G. Joblin, J. Beckel and T. F. Townsend.

Greetings were read from the following: Rev. E. Beckel, Elgin, Ont.; Charles Bailey, Winnipeg, Man.; Lotie Henry and Blanche E. Millar, Saskatoon, Sask.; Cathleen McConnell Chambers, North Bay, Ont.; Jennie McMillan, Lintlaw, Sask.; Etta Johnson Weaver, Belleville; Hillard McConnell, Detroit; May Williams, Montreal, Que.; Wilbert Cummings, Edmonton, Alta.; Eleanor Hubble Osborne, Campbellford; Lena Johnson Totton, Assiniboia, Sask.; David W. Kiddie, St. Eugene, Ont.; Elizabeth McMillan Rollo, Winnipeg, Man.; Rosa Hay Quench, Scarborough

Railroader Retires On Pension

John Forsyth, Sectionman Can. National Railways, Springfield, retired on pension on Tuesday of this week after 48 years of Railway life. Previous to his coming to Springfield 28 years ago, he worked for the New York Central Railway, at Finch, Ont. Mr. Forsyth has always been popular among his associates for his kindly nature and pleasant smile and he will be greatly missed. He was 63 years of age on the day of his retirement. He has the good wishes of the entire community.

MASONIC SERVICE

Members of the Masonic Order in Stirling will attend Divine Service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Sunday next, June 23rd, at 11 a.m. Rev. W. H. Walker will deliver the address and a good turnout of the brethren is expected.

Passes Normal Examinations

Congratulations are extended to Miss Doris Pollock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Pollock, Wellman's who was successful in the examinations of the teacher training class at Peterborough Normal School. Miss Pollock is a graduate of Stirling High School and has accepted a position in a school in the Madoc district for the coming year.

Funeral: Elam Wescott and his wife, Viola White Wescott, Oshawa; Mrs. James Batstone (a former minister's wife), Toronto; Arthur Hay, B.A., Chatham; Rev. Melbourne Johnston, Rosedale, Mich.

All were asked to stand if they were married during the years that each minister was on the circuit. During the twelve years that Rev. F. G. Joblin was on Rawdon charge there were a large number of new weddings.

Four generations was another feature and this took in Sharp, McAdam, Jeffs, Johnston, Summers, Spencer, and Williams.

Several of those who sent greetings also enclosed a donation of Thanks-giving. The offering placed on the plates on Sunday was over $333 and over $200 was realized at the supper. A lovely placard was on display at the supper and in the hall, also 75 book marks as souvenirs and these were special prepared by the pastor.

The pastor read several excerpts from a yellowed copy of the News-Argus of 1889 which advertised men's suits $8.00 at Boldricks; print 5c per yard; butter 16c per pound; eggs 11c per dozen; potatoes 45c a bag; ham 8c per pound; chicken 35c a pair. He also read several jokes with local hits. Truly the building of Mount Pleasant Church was a great sacrifice to those old pioneers but they achieved their purpose and have handed down the torch to this generation to go forth and build even better.

In a letter last week from Mrs. Frances A. Nicholson, Napanee, who is the youngest daughter of the late Wilson Cummings who was a member of the Building Committee in 1871 and a Class leader of the church she says, "I always remember the importance attached to the quarterly service which was held in Stirling in the old church at the edge of the village. The church had quaint box pews that you had to open a little door to enter. The seats were all around the enclosure."

The presiding elder was Rev. William Perritt who always made his home with us during his week end stay. The Saturday afternoon preceding this quarterly service was always observed as a preparatory service, all work on the farm was stopped and all went to church to the village. I always remember the student preacher who lived at our home and his name was Joseph Henry George. Some years later he joined the Presbyterian church and was at one time pastor of John Street church, Belleville. Mrs. Nicholson, her daughter and husband, Col. and Mrs. Graham attended the morning service Sunday.

2 Men in Attendance
Mr. John L. Bailey, 4th concession, Rawdon, and Mr. Robert Sharp, Toronto, were present at the Dedication Service in June 1871 and they attended all the services in connection with the 75th anniversary.

During the year 1907 Rev. W. H. Clarke organized three Epworth Leagues on Rawdon Circuit and for the past 39 years there has continually functioned a young people's union at Mount Pleasant.

In 1942 a group of young people under the direction of Mrs. Percy MacMullen were successful in capturing the South Hastings Silver Trophy and were displayed at the Sunday Service.

Rev. F. G. Joblin and two of his sons and Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke spent the week end here and attended all of the services in connection with the celebration.

Mr. Will Fox, Stirling, delighted the gathering Monday evening with a varied programme of music and singing previous to the supper.

All voted the 75th anniversary celebrations a large success.

Noble Grand Hostess To Lodge Officers

Sister Annie Warren, Noble Grand of Laurel Rebekah Lodge, No. 211, entertained on Wednesday afternoon, June 19th, at her home, the officers of the lodge, also the new members of the past year.

A variety program was much enjoyed, by all present taking part. Sister Warren thanked her guests for their work in the lodge during the year and Sister Effie Bailey was presented with the gift of a "Guest Book" by the Noble Grand for her work as Degree Captain.

Several snapshots were taken during the afternoon. A delicious supper was served on the law by the hostess assisted by Sisters Ollie Thompson, Dorothy Green and D. Brown. A vote of thanks was tendered Sister Warren for her hospitality by Sister Effie Bailey.

Crop Prospects Good

Prospects are bright for a heavy yield of oats in this district, this year according to Reeve J. Morrison, of Rawdon, who displayed two stalks of early oats well headed out at the office of the News-Argus this morning. The stalks were of the Ajax variety and each stalk had approximately forty oats on it.

Buys Trucking Business

Robert Cooke, a former member of the RCAF, has purchased the trucking business of Max Preston, of town, and took possession on Tuesday. "Bob" is well known and will be a welcome addition to the business life of the community.

NAMED SOLICITOR

Glen Ross Wins Over Stirling

BEST GAME OF SEASON ENDS IN WIN FOR VISITORS BY A SCORE OF 10-8 TUESDAY NIGHT

In the best game of the season, Glen Ross downed Stirling softballers by a score of 10-8 in a seven-inning fixture played at the local school grounds on Tuesday night.

The locals presented Earl Dafeo on the pitching mound for the first time and although defeated he pitched a strong game and given a little better support at times would have made his first start a winning one. In addition to his hurling chores he contributed a home run and a single and scored two runs. Harry Brooks, on the mound for the winners, also pitched a good brand of ball and was given good support in the field by his teammates.

Glen Ross took a commanding lead in the first inning with five counters but were held scoreless until the fifth when they shoved a lone tally across. In the last inning they tallied four, to make their total 10. Stirling tallied one in the first, five in the third and two in the sixth. Altogether, it was one of the best games of the season and the fans will be flocking to see future games between these old rivals.

Line Ups

Umpires—M. Fraser, plate; J. Cranston, bases.

Other Scores
In the other scheduled games on Tuesday, Mount Pleasant defeated Springfield 21-5; and Bell Telephone defeated Bethel 31-8.

Milk Report

Following is the milk report from the Department of Health for Stirling Dairy for the month:

B. Coli Count per c. 7; Standard Plate count 36,000; Percent Butterfat 3.3; Result of Phosphotest "A".

Change Time

Commencing Monday next, June 24th, the C.N.R. night train from Toronto will arrive at Stirling at 9.30 standard time instead of 10.30 as at present.

Celebrated Her 96th Birthday

One of this district's most highly respected and aged ladies, Mrs. William Jackman, celebrated her 96th birthday Monday last, June 17th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Draup, of Sine. Despite her years she enjoys good health and still derives a great deal of enjoyment out of life. Mrs. Jackman also holds the distinction of being a great great grandmother having three great great grandchildren. During the day she was the recipient of many cards, gifts and congratulatory messages while a number of friends called to extend felicitations.

BROKE COLLARBONE

Jack Skillcorn, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Harold Skillcorn, suffered a broken collarbone on Saturday, as a result of a fall from his bicycle on Henry St.

Barn Burned

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the fine farm barn of Harry Brown on the town line about three miles west of the village early Tuesday morning. A neighbour, Donald Scott, was the first to see the blaze and gave the alarm, but the fire was too far advanced to do anything to save the structure. However, all the farm machinery was pulled to safety and a bull in the barn was saved. A milking machine and equipment was lost in the fire. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Loses Sister

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. Walter Lindenfield, Oak Lake, in the loss of his sister, Mrs. Addie Johnston, who passed away yesterday at Hensall, Ont. Mr. Lindenfield has gone to Hensall for the funeral.

LEGION DECORATION SERVICE AT FRANKFORD

The Frankford Branch of the Canadian Legion will parade on June 30th at 3.30 p.m. for Decoration Service. War Veterans of Stirling and vicinity are cordially invited to join in this parade, falling in at the community Hall, Frankford at 3 p.m.

Rev. T. F. Townsend Honoured By Pupils

On Friday afternoon the pupils of the five public schools where Rev. T. F. Townsend has been teaching Religious Education, planned a social event at the Williams School. All played several games of baseball and the Allan school were the champions.

The teachers and pupils of the five schools, Harold Snarr's, Wellman's, Allan and Williams presented the pastor with an occasional chair.

Sandwiches, cookies, cake and tarts were served by the pupils and a jolly half hour enjoyed.

ATTEND GRAND LODGE

Among those attending Grand Lodge of the I.O.O.F. Tuesday held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, this week are Messrs. R. E. Fox, Clifford Heagle, and Mrs. Geo. Megginson. Mrs. Fox, accompanied Mr. Fox to the city.

At Conference

Messrs. H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative, and Harry Burns, assistant, are in Kempsville this week attending a conference of Agricultural Representatives being held at the Agricultural School.

Heavy Damage

Considerable property damage resulted at Bonarlaw on Tuesday evening as a result of a collision on Highway No. 14 between two motor vehicles. Percy Mumby of Springfield was turning his automobile around at Bonarlaw village when he is stated to have turned directly in front of an on-coming vehicle driven by Murray Whetung of Curve Lake. Front end of the Whetung car was considerably damaged as result of the impact although no personal injuries were suffered. The accident was investigated by Traffic Officer Sam Ervine.

Appointed Weed Inspector

Former reeve of Rawdon Township and member of the Hastings County Council for a number of years, W. J. Tanner has been appointed weed inspector for the County of Hastings.

The appointment is the first of its kind in the history of the county, and covers jurisdiction over weed control and destruction throughout Hastings.

Formerly weed control was under the supervision of township weed inspectors appointed by municipality heads.

Bride And Groom Guesis of Honour

MR. AND MRS. WILBUR SHOREY RECEIVE AN END TABLE AND AN OCCASIONAL CHAIR

A large number of friends from Oak Lake and Marsh Hill gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kingston on Friday evening last to do honor to their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Shorey. Colored electric lights vied with the moon in making the lawn and freshly decorated wedding arch look like a bit of fairy land.

Inside a display of beautiful wedding gifts attracted all comers, but took second place to the lovely bride who greeted her friends attired in her wedding dress.

Mr. Walter Lindenfield, chairman for the brief program, led in community singing and made a short speech before introducing the members: a piano solo and encore by Joan Campbell; recitation by Douglas Dettlor; a solo, "Love me and the World is Mine," and encore "The Sunshine of Your Smile" by Mr. Farley Lindenfield; reading, "The Food Crank," by Mrs. Harold Dettlor.

With the presentation of an end table and occasional chair by Messrs. J. Campbell and H. Dettlor, the following address was read by Miss Mae Currie.

Dear Helen and Wilbur,—

Your friends and neighbours from Oak Lake and Marsh Hill have gathered this evening to wish you all joy and contentment through the coming years.

June!—a wonderful month, so easy for young lovers to come up to, as full moon, such a boom—can we make it soon? Yes, in June. So to a wedding tune we were married at noon. Ah! June! We have an idea that, for you two, as most others, it was a case of in the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, they say, and he finds the ladies' fancy meeting his about half way. "Spring has a way of turning into summer, in fact all seasons of the year roll around in due time, with weddings in all of them, but we trust that the thoughts of love which started in life's spring and came to such a beautiful climax on Monday last, will continue to run smoothly into deeper and deeper groves as you climb life's hill together.

Then, as the old Scottish song has it, you can "tiddle down hand in hand to sleep together at the foot." Through the dreams of June to the realities of December, may you always, as now, be sweethearts.

Wilbur, you have a very dainty little girl for a wife. Evidently you know that.

"As within the little rose you find the richest dyes,

And in a little grain of gold great price and value lies,

As from a little balsam much odor doth arise,

So in a little woman there's a taste of Paradise."

But you might also keep in mind that

"There's nothing like a wedding to make a feller learn

At first he thinks she's his'n, but later learns he's her'n."

Helena, are you prepared to give your husband the credit for being able to accomplish the impossible? We remember the young wife who told her good friend how her wonderful husband walked the ocean beach and de blue ocean! "Roll!" "and," said the wife in an awed whisper, "it did!"

For both of you: A father handed the following advice to his daughter at her marriage:

Never talk at but to each other

Never both maintain anger at the same time.

Never speak loud or boisterously to each other.

Never find fault or fret about what cannot be helped.

Never make a remark at the other's expense.

Neglect everybody else rather than each other.

Love the Lord and serve Him faithfully all the days of thy life.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorey, your friends of this community welcome most heartily this opportunity of helping to set up another home, and are happy to present to you this gift with all good wishes for the future.

Signed: Harold Dettlor, Jim Campbell, Garnet Searles, Ralph Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorey each made suitable brief replies expressing thanks for the gifts.

Sandwiches, cake and coffee in abundance were served and the gathering broke up with the singing of "For they are jolly good fellows."

Uncle Hy Says

I envy no man heaps of scads, a flock of healthy girls and lads, that he can call his own, I envy not his claim to wealth, gold and silver on the shelf a place where wait's unknown.

I envy no man great success, the many things he may possess, jewels rich and rare, I envy not his limousine or any other fine machine, for which he has a flare.

I envy no man highest fame, due respect, unsullied name, his earned place in the sun, I envy not his family tree, his dreams of sweet tranquility, when his day's work is done.

I envy no man many things, laughter, love, the praise of kings, what ever falls his way, his praises I would gladly spout, I'd even climb the roof to shout, "Hip, hip—hip, hip hurrah!"

WARD—LOCKYER

Pictou United Church, with decorations of palms, dracinas and pink geraniums, banked about a basket centre of pink snapdragons, was the attractive setting for the wedding, at high noon, Saturday, June 1, of Miss Raperta Lucille Lockyer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Lockyer of "Carnwells", on the Bloomfield Road to Mr. Jack Herbert Ward, B. Sc., only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ward, Main Street.

Rev. A. E. McCutcheon officiated. Mr. F. E. Walden played the wedding music. Mrs. Don Baxter sang "Through The Years".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length model, pink net fashioned with sweetheart neckline, short sleeves, a finger-tip veil, caught with a halo of orange blossoms pale blue elbow-length sleeves and silver sandals. She carried a shower of Briarcliffe roses, stephanotis, and blue forget-me-nots, tied with pale blue ribbon.

Mrs. Christopher Lockyer was matron of honor and wore a robin's egg blue crepe with sequin trimming, a white net cap with blue flowers and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and bouvardia.

Mr. Ross Graham of Fenelon Falls, was groomsman.

Mr. Laverne Minaker and brother of the bride, Mr. Creighton Lockyer, were ushers.

At the reception at "Carnwells" (named for Mr. Lockyer's English home), Mrs. Lockyer was in grey crepe with corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Ward, the groom's mother, wore pale blue jersey with corsage of pink Dream roses.

The rooms where the reception was held were attractive with red carnations and roses. The buffet carried a basket of red roses. The dining table with lace cloth, a three-tiered wedding cake, clouded in pink tulle with pink rose buds and pink tapers in silver holders, was presided over by Mrs. F. E. Walden, Sr., and Mrs. F. J. Webster. The servers were, Miss Bernice Kitchen, Miss Ruth Walters, Miss Evelyn VanDusen, Miss Helen Cahoon and Mrs. J. Stenning.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Reynolds of Lima, Ohio Mr. and Mrs. William Lockyer and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lockyer of Belleville.

A cablegram of congratulations was received from Flight-Lieut. Christopher Lockyer, the bride's brother, in England and a telegram from Miss Betty Allison of Toronto.

For travelling to Ottawa and Montreal, the bride donned a dressmaker suit of cerise wool, with white fur trim, a black hat with blue, and black accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Ward will occupy a suite of rooms in the Graydon Apartments, Main Street, W.

REHEARSAL PARTY

Mrs. A. E. Ward, Pictou, was hostess of a delightful evening party following the rehearsal for the Ward—Lockyer wedding at United Church last Friday evening. The guests included Saturday's bride and groom; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Reynolds of Lima, Ohio; Mr. George Roberts and Mr. Ross Graham of Fenelon Falls, a college friend of Jack who was groomsman at Saturday's wedding. The rooms were decorated with fragrant lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. P. A. Reynolds who is the sister of Mr. Ward, poured coffee and Mrs. Fred Walden Jr. and Miss Ruth Walters assisted with serving.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

Miss Ruby Lockyer, Saturday's bride was guest of honour at a shower given at "Maple Inn", Bloomfield, on Thursday evening. Mrs. Jack Stenning, Mrs. Earl Welbanks, Miss Bernice Kitchen and Miss Helen Cahoon were associate hostesses.

Bethel

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Morton were Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren.

There was no church service here on Sunday owing to Anniversary at Mount Pleasant. Several from here were in attendance.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preston were Mr. and Mrs. S. Brady and family and Mrs. May Preston and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Warren were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Barron.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Lloyd and girls, of Belleville, spent week end with Mr. and Mrs. John A. McMullen.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Thursday evening last for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Royle at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McWilliams and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kirkey.

St. Paul's Mission Band

The Mission Band met at the Sunday School rooms on June 6th with thirty in attendance. Meeting opened with hymn "Jesus Loves Me" followed by Lord's prayer and Mission Band Purpose, minutes and roll call and treasurer's report. The offering was taken by Janet Anne Good and Billy Tullough. The study period was taken by Mrs. Lavery and Roberta Good supervised the Juniors in the absence of Mrs. Stewart. The worship service was conducted by Ruth Doman and Marlene Carlisle. The programme for the W.M.S. party on June 11 was rehearsed.

The May meeting was held on May 26th. Norma Doman and Helen Irish took up the offering and the worship service was conducted by Marie Montgomery and Agnes Chambers.

RECEIVES DEGREE

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

The lakes and streams and forests of holiday land are yours to enjoy... and yours to protect from their greatest enemy, fire.

Most forest fires are started by human beings. Thousands of acres are blackened and destroyed every year because someone was not careful with fire.

When you use a match, break it in two before you throw it away. Be sure your discarded cigarette is out too.

When you make a campfire, build it small and in a safe place.

When you leave, put the fire dead out with water.

What forests do for you:

- Give you a grand place to holiday.
- Provide beauty spots for our visitors.
- Shelter game animals and fishing haunts.
- Control flow of water... help even the flow of rivers so they do not dry up in summer.
- Help to ensure a year-round supply of Hydro power for you.
- Provide thousands of jobs in lumber, pulp wood and other forest industries.
- Influence climate so as to prevent extremes.

Enjoy your Holidays but protect our Forests

County Calf Clubs Are Organized

Three Calf Clubs have been organized in Hastings County in recent weeks under the direction of Mr. H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative. Those are the Madoc, Rawdon and Sidney.

MADOC CLUB

The Madoc Calf Club, sponsored by the Madoc Agricultural Society, held its organization meeting at Mr. Fred Irwin's Farm, Cooper, on June 3rd.

The sixteen calves entered in the club were tagged by H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative for Hastings County, and his assistant, H. W. Burns, both of whom attended the meeting.

Lorne Irwin was elected Club Leader and President, while Don Burnside and Billy Brady were elected Vice-President and Secretary respectively.

Sidney Club

The Sidney Calf Club, the first of its kind to be active in that Township for a number of years and this year sponsored by the Sidney Junior Farmers' Association and the Belleville Agricultural Society, was organized at the Centenary School on June 7th.

Mr. Don Nicholson, President of the Junior Farmers, and Mr. Ray Hall, Past President and Club Leader, were largely responsible in encouraging the fifteen boys to take part in this club work. The meeting was attended by Mr. Harry W. Burns, Assistant Agricultural Representative.

The President of the new Club is Raymond Geen. Other Officers elected were the Vice President, Burton Hubble, and the secretary, Harley Hubble.

The members of this Club are as follows: Douglas Harry, Keith Kells, Ted Aikens, Keith Sills, Burton Hubble, Walter Harder, Jack Geen, Bob Burkitt, Francis Mulvihill, Gordon Grills, Harley Hubble, Raymond Geen, Rawdon Club.

The Rawdon Calf Club, with seventeen members, was organized on May 15th. This Club is sponsored by the Stirling Agricultural Society and the Rawdon Junior Farmers.

The officers and members of this Club are as follows: President, Bob Merrick, Stirling R. 3; Vice President, Bud Heath, Campbellford R. 2; Secretary, Doug. Donnan, Stirling R. 2. Club Leader, Wm. A. Sutherland, Stirling; Members, Doug. Gotby, Delbert McComb, John D. McComb, Jack D. Spencer, Bob Spencer, Douglas Donnan, Ronald Donnan, James Pollock, Bob Merrick, Bdd Heath, Robert H. Hoard, James Gay, Gordon Donnan, Gerald Donnan, James Bailey, Gerald Bailey, Harold Barlow.

It is expected that very keen competition will ensue among the clubs and within the different clubs as the calves, even at this early date, are of very good type and show that a great deal of work has been placed upon them. The boys themselves are very much interested in club activity and the care of their calves.

Junior Farmers

Wednesday, June 12th, 1946. Mr. H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative for Hastings County acted as chairman.

Minutes of the February meeting, which outlined the summer program, were read and approved.

It was decided to hold the annual Junior Farmer Field Day on Thursday July 25th, at Maynooth Fair Grounds. The program for the day was drawn up. There will be a picnic lunch and supper. The feature of the day will be a softball tournament between the various clubs. It is expected that there will be seven boys' teams and four girls' teams. A dance will be held in the Hall in the evening.

ploughshares"

But the Ploughshare WAS your Sword of Battle...

No one worked with stouter heart or stronger arm than the Canadian farmer to win World War II.

Through six long years of war, while half a million farmers left their ploughs to take up arms in combat or make them on the home front, men and women on the farm laboured from dawn till dusk — and after — to supply food for war... in millions of tons.

The ploughshare was the sword of battle...

And now, with peace so dearly won, the farm people of Canada are turning their energies to lighten the suffering of war-torn and famine-stricken lands — toiling to hold and even raise production — still fighting to build a better world for all men.

Proudly, the Bank of Montreal salutes these men, women and children of Canada's army of agriculturalists, who now turn their sword of battle to the tasks of peace.

Rev. Dr. John Lyons, Lord Bishop of Ontario, preached in St. Mark's church at the afternoon service on Sunday last. The service was taken by Rev. J. M. Brownlie, the Rector. The Bishop gave an inspiring sermon and congratulated the parishioners on their splendid response to the recent Anglican Advance Appeal stating that one of the pleasing surprises of the campaign was the enthusiasm displayed by the rural communities as a whole.

W. J. Barlow attended the Canadian Postmasters' Association (Ontario Branch) Conference held in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Mr. Barlow reports interesting sessions were held on both days and he attended the banquet held on Wednesday evening when the delegates were the guests of the T. Eaton Co. and also on Thursday evening when they were guests of the Robert Simpson Co. Ltd.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hill and daughter, Marjorie, of Kitchener, Ont. and Mrs. Hill's father, W. Wannamaker, of Regina, Sask., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barlow for a few days. Mr. Wannamaker is renewing in this district.

TENDERS FOR COAL AND COKE
Federal Buildings—Province of Ontario

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Coal," will be received until 3 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), Friday, June 28, 1946, for the supply of coal and coke for the Dominion Buildings throughout the Province of Ontario.

Forms of tender with specifications and conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, and the Supervising Architect, 36 Adelaide St. East, Toronto, Ont. Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto. Coal dealers' licence numbers must be given when tendering.

The Department reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer, before awarding the order, a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque, if required to make up an odd amount.

Such security will serve as a guarantee for the proper fulfilment of the contract.
By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE,
Secretary
Department of Public Works
Ottawa, June 7, 1946.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thain, of Harold, wish to thank their friends and neighbours for their help in saving their home and other buildings when their barn was burned. 40-1

IN MEMORIAM

McGEE—In memory of John D. McGee who passed away June 21st, 1936, also his wife, Mary Elizabeth McGee, who passed away on June 11th, 1944.
Earth has lost its look of gladness. Heaven, to us, seems more bright. Since the spirit of our dear ones Took their happy, homeward flight, And we long to cross that river, Long to rest upon that shore, Here to see, and know, and love them With the Saviour, evermore.
Signed: Myrtle, Rosena and Edna. 40-1

DODWELL—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Alec Mead Dodwell, who passed on June 26th, 1944.

God of the living, in whose eyes Unveiled the whole creation lies All souls are Thine, we must not say That those are dead who pass away. From this our word of flesh set free; We know them living unto Thee. All Thine, and yet most truly ours; For well we know, wherever they be, Our dead are living unto Thee.
Sadly missed by Mother, Nancy and 40-1p Albert

WILSON—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Kemp Wilson, who passed away June 24, 1941. Sadly we miss you but try not to grieve

A little while longer and we too shall leave
To meet you and dad on that beautiful shore
Where life's everlasting and partings no more.

Ready AND ABLE FOR THE BIG TASK AHEAD

With silent yet perceptible determination and an awareness of the urgency of the great need for foodstuffs, the Canadian farmer has accepted the responsibility which is his to maintain and increase the output of farm products so important in our national economy and so essential to relieve the critical shortage in world supplies.

Provided, as he now is, with purpose nobler than self-interest, he sets himself to the task with loftier ambition and renewed energy. Eager he is for that conscious recognition within himself of having a definite and necessary part in the national welfare in its domestic and export activities. Zealous is he that his contribution may be worthy and adequate.

By his side, ever ready to help make more effective the farmer's effort is the Canadian implement maker whose co-operation in furnishing the most efficient machines enables him to multiply his output and extend his activities so that today he produces more with less manpower and in the most economical manner yet attained.

Never were the opportunities in agriculture more promising—never was the Canadian farmer better fitted or better equipped to make the most of those opportunities. In the future as in the past Massey-Harris will endeavour to develop, supply and service equipment that will make it easier for the farmer to fulfill his plans and aspirations.

MASSEY-HARRIS COMPANY LIMITED

THE SERVICE ARM OF THE CANADIAN FARM

CASH MONEY

-and some of it may come your way!

Yesterday Farmer Neilson got over $800 cash when he sold his grain. Through the processes of trade and commerce, some of that money may come to you. Banking service enabled him to obtain his money quickly.

The farmer doesn't have to wait for his money until his grain reaches the consumer... this is important to you, no matter where you live or what your work.

Farmer Neilson, and thousands like him, spend money for household and farm equipment, food, clothes, radios, paint and a hundred other things. This helps keep people busy all over the Dominion.

Your bank advances credit also to help farmers plant, cultivate and harvest crops of all kinds, to buy and raise livestock. Banking service is something like the good oil in fine machinery, you never notice it. But it is a prime factor in your prosperity... in the Canadian way of life.

National Clothing Collection

They can still wear what we can spare. That's Ontario's new slogan for the National Clothing Collection from June 17th to 29th, inclusive. Health Minister Russell T. Kelley, Provincial Chairman for the Campaign, said here today, in issuing a final appeal for apparel and bedding on behalf of Europe's destitute.

"Nearly every Municipality in Ontario—and there are more than seven hundred of them—is completely organized for this great, humanitarian drive", the Minister announced. "Now it's up to us, and by that I mean every man, woman and child, to dig into every nook and cranny in our homes and give every old and serviceable garment and article we can spare. If we do that I know we will achieve our objective of six million pounds, which means a pound and a half or one piece of clothing or bedding from every resident of Ontario."

But it's Ontario, the rest of Canada and other of the world's more fortunate peoples fail to answer this appeal, Mr. Kelley painted this bleak picture: "There are one hundred and thirty million people, including twenty-five million children, who face death from sickness and exposure in Europe and Asia next winter unless we clothe them."

Mr. Kelley listed the following as the most important items needed: suits, overcoats, work clothes for men and boys, infants' and children's clothes of all types, coats, dresses, aprons and smocks for girls and women, shoes in pairs, (tied securely with string or laces), caps, felt hats, knitted headwear, gloves, underclothing, woolen socks, piece goods, blankets, sheets, and linens, draperies and remnants.

He explained that all the washable garments and goods should be washed but need not be ironed, and other garments need not be dry-cleaned. Clothes without buttons are acceptable as supplies of buttons are moving into lands where the clothing will be worn.

"Of particular interest to servicemen," Mr. Kelley continued, "is the fact that Navy, Army and Air Force uniforms may be donated if all buttons are removed. And we believe that those servicemen and the general public will be glad to know that the clothing will be distributed in every country where Canadians fought."

Items which cannot be baled—such as straw hats, feather beds, pillows and mattresses—should not be given, it was stated.

In a note of warning to prevent the possibility of damage in sorting and shipping, Mr. Kelley asked all donors to remove matches from the pockets of trousers and other articles.

"After collecting their clothing and bedding, the Provincial Chairman explained, 'donors should securely bundle them and set them out for the pick up on their streets. However, if there is no house to house pick-up, the bundles should be delivered to the Post Office.'"

Questions and Answers

Readers may direct their questions, giving their name and address and mentioning the name of this paper to Information Branch, WPTB, 490 Sussex Street, Ottawa.

Q. I bought a house for our own use. There are people renting it at the present time and I would like to know if I could give notice to these people and if so how much?

A. Sorry, from the information contained in your letter you cannot give them any notice. These tenants are protected by the "Freezing Order" and while this order is in effect you would not be permitted to give notice.

Q. How much better should we get each week? I noticed we were to receive an increase but my grocer still gives me half a pound for each coupon.

A. Yes...the butter ration has increased. Beginning June 6 the ration was raised to the old rate of 6 ounces per week. The butter ration was cut by postponing the valid dates for coupons, but there has never actually been a change in the amount of butter received for each coupon, and your grocer is quite right when he gives you half a pound.

Q. Is there a ceiling price on wages paid to domestic help? I think $90 for a cook and $65 or 75 for a housemaid is ridiculous.

A. This is a matter for the Regional War Labor Board and we suggest you write them for any information on wages. We do know, however, that there is no wage control over the amount of money paid to domestic help.

THE MIXING BOWL

BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! Wedding receptions in the home are being planned wisely this year. The sandwich tidbits and bouchées aren't being served. Instead, salads are in vogue. The ample supply of fresh greens provides attractive materials with which to work.

COLORFUL FRUIT SALADS

Sections of orange, grapefruit, and cantaloupe folded together with a whipped cream mayonnaise. Pile lettuce cups and garnish with unstemmed sweet cherries.

Drained cubed pineapple and orange with lengthwise-cut pieces of stewed prunes served with thick salad dressing mixed with sour cream and garnished with mint.

Cottage cheese mixed with cubed peaches and a little marmalade mounded in individual lettuce cups, unbleached strawberries piled alongside a lemon jelly mould containing sliced bananas.

Gelatin salads are those which can be prepared well in advance of the big event. Recipes for 24 servings were published in last week's column.

TAKE A TIP

Garnishes make a difference! Choose a selection of these for the salad plates.

1. Cheese Apples, Pears or Carrots Use packaged cream cheese for these. With the hands, shape cheese into tiny apples, pears or carrots, about two inches. Insert cloves at the bottom and stem ends of apples and pears, and give the carrots a parsley top.

2. Parsley — Cheese Balls Shape creamed cheese into small balls. Roll balls in finely minced parsley and finely chopped nuts.

3. Celery curls: Using scissors or a sharp knife, make parallel lengthwise slits at top and bottom of 2 inch pieces of celery, leaving about 1-2 inch in the middle uncut. Drop into a bowl of ice water and chill. The slit ends will gradually curl.

4. Celery flowers: Make cuts on one end of 2 or 3 inch pieces of celery. Put two pieces together with soft cheese or sandwich filling. Sprinkle with paprika. Chill in electric refrigerator.

5. Celery Matches: Cut large, tender stalks of celery in match size pieces. Chill (but not in water). Just before serving, dip one end of each in paprika and salt. Celery match boxes are made by slicing the stalks of celery to within 1-2 inch of the bottom.

6. Carrot Ring Holders: Choose large carrots. Wash and peel. Cut in 3 inch lengths. Using apple corer, core each piece, the cut into rings about 1-2 inch wide. Chill. Serve filled with little green onions, raw turnip straws or watercress.

Carrot Curls: Use medium sized carrots at room temperature (or the pieces will break). Wash and peel. Then, using a vegetable peeler or blade of coring knife, slice lengthwise in paper-thin slices. Drop slices into a bowl of ice water. As the slices stand, they will gradually chill. Drain well before serving.

8. Egg Chain: Cut hard-cooked eggs crosswise in slices. Remove yolk from each slice. Cut a slit in half of the white rings, and link together (a slit one on each side of an unsplit one), to form a chain around a salad or meat plate.

NOTE: The chain should be formed right on the plate and do not transfer after it is made. Slice yolks on the top of salad—this is especially good with potato salad.

9. Whole-Egg Tulip: Cut a thin slice from the broad end of a hard-cooked egg. With a sharp knife make 5 or 6 slits in the white from the top downwards. Gently push back the white "petals", and remove yolk. Devise the yolk with salad dressing or milk and season and replace in the white.

10. Half-Egg Tulip: Cut the hard-cooked egg in half. Nick the edges in serrated fashion. Devise the yolks for the centre.

11. Radish Roses: Wash radishes and remove all but a few sprigs off the top. Using a sharp knife, make petal-like deep cuts in the radish. Begin at stem end and carefully work to the top. Snip off the root end. Chill.

12. Radish Flowers: Slice prepared radishes lengthwise into sections within a short distance of the base. Drop into a bowl of ice water and chill. Petals will gradually open. Do not add salt which will take out the colour.

13. Accordion Radishes: Cut washed radishes crosswise in thin slices, cutting down to, but not through, the bottom. Drop into a bowl of ice water and chill in electric refrigerator.

Anne Allan invites you to write to her in care of the News-Argus. Send in your suggestion on homemaking problems and watch this column for replies.

Wellman's Joint Meeting

There was a splendid attendance at the joint meeting of the Wellman's Woman's Association and the W.M.S. Auxiliary held on Wednesday evening, June 5th at the home of Mrs. Lewis Pauley.

Mrs. T. F. Townsend, president of the Woman's Missionary Society was in charge and opened with thoughts regarding prayer and the group were led in prayer by their minister. Bible lessons were brought from Psalms 33 and 144 following which Mrs. Clifford Clancy quoted the poem "Not mine but our" and offered prayer.

Mrs. P. Jackman and Mrs. Clarence Dunham brought excerpts from the "Blue Book" regarding our work among Indians in British Columbia and many non Anglo Saxons in Mon-treil. A solo was given by Mrs. G. D. Watson with Mrs. Townsend as accompanist.

The business for both groups was looked after in record time. The W.A. members deciding that there would not be a supper in connection with our 77th Church Anniversary.

Mrs. Thrasher, W.M.S. treasurer brought a satisfying report and presented a gift of $5.00 from Mrs. Helen Snarr, of Belleville. Mrs. Snarr sent a message of thanks for an Easter lily which had been sent by the Auxiliary. Mrs. C. Clancy spoke words of appreciation for the Mission Band president, Miss June Dunham.

Following the business Ruth Clancy played "Country Gardens" as an organ solo.

Eleanor Graham read Acts 12, 12 to 17, the president bringing comments on the lesson and quoting two poems "Your House of Thankfulness" and "One Moment At A Time". The closing feature was a composition written by Mrs. Jennie Moulton of Elgin and read by Mrs. Fred Thrasher entitled "Whenever I Walk With Him".

The Rev. T. F. Townsend closed with a prayer of Benediction.

Later Mrs. Clarence Dunham called the attention of all present and read an address of appreciation to the W.M.S. President, Mrs. T. F. Townsend, making note of the fact that this was the last meeting at which she would preside as the Rev. Mr. Townsend is retiring from the Rawdon charge and moving to Deseronto early in July. A beautiful chenille bedspread was presented to Mrs. Townsend, who though greatly surprised, spoke words of appreciation, friendship, and sincere thanks.

Miss Hazel Pauley served lunch, assisted by Ruth Clancy, Doris Dunham and Shirley Dunham.

Prisoners Of War

No less than 23,396 prisoners of war were transported from Canada from January to the end of May 1946, including none in January, 3,054 in February 16,216 in March, none in April, and 4,126 in May.

Warden's Trophy Won By D. Prest of Holloway

Popular young Sidney township junior farmer, Douglas Prest of Holloway, won the Warden's Trophy, emblematic of Hastings county livestock judging championship, at the annual county competition which this year was held at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph.

The judging competition was held during the recent visit of approximately 175 county junior farmers who took an extensive three-day trip through the western part of the province, visiting many prominent farms en route. Prest also won a free trip to Chicago.

Ray Hall, Trenton, R.R. 5, won top honors in the senior livestock judging competition with other winners as follows: Wesley Finch, Campbellford; Alex McCurdy, Stirling; Clayton Ritz, and Duane Martin, both of Corbyville; Lorne Irwin, Cooper, and Maitland Harder of Trenton. Seventy-nine contestants took part in the senior competition.

81 Contestants

In the junior competition with 81 contestants taking part, Ivan Rollins, of Madoc won top honors, with other winners in order being Boyd Moorecroft, Madoc; Mac Lazier, Corbyville; Warren Hinze, Greenview; Claude Moran, Frankford; Don Martin, Tweed; George Cole, Shannonsville; Claude Comerford, Eldorado; Bob Brennan, Read; Don Burnside, Madoc; Harry Wickson, Frankford; Gerald Bateman, Thomasburg; Don Bell, Marmora; Robert Byrnes, Roslin; Ken Broad, Madoc; Edmund Hinze, Maynooth; John Dafee, Corbyville and Stewart Elliott, Tweed.

Coaches prizes were won by James Bailey of Stirling and Francis McAlpine of Maynooth.

Scholarships Awarded

Each of the nine junior farmer organizations having representatives on the trip to Guelph offered scholarships for points made in the competition. Senior and junior winners in each of the township were respectively, Marmora, Allen Bell and Harold Carmen;

Sidney, Douglas Prest and Douglas Harry; Rawdon, Dave Fargey, Bud Heath and Jim Pollock, tied; Hungerford, Carl Bateman and Russell Eaton; Madoc, Ross Pigden and Tom Moorecroft; Melrose, Earl Badgley and Edward Forestell; North Hastings Archie Stewart and George McAlpine; Read, Tom Hunt and Francis Shannon; Thurlow, John Huffman and Howard Elliott.

Holstein Field Day

The annual Hastings County Holstein Field Day was held at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ketcheson, Holloway, on Wednesday, June 12th. Over one hundred Holstein Breeders and their families took part in this Field Day.

Two splendid classes of Holstein heifers were judged under the direction of Mr. Roy Ormiston, Holstein Fieldman.

Mr. R. H. Graham, Provincial Livestock Branch, Toronto, was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting talk on herd improvement. He emphasized the advantages that would be derived if an artificial insemination unit were established in the county. He also emphasized the importance of warble fly control. Mr. Graham was introduced to the meeting by the Agricultural Representative, Lyn Fair, who also gave a resume of the Holstein Club's activities during the past year.

Mr. Harry W. Burns, Assistant Agricultural Representative, announced the winners in the livestock judging competition, they are as follows:

Ladies' Judging Competition—Mrs. Emile Masse, Belleville R. 3 and Mrs. Grenville Melkjohn, Springbrook, were tied for first place. Mrs. Melicka Cassidy, Tweed, was second.

Junior Competition — Raymond Masse, Belleville R. 3, was first, Morden Brough, Holloway, was second and James Reynolds, Foxboro, third.

Senior Men's Competition—Stafford Hunt, Tweed, was first; M. C. Reynolds, Foxboro, was second, and Grenville Melkjohn, Springbrook, was third.

Mr. Roscoe Robson, M.L.A., spoke

THE PROVINCE OF PROMISE...

ONTARIO'S rich mining country is still a hard—and chanceful—land. Copper Cliff and Sudbury, Porcupine and Kirkland Lake still entice the courageous. Whoever is 'anybody' in Ontario mining has been around here... in this northern region of mineral resources beyond calculation... after gold, nickel, copper, the platinum metals and silver. Today, new substances are constantly being discovered... camps and towns with mineral-sounding names are springing up... nothing that is of use to man will stay hidden longer than he takes to come for it.

A CORNER IN GOLD

In 1945, the province of Ontario recorded 15,225 gold-mining claims. In the previous year $25,000,000—salaries and wages—went to the 10,000 people engaged in the province's gold-mining industry and $30,000,000 in nickel-copper. During the war the mines of the Sudbury basin supplied the United Nations with all the nickel and platinum metals required for victory, yielding 1,800,000,000 pounds of nickel, 2,000,000,000 pounds of copper, 15,250,000 ounces of silver and 1,750,000 ounces of platinum metals.

MRS. MINNIE E. CARLISLE

Mrs. Minnie Elizabeth Carlisle, wife of Mr. William Carlisle, died at her home in the 9th concession of Sidney township on Sunday, June 16th, after an illness of two weeks' duration. The late Mrs. Carlisle, who was in her 73rd year was born in Sidney township and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Weaver. All her life was passed in the township where she was born and in the community she was highly esteemed. In religion she was a member of Carmel United Church and took part in the work of the Women's Auxiliary.

Surviving her are her husband, four sons, Albert of Frankford, George and John of Stirling; and Ernest at home; four daughters, Miss Nina Carlisle, of Belleville; Miss Marion Carlisle, of Belleville; Mrs. Joseph Grilla, Sidney township and Mrs. Cecil Bedell, Campbellford. A daughter, Martha died some years ago.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon, June 19th, from her late residence to Carmel United Church where an impressive service was conducted by the Rev. A. M. Laverty of the Stirling United Church.

Interment took place in Carmel cemetery. The bearers were Orno Sharpe, Elmer Weaver, Maxwell Sharpe, Robert Farrell, Charles Johnston and Harry Brown.

MRS. ELLA GLADYS MACINNES

After an illness of two months, Mrs. Ella Gladys MacInnes, died at the family residence late Saturday evening. She was born in Frankford, being the daughter of Mrs. Sheldon Osterhout and has resided in the community for the past twenty-two years and formerly at Frankford. The late Mrs. MacInnes was an active worker in the church and Sunday School of Holloway Baptist Church and was also a member of the Women's Institute.

Surviving are her mother, two sons, Floyd Sheldon MacInnes, of Ottawa, Donald Everett MacInnes at home, four sisters, Mrs. Arthur Sine, Zion Hill; Mrs. (Rev.) G. A. Beatty, Mountain, Ont.; Mrs. James Forner, Port Arthur; Mrs. E. P. McLaughlin, New York City; and two brothers, Sheldon A. Osterhout and John D. Osterhout of Toronto.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, from her late residence to Holloway Baptist Church, for service at 2:30 p.m. Interment in Giffin cemetery.

Mount Pleasant

On Friday evening, June 14th about fifty folks from Mount Pleasant gathered near midnight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hay and tendered Gladys and her husband a charavari. All viewed the wedding gifts and enjoyed a treat of bananas, chocolates and peanuts.

Double Shower

On Friday evening, June 14, a large number of Mount Pleasant folk as well as several relatives and friends gathered at Mount Pleasant church hall and tendered to two newly married couples a shower.

Mr. Irwin Reid was chairman for the occasion and extended greetings and best wishes to the newlyweds. Mrs. Marguerite McMullen led a round of community singing with Mrs. Kenneth Weaver as accompanist.

Mrs. Will Jeffs delighted with three musical numbers. Mrs. Percy MacMullen contributed two readings "A Perfect Husband" for Gladys and "First Date" for Mac. Mrs. Henry Mudd sang two vocal selections. Miss Edna Hubble read "How to manage a Husband". The two couples were given seats of honour at the front of the hall and Harold White read an address to Mac and Muriel which was signed by Harvey Couch, Ross Jeffs, Harold White, Norman McConnell and Don Johnson.

Norman McConnell made the presentation of an eight piece set of hand painted china in cornflower pattern, also several individual gifts from relatives and friends consisting of linen, glass and pictures.

Mac and Muriel both graciously replied thanking for the gifts and inviting one and all to visit them when they are settled.

Miss Ruth Rose read an address of appreciation to Gladys and Delbert which was signed by Fern Weaver, Una Spencer, Edna Hubble, Nellie Smith and Ruth Rose.

Gladys was the recipient of a large array of lovely gifts which she and Delbert opened. They both said thank you for such a pleasant evening and invited the folks to visit them at Warkworth.

LAC. Will McAdam, Toronto, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McAdam and left on Tuesday for Lachine, Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Lawrence, Mr. Marwood Mitchell, Oak Heights, near Warkworth, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Carman and family, North Marmora, attended the shower of Mr. and Mrs. D. Mitchell.

Among the guests who attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Sharp, were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson, West Huntingdon, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Watson, Mrs. Clifford Clancy and Ruth, Wellmans, Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp, Hoards, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Donnan and family, Ridge Road, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sine, Warkworth, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson and Dwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thompson, Bethel, Mrs. Fred Clarke and Wayne, Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown and Miss Doreen Hall, Carmel, Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey, Rawdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer entertained on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Don Holbert, Pauline and Barbara, Molra, Miss Hazel Mackenzie, Burnbrae, and Mr. Don Spencer.

On Sunday a letter of greetings was read from Osborne Smith, Peterboro, who was unable to attend the 75th anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Clare, Norma and George, Corbyville, Mrs. Frank Easton and Fernie, of Thurlow, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Meiklejohn, Esther and Denton, Rylestone, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Jeffs.

Miss Evelyn Melville, Havelock, attended anniversary at Mount Pleasant. Miss Grace Melroy, Molra, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sharp.

Mr. John Coggins, Burnbrae, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. White. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Saries and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Saries, Salem, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeffs.

Over 100 spectators attended the ball game Thursday evening at Will Hubble's farm when Mount Pleasant beat the Bell Telephone for the second time that week; the score 36-9. Irwin Potts won laurels as pitcher and was given credit for several wins while Will Jeffs was an exceptionally good man behind the plate.

The previous game was played at the high school grounds and Mount Pleasant won the score.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Spencer entertained Rev. F. G. Joblin, Port Perry, Rev. Frederick Joblin, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Todd, Wellmans, and Mrs. Will Mackenzie, Burnbrae, on anniversary.

'Welcome Home' Celebration For Veterans of Rawdon And Stirling

PARADE, PRESENTATION AND PROGRAM—BIG STREET DANCE AT NIGHT — ADMISSION FREE

Citizens of the Township of Rawdon and the Village of Stirling will unite in extending an official welcome home to the members of the armed services from these municipalities at the Stirling Fair Grounds on Monday next, July 1st. The committees in charge have arranged a suitable programme and ask the co-operation of every citizen—young and old—in paying homage to those who did so much for us. It's not only a privilege—but the duty of every citizen to be present.

Parade of Veterans

At 1.30 The event will open with a parade of Veterans, Civic Officials, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs, etc., from the High School grounds to the Stirling Fair Grounds at 1.30 p.m. The Stirling Citizens' Band will lead the parade and furnish music throughout the afternoon. Prizes will be given for the best decorated car or bicycle.

On arrival at the Fair Grounds the following programmes will be presented.

The King by Stirling Citizens' Band. General Welcome. Address by F. Wilson, M.P.P. Last Post—W.O. 2 J. B. Furnish, Trumpeter. Presentation to Servicemen—Reeve W. C. West and Reeve J. Morrison.

Sports—Bicycle Races for boys and girls; 50 and 100 yd. dash for boys and girls; 50 yd. dash for servicemen only; softball and games.

Refreshment Booths

Refreshment booths will be operated on the grounds by the Red Cross and a bingo booth by the local Chapter of the I.O.D.E. Street Dance AT Night

In the evening a big street dance will be held free to all. Music will be supplied by Jones' Orchestra. Everyone is invited, so let's make Monday next, July 1st, one long to be remembered by the citizens of Rawdon and Stirling.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Gay, of Stirling wishing to announce the engagement of their second eldest daughter, Marie Evaline, to Eugene Morton Spencer, son of Mrs. Fernie Spencer, Foxboro, the wedding to take place on July 20.

School Teacher Honoured

On Wednesday morning, June 26th, the pupils and teachers gathered in Miss Armstrong's room when Pamela Skillcorn read the following address:

Dear Miss Armstrong: We are gathered here this morning to show you how much we appreciate your kindness and efforts in helping us a little further along the paths of knowledge.

We realize at times that we have made this difficult for you but know that you have always understood that we are just children and act very young at times.

We of other classrooms have enjoyed very much your teaching of Art and know that in the past year our art work has greatly improved.

By your Christian living you have taught us much that we can copy. In your cubicle of advancing your own education we wish you every success and feel assured that you will enjoy your work at University greatly.

May you find the road of time A pleasant place to travel May love and cheer go on with you Each worry to unravel.

On behalf of the staff and pupils of Stirling Public School we wish you to accept this gift as a token of our regard for you. Signed Pamela Skillcorn, Don Meyers, Isabelle Fox and teachers.

June 19th and Daisy Ellen Kent presented her with a week end bag on behalf of the pupils and teachers, after which Miss Armstrong suitably thanked everyone.

After the singing of "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow" the pupils retired to their classrooms.

Veterans Shun!

All War Veterans who can be in Stirling on Monday, July 1st, are cordially invited to join the parade in a body. Veterans will wear their service ribbons and medals when possible, also berets and arm bands.

STREET TREATED FOR DUST

The village streets were given a treatment of calcium chloride this week to allay the dust nuisance. The efforts of the village fathers will be much appreciated by the housewives.

Bride-To-Be Entertained

On Friday evening, June 21st, Mrs. Ed. Gorman entertained at Bridge in honour of Miss Bernadette McGee, whose marriage takes place this week.

The prize winners were Misses Marguerite O'Brien and Beryl Linnen, who in turn gave their gifts to the guest of honour.

Mrs. Bill Bolte presented Bernadette with a table cloth, a little remembrance gift from these present.

"Bern" quite graciously expressed her thanks for the gifts and to the hostess.

Working For Achievement Day

Great activity is taking place in Hastings County this week in preparation for the Girls' Homemaking Club Achievement Days at Maple Leaf on June 29th and Stirling on July 4th. Slips, which the girls have made as part of the project, "Being Well Dressed and Well Groomed", are being washed and ironed and labelled. Work is being done on the "Record Books" which must be fully completed for the big day. Girls are practicing darning and patching so they will be sure to get the stitches just right when it is their turn to show how proficient they will be sure to get the stitches just right when it is their turn to show how proficient they have become in the art of keeping their clothes in.

St. Andrew's S. S. Picnic

On Wednesday afternoon the children of St. Andrew's Sunday School gathered at Seales' Beach, Oak Lake, for their annual outing.

A programme of races was carried out with the following results:

Mrs. Clarke Rodgers' class—1st, Carol Ray; 2nd, Judy Broadworth.

Beaver Boys' Class—1st, Jimmy McIntosh; 2nd, Ralph Ray; 3rd, Ray Hermiston.

Mrs. Rollins' class—1st, Shirley Starks; 2nd, Ruth Tulloch.

Three-legged race—1st, Carolyn Rollins and Yvonne Sleeper; 2nd, Muriel Devolin and Margaret Kent; 3rd, Ray Hermiston and Jimmy McIntosh.

Girls' ball-throwing contest—1, Mary Agnes Fox; 2nd, Isabelle Fox; 3rd, Doreen Fox.

Boys' ball-throwing contest—1st, Ray Hermiston; 2nd, Jimmy McIntosh; 3rd, Bobby Eggleton.

Most of the children then took part in a treasure hunt. Twelve bags had been hidden about the grounds. Finders enjoyed the orange found in the bag.

While the parents prepared supper, the children enjoyed a swim. At six o'clock all sat down to a table laden with food. The Sunday School provided ginger ale and ice cream for all and for the children at least the picnic proved a very happy event. Arrangements for the afternoon were made by Mr. C. Tummon, superintendent, and Jack Hermiston, secretary-treasurer. To them much credit is due as well as to the teachers and parents who were present to lend a hand.

Stirling Loses To Mount Pleasant

Stirling softballers continued their losing ways on Tuesday evening, when they went down to defeat on their home diamond at the hands of Mount Pleasant to the tune of 16-13. The locals started well and led 12-3 at one time in the game but one bad inning of errors or omission and commission washed their lead away. Bill Jeffs star catcher of Mt. Pleasant, had to retire during the game when hit in the eye, by a foul tip. Irwin Potts was on the mound for the winners while Don Rogers and Dafee divided the pitching chores for the locals.

Other Games

In the other games on Tuesday, Glen Ross defeated Springbrook 17-6 and Bonarlaw downed Bethel 7-5 in a thriller played at the Stirling Fair Grounds.

The league standing is as follows:

	W	L	Pts.
Glen Ross	6	1	12
Bonarlaw	5	2	10
Mt. Pleasant	5	3	10
Bethel	2	4	4
Bell Telephone	2	4	4
Springbrook	2	4	4
Stirling	2	6	4

Memorial Held For W.O. J. Wood

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH CONDUCTED BY THE REV. A. M. LAVERTY

Sunday at 2.30 p.m. a Memorial Service for Warrant Officer John Wood, 429 Bomber Squadron, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood of Ridge Road, Stirling and brother of Raeburn and Irene, was held in St. Paul's. The service was conducted by the Minister, The Rev. A. M. Laverty, B.A., B.D., assisted by the Rev. W. H. V. Walker of St. Andrew's. Mr. G. L. Clute was at the organ and directed the choir in a beautiful rendition of G. L. Creed's lovely song "An Airman's Prayer"; he also accompanied Mr. William Reynolds who sang in splendid voice "There Is No Death" by Geoffrey O'Hara.

The RCAF detachment from No. 1 Air Training Command was under Warrant Officer John Silver, M.B.E., and was composed entirely of Senior and Junior NCO's; Warrant Officer John Furnish blew The Last Post and Reveille. During the service an official RCAF photographer took several pictures. To conclude the Two Minutes Silence, Warrant Officer Silver recited "They shall not grow old...."

The church was beautifully decorated with flowers centering on the Communion Table where the late Warrant Officer's picture was placed beside the Memorial Cross and the two framed by red roses, the gift of the family. The Communion Table was covered by the Union Jack which the Reverend Laverty, as an O/S Padre, had carried with him and employed in the discharge of his duties.

The Minister spoke from the text Revelation 7—What are these which are arrayed in white robes and whence came they?—These are they which passed through great tribulation and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb" and spoke fittingly and feelingly of the price of the peace we now enjoy, the nature of the "tribulation" through which men pass who make the run to Germany's "Happy Valley" through flak so thick you could walk on it and how all of us are forever their debtors. He urged his hearers not to be guilty of the sin of omission poignantly put by on of Marlborough's veterans 150 years ago—

"God and the soldier we adore In time of danger, not before; The danger passed and all things righted God is forgotten and the soldier slighted."

This was, he continued, no occasion for "sticky sentimentality" but for the lifting up of our hearts in thanksgiving that such a lad had lived among us and had the courage to range the dim, far-off reaches of God's eternity—per ardua, ad astra!

"Nothing is here for tears, nothing to wail Or knock the breast; no weakness, no contempt, Dispraise or blame; nothing but well and fair, And what may quiet us in a death so noble."

WELCOME-HOME CELEBRATION

All roads will lead to Stirling Fair Grounds on Monday next, July 1st, for the joint Welcome Home Celebration for the members of the Armed Services from Rawdon Township and Stirling Village. Every member of the Armed forces from the district, together with his family and friends, is cordially invited to be present.

The committee in charge has arranged for a parade of Village and Township Officials and the members of the Armed Forces, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs, etc., headed by Stirling Citizens' Band, from the High School Grounds to the Fair Grounds at 1.30 p.m. Citizens are also asked to decorate their cars and join in the procession.

Following the arrival of the parade at the grounds, an official welcome will be given, followed in order by a moment's silence, the presentation of mementoes by the Reeves of the municipalities and a programme of sports, including softball, bicycle races for boys and girls etc. In the evening a street dance, open to all, will complete the day's entertainment. Booths will be operated on the grounds by the Red Cross and I.O.D.E.

Citizens are urged to decorate their homes and places of business for the occasion, and everyone is invited to join in showing our appreciation for what the members of the Armed Services have done for us.

WHEN IN DOUBT DON'T DO IT — SAFEST RULE

With summer vacation season upon us a word regarding safety on the water is timely. Already many drownings have been repeated throughout the province due to people taking unnecessary risks.

In an effort to cut down the toll of human lives, ten commandments of safety on the water have been issued by a Merl Harding, physical education secretary of National Council Y.M.C.A.

1. Never go swimming alone. Even a good swimmer can get into trouble, and if he is alone, there will be no one to aid him or go for help.

2. Never go swimming at an unguarded spot. The safest swimming places are beaches or pools adequately protected by skilled life guards. The most dangerous are docks, piers, river banks or other unguarded spots.

3. Never dive into strange water. You don't know what is on the bottom, and might crack your head on hidden rocks, or logs, or run into other dangers.

4. Don't show off in the water. Many an innocent prank has had fatal results, particularly if in deep water or swift currents. Besides being dangerous, a show-off is annoying to other swimmers and spoils their fun.

5. Don't attempt a rescue unless you are a strong swimmer. Every year many lives are lost because weak swimmers' noble impulses overcome their discretion. If you can't swim, you'll do the most good by finding someone who can. Even if you are a good swimmer, don't swim to the rescue if you can reach the victim with a boat, rope, or pole.

6. Wait for from one to two hours after a meal before going in the water. Also, if you have been exercising or working, be sure to cool off before plunging into cold water. Cramps can result from over-exertion or sudden changes of temperature, as well as from swimming on a full stomach.

7. Don't rock the boat. This is old advice but it is still sound. Fooling around in a small boat or canoe is a frequent cause of accidents. If you can't swim, stay out of small boats.

8. Pay strict attention to all warning signs. They were not put up by busybodies, but by authorities who had your personal safety in mind. Don't go beyond the safe limits marked by ropes or other boundaries.

9. When swimming or rowing with the tide or current, keep in mind that it will be "uphill, and twice the work, coming back." At the same time, remember that you should "go out like a lamb, and back in like a lion." Do your sprinting toward the shore, not away from it.

10. Know your limitations. Don't try to swim across a lake or river just because someone dares you. A good rule is: When in doubt don't do it.

NATIONAL UNITY

"There is no field in which the question of national unity is more important than in the field of health," writes Dr. Gordon Bates in an editorial entitled "National Unity" in the current summer issue of Health, official magazine of the Health League of Canada. Dr. Bates is General Director of the Health League and editor of the magazine.

"Canada is growing up. But Canada like all countries will only acquire full membership, assured status and finally leadership in the federation of the world by virtue of the physical and mental health of all Canadians.

"It is not sufficient that one or several sections of Canada should have low rates of sickness and poverty, that the citizens of only some areas should be well fed, well housed, healthy and long lived. It must be a matter of concern to all Canadians that some parts of Canada have lagged behind others. The great objective should be steadily advancing standards in all parts of the Dominion.

"This objective requires a continuous health education program for the whole of Canada conceived along the broadcast lines involving the participation of as many units of all varieties as possible. Only by such means will official departments concerned with the health and welfare of the people be strengthened, only by such nation-wide effort will laws for the preservation of health and the abolition of poverty be passed in all Provinces except only in some.

"A rotten apple will affect a barrel of good apples. Communicable disease will spread from a neglected area to a healthy area or the criminal in the slums may rob and kill his wealthy neighbor. The objectives of humanitarianism are not parochial but national and world-wide. And as the objectives of universal humanitarianism are realized there will be no slums or disease anywhere to infect the rest of the world.

"If we in Canada realize the significance of those ideals we will work not only for the health of parts of our country but always for the health and welfare of all Canadians."

— V —

The strawberry season is here, and the crop is reported as good.

— V —

Citizens are grateful to the village fathers who have had the streets given a treatment of calcium chlorid to allay the dust nuisance.

— V —

There are still some thoughtless motorists who persist in parking in front of private driveways along Front and Mill Streets on Saturday nights. Don't say we didn't warn you if you get "pinched" for the offense.

— V —

The annual complaints of dogs destroying flower beds and gardens in the village are to be heard almost daily. In the absence of any municipal by-law governing the canines, owners should show some consideration for their neighbours and keep their pets on their own premises at this time of year.

— V —

This is the time of year to begin the annual anti-fly campaign and from now on "Swat the Fly" will be a universal slogan. The common fly is a nuisance to the good health and well being of the people. Citizens should screen their houses and keep the flies away from their food in order to eliminate this pest.

— V —

The fool season lasts for twelve months of every year. In the fall the fool who "didn't know it was loaded" occupies the spotlight. In the winter the one who starts the fire with the coal oil can is not yet extinct, even if the person who looks for a gas leak with a lighted match runs him a close race for a place in the obituary column. But in the summer the fool who experiments with a canoe leads all the rest. His season is just climbing to its height. Of course, the one who rocks the boat is a full brother. You will find both of them in the news columns, in the morgue quite often. Moral: Don't be a fool!

Uncle Hy Says

When the village decided a new school to build, and all opposition to it had been killed, there was one doubtful taxpayer, an enigma he was, he never would state where he stood for a cause, if with the opposition he tailed, he was surely opposed, if with the favorable he talked, he was as they proposed, but everyone knew him as a man of pretense, so they called him, they did, Old Straddle the Fence. It was always that way with Old Straddle the Fence, yet there must have been others to aid his defence, when the ballots were counted, he polled a high vote, but as useful in office as some nanny goat, he was canny and tricky, evasive and coy, a mixture of adult and ten-year-old boy, but he got a rude jolt when the folks said no more, and sent back home to look after his store.

Now that type of man in this day and this age, has no where to go, for on every page of every newspaper of any pretense, you can't find a word for a straddle the fence, but there's many a paragraph, many the line, for the man who hews straight with his eyes on the line, for the man who stands up and once taking his stand is steadfast and true, is the price of the land.

Mt. Pleasant Anniversary

In commemoration of the seventy-fifth Anniversary of Mount Pleasant Annular of Mount Pleasant Hubble Hill Church, Rawdon.

There's our old church at home my forefathers built

Where a child in the pew with my parents I sat

Where they taught me to pray,

Where they read me the page

Which in infancy days, is the solace

of age,

My heart 'mid all changes where'er I may roam

Never loses its love for the old church at home

For 'twas there by the side of parents I knelt

In the old church at home

That my forefathers built.

It was not for its splendor that old church was dear

It was not that the rich or the noble were there

But 'twas there we found Jesus, our Saviour so dear

And on the hill by its side sleep our loved ones, so near.

So dearer by far than proud turret or dome

Is the church of our fathers, the old church at home

For 'twas there by the side of my mother I knelt

In the old church, at home my forefathers built.

And still in my dreams where'er I may roam

Sweet visions will come of the old church at home

And soon we shall go to that land of the blest

To meet there with loved ones who have long been at rest

For 'tis there up in Heaven, pearly white we shall sing

In the new church in Heaven

MODELS IN "MOCK-UP" SHOW NEW TRAVEL COMFORTS

THIRTY new first class passenger cars, which will include many novel features to provide additional comforts, are being built for the Canadian National Railways. They will be longer and wider than those now in use, but will have fewer seats. A glass partition will divide each car into two main sections, one seating 32 non-smokers and the other 28 smokers. There will be lounge rooms at either end of the cars, one for men and one for women, equipped with double wash basins and dental bowls. Thermostats will control heat in each section and room of the cars. New illuminated drinking fountains will be operated by an air pressure system.

Before the order for the new day coaches was placed with the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, Montreal, a mock-up was made in the C.N.R.'s Point St. Charles Shops. Every detail was inspected and tried out by executive officers and car designing engineers and architects so that not a single feature would be overlooked which might add to the comfort and convenience of the travelling public.

In these photographs of the mock-up, models are shown demonstrating some of the novel features that will be included in the new cars. Above, a four-passenger section at one end of the car shows the large double-plate, armoured glass window, the new type baggage rack with lights over each of the more comfortable, rotating and reclining seats, the removable tables which will be available in coaches for the first time, and the bright appearance of the interior decoration to give a highly pleasing, restful effect. Below, the ladies lounge room, shows a new design dressing table with adjustable seat, purse shelf and new type overhead lights, and the wide window with venetian blind opposite the new lounge seat.

DIVIDING BEE COLONIES DURING HONEY FLOW

For whatever reason a beekeeper decides on a division of a colony, it should be made during the main honey flow, not later than the last week in July, so that the new colonies may have ample time to become strong for the coming winter. Where honey production is of main importance, divide the colony but once, says C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist, Central Experimental Farm, but where increases of colonies is the principle intention, the following methods may be used:—

(1) At the beginning of the main honey flow when the colony has reached full strength, move all the brood to an upper super above a queen excluder, leaving the queen below on empty combs. If the queen has occupied two chambers, place all brood possible in the upper one, and confine the queen to the lower one. Nine days later split the brood in the supers into two frame nuclei, leaving one queen cell in each nucleus, or, better still, destroy all queen cells and introduce a young laying queen to each.

(2) As soon as the colony becomes strong at the beginning of the main flow, remove two combs of emerging brood with adhering bees, and one comb of honey. Place these in a new hive, fill up the drawn comb and introduce a laying queen. Replace the combs in a parent colony with empty drawn combs. This manipulation can be repeated four or five times during the honey flow.

Make the divisions in the evening and do not disturb them for at least seven days. Assist weak nuclei with brood from very strong colonies and keep them well supplied with feed.

When the first brood is raised to the super, the beekeeper should rear a few queens when the divisions are made using the super containing the brood for finishing the cells. In a former Apirary Reminder (No. 4 "Queen Rearing") full details were given on rearing queens. To obtain a copy, write to the Dominion Apiarist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, or to the nearest Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa, or to the nearest Dominion Experimental Farm.

BEWARE POISON IVY METHODS OF TREATMENT

In choosing the locale for a holiday camp or a picnic or a temporary resting place in a day's outing, the precaution should be taken to make sure that no poison ivy is around. This unpleasant weed can grow anywhere but is rarely met with on cultivated ground. It may be found in dense patches about a foot high, or a small clump, or as a climbing plant twining around trees or crawling along fences. The leaves are in groups of three, glossy green, and in the fall assume autumnal colours. In June the flowers appear. They are small, greenish, and hidden by the leaves. In winter they take the form of hard, round, whitish berries. However, no matter what time of the year, the plant is poisonous in every part—leaves, stem, and roots which are permeated by an oil. On breakage of any part of the plant, the oil is released and contact is made.

The initial stage of poisoning is a mild itching sensation, followed by the development of blisters which become painful oozing sores. Poisoning may also result through anything that has touched the ivy—clothing, kit, shoes, laces, picnic baskets, or even a pet dog or cat. Many treatments have been proposed and used, but when possible the immediate scrubbing of the contacted part with strong laundry soap will effect a cure, if the soap has been used before the oil has penetrated the skin. A common treatment is dabbing the affected parts with a three per cent solution of potassium permanganate or tincture of iodine. Once blisters have been formed, all rubbing should be avoided.

If the attack is severe a doctor should be consulted. Care should be taken to localize infection by painting iodine round the edges of sores, or by using compresses soaked in a two per cent solution of aluminium acetate or by other cooling substance like soda or boracic acid powder. No application should be made when the sores are oozing because they may seal over and aggravate conditions.

CLOVER HAY GOOD FOR POULTRY FEED

Part of the nutrients and part of the cost of feeding poultry may be met by using clover hay, according to poultry authorities of the Dominion of Agriculture. Hay like grass, is a good container and helps keep poultry in good health and plumage. Coarse, tough, over-matured hay is of no use for poultry. They cannot eat much fibre.

To be suitable for poultry clover hay must be cut early and specially prepared. The hay should be cut when buds appear and before blossoms show, two or three weeks before normal cutting time. The procedure is—cut in the morning and leave in swath until three-quarters dry; bring in and spread over dry hay in the mow to the depth of one foot; stow when dry but reduce handling to a minimum because the leaves tend to fall off.

Some farmers cut the hay in the morning, put it up in small cocks; open them up the next morning, and in the afternoon take in the hay. Others use tripods, and the extra labour entailed is justified by the special quality of hay obtained.

For poultry, all free tendrils and leaves should be retained and coarse fibre kept to a minimum. Hay thus matured, may be fed in bulk, chopped or ground, feeding, in bulk being the simplest and least expensive method.

KILL POTATO TOPS TO CONTROL BLIGHT

As a result of investigations of late potato blight and rot in the 1945 crops by the Dominion Plant Pathological Laboratory at Charlottetown, P.E.I., tuber infection may be prevented almost entirely by killing off the potato tops towards the latter end of the growing season and leaving the crop on the ground for at least ten days. During that period the spores die and cannot cause infection, even if they are carried on the tubers into storage. If there are no frosts, it is recommended that the living plants be sprayed with a suitable and quick-acting chemical, such as weed killer. In any case, because of the almost certain presence of late season leaf infection, farmers are urged to adopt top killing as an extra late blight control.

The reason why late blight tuber rot occurs in storage although not apparent at digging time has puzzled many growers. However, it can be easily explained, says R. R. Hurst, in charge of the Charlottetown Laboratory. Actually the plants have been attacked by the blight fungus which produces a great number of spores. These, in turn, contaminate the crop at digging time, germinating and infecting the tubers in storage. Damp storage conditions favour infection, but if good ventilation is provided, and the potatoes kept reasonably dry, the rot will be kept down to a minimum, for, not only do the fungus spores require moisture for germination but they quickly dry up and die in dry air.

POTATO INSECTS CONTROL BY DDT

In experimental work and in actual field practice, DDT has proved so effective against potato insects that growers are advised to use this insecticide on their potato crop in preference to any other, states W. G. Mathewman, Division of Entomology, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture. DDT has given excellent control of the Colorado potato beetle, the potato flea beetle, and the potato leafhopper, while particularly in spray form, it has given good results against potato aphids.

DDT should be mixed with a fungicide to control potato blight. As a spray, DDT may be combined with bordeaux mixture, with any of the fixed coppers, or with the regular sprays, fungicides at the rate of one pound of actual DDT to each 100 gallons liquid. As a dust, DDT is used in three per cent strength combined with a fixed copper and a suitable filler. DDT should not be used in the old copper lime dust because the lime in this combination greatly reduces the toxicity of the poison.

DDT is available on the market in dust form with or without fixed copper, completely mixed and ready for use. It may be obtained also in spray form either as a spray powder or as an emulsifiable liquid, the percentage of the insecticide being indicated on the container.

With DDT preparations, follow the same directions as for calcium arsenate, applying the insecticide as soon as the yellow egg masses of the Colorado potato beetle start hatching. Three applications probably will be sufficient for the Colorado beetle, but to control leafhoppers, flea beetles, and blight the plants should be sprayed or dusted with DDT and a fungicide throughout the summer until the tops die naturally. This will require six to eight applications at 10-day intervals. Best results will be secured only if a determined effort is made to cover the lower as well as the upper surfaces of the leaves.

GOOD RANGE SAVES FEED

This year more than ever before there has been a tremendous demand for foods of all kinds for export to the starving people of Europe and Asia. Canada has done her share through heavy agricultural production and by controlling the domestic use of her own products.

There has been so much grain exported that our supplies for feeding purposes are no more than barely enough to feed the large number of flocks which we have in Ontario this year.

Here are two ways to save feed —

- (1) Provide your growing chickens with good pasture.
- (2) Supply your birds with a balanced highly nutritious feed.

Real Reasons

Since Prime Minister Mackenzie King shortened his stay abroad to return home there have been in circulation numerous stories purporting to explain this haste to come back to Ottawa. One story claimed that this was due to complications arising at home over the long delayed budget. Another widely publicized story alleged that this was due to the serious disputes in the rank and file on the flag issue which found a joint Senate-Commons committee reduce 22,000 suggestions to a mere two flags. Still another rumour attributed the cause to events or decisions abroad from where had come reports of studies of defence revisions of the Commonwealth. Likewise, there have been other stories offered in explanation for the sudden and quick return of the Prime Minister to Ottawa.

However, it is hinted backstage in Ottawa that, while other reasons may be top secrets so that much heard in gossip may be only idle speculation yet it is a fact that the Prime Minister has head of the Administration, probably deemed it as most advisable to merely come back quickly on account of the multiplicity of urgent current problems facing the Administration, including the long delayed budget, the serious labor troubles, the "hot" flag dispute, the grave anti-inflation battle, the growing fuel crisis, the severe housing shortage, the controversial issue of the redistribution of seats in Parliament, and others, all involving delicate and contentious debates. When it is remembered by those outside this capital that so far in this session of Parliament weeks and weeks have been taken up in serious debates over issues considered less contentious than those mentioned as facing Parliament, including some measures upon which there were agreements in basic principles, such as the loan to the Motherland, Canadian Citizenship Act, etc., it is clear why the Prime Minister had to shorten his stay abroad this being hinted backstage in Ottawa, in order to attend the session where numerous urgent problems await immediate attention.

Publicity and Agriculture

It is reported in Ottawa that the total cost of the publicity personnel in the Department of Agriculture is $13,553.12 including cost of living bonus and travelling expenses.

Beef and Price Ceiling

Minister of Finance, Rt. Hon. J. L. Halsey, has made the following statement in the House of Commons on the retail price ceiling of beef, "I would not like to give any encouragement whatever to the idea that the retail ceiling on beef may be raised. The wholesale ceiling on red and blue brand beef was adjusted a few weeks ago as an experimental measure. There has been much dispute whether the retail margin was too great or not. If the present arrangement is not working out well, consideration will have to be given to something better, but as I said at the beginning I cannot encourage at all the ideas that there will be any raising of the retail price."

Reestablishment Credits

The Canadian Government has paid out no less than $12,677,809.4 in re-establishment credits during the past year of 1945 and from January 1, 1946 until May 31, 1946 such payments have reached a total sum of $126,108,437.43 during the time. This has been reported in Ottawa by the Minister of Veterans Affairs, Hon. Ian Mackenzie.

Science Pays

It has been revealed in Parliament that the National Research Council had earned $4,360,997 in the six years ended April 1 in rewards or payments for its services in the interests of private industry as well as other enterprises.

"Tie-In" Illegal

It is emphasized in Ottawa that "tie-in" sales, whereby farmers may be forced by dealers to purchase flour any secondary commodity, when buying feed for stock, are entirely illegal since the regulations forbid specifically such sales. This is the reaction in Ottawa to the rumour that "tie-ins" sales are being forced or some farmers who, it is pointed out here, can report such abuse to any agent of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Principal Price Changes

In the latest report on the cost-of-living in Canada, this being a closely watched item now in Ottawa on account of the labour troubles, price control disputes, etc., it is shown that there was a point change upwards in April 1946, of 0.7 since it was 120.1 in March as against 120.8 in April, with the index, based on 1935-39 being equal to 100, in foods rising from 133.1 to 136.1, clothing from 123.1 to 123.2 home furnishings and services from 120.4 to 120.7, and miscellaneous from 110.9 to 111.0. The principal price changes between March and April occurred in increases in butter, pork products and vegetables in foods; women's wear, footwear, in clothing and furniture, hardware, and dishes in home furnishings as well as in gasoline.

Said In The Capital

"The best security we yet have for peace in the world is the British Commonwealth of Nations," said in an address in Ottawa the principal of Queen's University, Kingston, Dr. R. C. Wallace. "We have the greatest degree of stabilization we have ever had in the Dominion of Canada," said Canada's Minister of Agriculture Hon. James G. Gardiner, emphasizing that this was accomplished through the Government's price stabilization programme and indicating that prices were stabilized on a higher level than for any three-year period since the First World War. "It is obvious to everyone that freezing producer prices at the 1941 level brought undue inequity to agriculture because agricultural prices had not risen after the depression to the same degree as those of manufactured goods," said G. Russell Boucher, M.P. in Parliament. "Since 1941 the farmer has found himself handicapped by the fact that labour has been getting better wages and shorter hours of work in industry outside agriculture. The rural areas have been denied of farm help. Because they wanted action, we sent the Canadian fire-fighters to the hottest spots in Britain, Plymouth, Portsmouth, Southampton and Bristol," declared in Ottawa Cmdr. Sir Aylmer Firebrace, CBE, R.N., chief of the British National Fire Service.

Disturbed Conditions and Budget

With the annual budget being discussed by everyone in Ottawa from the lowly taxpayers who feel that they should not be even liable to such taxation to so-called "big business" which wants more inducements to carry out postwar plans, it is now an inescapable fact along Parliament Hill that higher taxation in general than anticipated or desired will have to continue for a time, at least, until conditions become more settled both in Canada and abroad.

It must be emphasized, and emphasized strongly, that failure to agree on the part of Dominion-Provincial Governments may some day lead to the creation of two distinct taxation structures or sets of taxation which might not prove popular with many Canadians in a practical sense outside of other possible complications arising from such conditions. But this point is not the whole story by any means, nor does it account for the rather show process of gradual return to peacetime budgets. There are a number of what well-informed observers are inclined to call "uncontrollable" conditions affecting the economy of the Federal Government at this time and these, more than any thing else, explain the details of the budget any decisions in certain lines or directions.

The Federal Government is faced with a situation now which causes certain normal increases to be affected throughout its expenditures and this is reflected in the main estimates for the current fiscal year of 1946-47 stressing in no uncertain way that return to peacetime economy in Canada will have to be rather slower than most Canadians seem to realize, though the actual fighting has been ended for such a long time now. The total estimates for the year asked for $2,769,349,815 for ordinary and demobilization and reconversion expenditures as compared with $4,650,540,645 for main war and demobilization in 1945-46, with the ordinary expenditures for the current year showing an increase of no less than $207,963,000 over the ordinary costs of 1945-1946. This increase is accounted for primarily by various items totalling $104,162,000 which were attributed, directly or indirectly to the war, and then there was an additional $60,000,000 to provide for the "Baby Bonus" or Family Allowance payment for a full year as against only part of the previous fiscal year. The increased items attributed to the war included an advance of $91,122,000 in interest on the public debt and other debt charges and $13,040,000 increase in expenditures on veterans' affairs, including the Veterans' Land Act.

In the statement of the Federal Government on these estimates it is pointed out in Ottawa that "certain normal increases are included through out the estimates to provide only for urgently necessary administrative and operating expenses maintenance projects deferred during the war years intensifying certain scientific investigations and research and the continued orderly expansion of our commercial and other relations at home and abroad." It is also stated that "reductions have been affected whenever possible, but, after six years of restriction on normal peacetime expenditures, many deferred maintenance obligations are unavoidable."

Weekly Wind Up

Although the Second World War has ended a relatively long time ago and wartime activities in this capital have lessened considerably, yet this overcrowded capital does not suggest the expected decrease of personnel in the civil service, even if a certain percentage of personnel has disappeared in recent months, with the Unemployment Insurance Commission's Department and Veterans Affairs Department being witnessed by actual increases in staff. Royal Canadian Navy ship will train reservists in the Great Lakes, the St. Lawrence and off the East coast this summer. The total for nine out of 43 departments, boards and commissions publicity department is shown in Ottawa to be no less than $248,525. "Did you ever hear of anybody knocking a theatre because they couldn't get a seat?" asked Senator McGreen in a committee hearing when fear was expressed by someone that too much encouragement may be given tourists and they would flood Canada, finding accommodation lacking and the returning to their homes "knocking the country," with Senator McGreen adding that the popularity of a place was increased by the increased number of persons who visited it. Dr. Frantisek Pavlasek, Czechoslovak Minister to Canada and who has had one of the longest stays in Canada, is leaving Ottawa for home July 1. He has been in Canada since 1934 and he had the adventure of a visit from the German consul in Canada after Munich. Dr. Fokner, who demanded the keys of his official office. Dr. Pavlasek refused and he had the subsequent pleasure of seeing the Germans put back in their place as well as his country's freedom restored. When a speaker in the House of Commons suggested that the return of Mr. King would be accompanied by his taking the lead "in trying to get the session over before the very hot weather" or at least that this was his hope, considerable desk-pounding from all sides of the House stressed the desires of the other members on this point.

KINSMEN CLUB TO RUN CONTEST FOR PRETTIEST GIRL

An opportunity for some lucky Belleville or Belleville district girl to represent this city at the Hamilton Centennial beauty contest, there to vie for the "Miss Canada" title, is being afforded by the Kinsmen Club of Belleville at their forthcoming summer carnival when a bathing beauty contest will be held.

The contest will run each of the four nights of the carnival with "Miss Belleville" to be chosen on the final evening of the performance. Competent judges will decide on the lucky winner.

Really worth while prizes of both cash and merchandise are being offered by the club members with first prize being a cash award of $75; second prize $50, and third prize $25. Additional prizes of merchandise will be given.

The winner of the Belleville contest will have her expenses paid to appear in the Hamilton beauty contest, the winner there to have an all-expense trip to Hollywood and a possible movie try-out.

The carnival committee for local Kinsmen emphasizes that the Belleville contest will be conducted along the best possible plan with absolutely no force or comedy. Contestants will be in charge of the local "Kinettes" while an expert hairdresser will be on hand in order that each of the contestants may appear at her very best. Standard dress for the contest will be bathing suits and high heeled shoes.

With the carnival scheduled for June 26-29, the local committee is desirous of having applications in as soon as possible and potential contestants are urged to apply immediately to J. F. Lang, Kinsmen Club of Belleville.

Hello Homemakers! Everybody's talking about freezing Fruits and Vegetables this year. No wonder! Everytime I plan a week-end in Woodstock my sister has the regulation boxes the blanching kettle and everything ready to prepare some garden produce for the Locker. They have been storing asparagus, strawberries, peas, beans and corn for years and — in large quantities. She says it's wonderful to grow a plot of Thomas Laxton and Telephone peas and put away 50 or 60 cartons in record time. She has tried other varieties, but the best kind are listed in Professor Truscott's book on Preparation of Frozen Food. This valuable folder is available at O.A.C. Guelph, and Agricultural Representative offices.

What about the new electric Home Freezers? They are just what the time unit does an A1 job. The method of preparing food for the table is economical, time-saving and simple and the results are good. The manufacturers have sent their instruction books and these include splendid suggestions for satisfaction. By the way, the Home Freezer consists of a freeze and storage compartments. Foods to be frozen are first placed in the freeze section and when frozen are moved to the storage space. The freezing division can also be used to store food and to freeze cooked foods, including stews, roasted fowl, unbaked pastry and baked pies (all these are thoroughly cooled first). Eggs as well as other perishables may be preserved by freezing. These electric units are valuable devices for those who are long-sighted in the business of homemaking, and we, in our Canadian homes, have every right to be.

TAKE A TIP

Watch closely the maturity of such vegetables as beans and peas and harvest them for freezing as soon as possible after harvesting.

The variety of vegetable has a good deal to do with the colour of the frozen product. Be sure to select those vegetables having intense colour.

Quick blanching (dipping in boiling water for a few seconds) and proper packaging are two important factors affecting the keeping qualities.

Unless you use the brine pack, fill the package full, tamping the box to pack the vegetables in the package.

The containers should be liquid-tight or sealed in cellophane with a hot iron.

Storage should be at zero or even lower.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. T. W. asks whether it is necessary to pack fruit in sugar or syrup for freezing storage?

Answer: Packing in sugar helps maintain good colour, texture and flavour during freezing but it is not necessary.

Mrs. V. P. asks: Do you suggest dry sugar or syrup for packing fruit for freezing?

Answer: Dry sugar draws some moisture from fruit and may shrink it, but this is seldom important, especially if fruit is to be cooked. Fruits keep their size and shape better in syrup than in dry sugar but they are more difficult to pack and freeze.

Mrs. S. M. asks: What happens if you pack fruit without sugar?

Answer: Fruit may darken. To prevent darkening, light coloured fruits may be blanched or dipped in sodium bisulphite or the commercial preservative tablet. Fruit treated with bisulphite is not suitable for eating uncooked but may be cooked as stewed fruits, sauces and in pies.

Mrs. T. B. says: Crushed fruit is more attractive for shortcakes if a few whole pieces are put in. Crushed fruit stores well in freezing lockers.

C.P.R. Tailors Chairs for Comfort

FIT THE BODY: Scientifically recorded measurements of 3,867 persons in seated posture was devised for comfort, which the Canadian Pacific Railway is installing in 35 new air-conditioned passenger coaches on which delivery is expected early in 1947. Built to "give" with body curves and distribute weight properly the new chair is of research done by Dr. Earnest Hooton of Harvard University whose experts took the measurements of the better than three thousand volunteers in railway terminals of two of America's largest cities. For shoe-shedders an adjustable footrest is provided, (inset), it having been determined women like to ride in stocking feet as they nap. Cost of the new chairs alone will be more than $300,000, with this figure being part of a four year equipment order. The first large passenger included in the appropriation. The Canadian Pacific express-baggage cars as well as passenger coaches is the first railway in the Dominion to approve the new chairs and it will further pioneer in the 35 new coaches with the installation of the first electrically refrigerated water coolers on a Canadian road.

BY NORMAN NEWCOMB

CHAPTER I

There was a lilt to her gait and a broad smile on her lips as Stewardess Sally Alliston swished through Comet Airline's Employees' Entrance at La Guardia Field. It had been a good flight; easy to please passengers, a wild and woolly run before a threatening thunderhead, and the glow of a perfect sunset to guide them in a landing. Pleasant people, a good job with a future, excitement, beauty — what more could any reasonable miss of twenty-one ask of life?

She purred contentedly as First Officer Jimmy Kennedy detached himself from a cluster of admiring operations agents — ever the wolf under perfect control!

"I could give you a lift to the city, cherub," he offered. "A pal of mine left his car for me."

"Sorry Jimmy, I already have a date."

His face clouded over. "But what is wrong with me? I'm young, I know how to show a girl a good time. Doggone it, why do you always say no?"

She swung round to face him, purple eyes deep pools of laughter. "Can it be that God's gift to aching womanhood is on his knees pleading?"

"Nuts cherub. I never plead. Curiosity, that's all. As a matter of fact, I really don't go for you. Me, I like women who are more emotional. Cold cut Sal, that's you."

"I'm flattered."

He scurried after her and gripped her arm roughly. His face, rugged and creased by the sun, was apologetic.

"Aw I didn't mean that. But it makes me boil when you start acting snippy."

Look, let's go in to the city and have dinner together. Cross my heart, I won't make a single pass."

"But I really do have a date, Jimmy."

Even as she said it, the horn of the gleaming limousine parked before the airline building blared musically. He looked and his dancing gray eyes bulged. "With that?"

"With that, Jimmy."

"But you're making a mistake, you know. I bet he's a stuffed shirt. I bet he's never once really made love to you."

"He respects me, Jimmy."

"Famous last words. Women men respect die apisterns."

Again the horn blared and again she turned to the car, almost bumping into Captain Mike White in her hurry. He set his bag on the pavement and shook his head wonderingly.

"You mean you really are turning Jimmy down?"

"I am."

"Good. As a matter of fact, congratulations." He extended a hand in Jimmy's direction. "Five dollars, chum."

"Hey I'm not licked yet."

"You mean he bet he could date me?" There was awe in Sally's tone.

"You mean he was so sure of himself?"

"Sally, you can't throw away a chance like this. Why I'll even take you to a show."

"Strange, how that plane that just passed deafened me." She smiled just as Roger permitted a little smile to soften the wintry mould of his face as he hopped out of the limousine to help her in. A little man with a big head had been in the employ of the Jethrup family for almost thirty years, first as a gardener, then as a chauffeur. He had also been Uncle Roger to her for more years than she remembered. She kissed his cheek, firmly ignored his cry of outrage and climbed into the front seat.

"Come on, Uncle Roger, I don't want to be late."

"Young women should obey their elders," he muttered getting back behind his beloved wheel. He closed the door with a slam that indicated the depth of his feelings. Roger loved the limousine almost as he loved the Jethrups, and he only banged doors when he was definitely not approving of the world or people.

"What do you think people would say if they saw you sitting up here in front? They'd say that I'd got me a girl, that's what they would say. And what would happen to the Jethrup name, then, huh?"

"I love you, Uncle Roger. I love you with fire."

He was so startled he almost ran the car into a tree. "I'm going to tell your mother, I've been warning her for years. Too much freedom. When I was a young man women knew their place."

"I know my place, Uncle Roger. It's up here in front with you. I am a servant's daughter and I have no right to ride in the master's seat."

"You're not a servant daughter. Your mother is the housekeeper. That isn't a servant's job."

"I still think my place is up front with you."

He'd have died rather than admit it, but she could tell by the way he let the car out that he was pleased. Roger drove fast only when he was very, very pleased.

The heavy car purred smoothly along quiet country roads. I was pretty good thought Sally, just to sit in the front seat and relax.

Presently they rolled to a halt before the deep porch.

Grandfather Jethrup was rocking back and forth in the little hammock as Sally alighted from the car and went up the steps at a brisk run. He removed the cigar from his mouth and smiled graciously.

"Ay, young Sally, got here in time, did you? Philip is home, by the way. Arrived this morning. Looks quite fit."

"Philip is here?" She felt her cheeks burn and lowered her head hastily, but not quite in time to conceal the excited, happy expression. Grandfather Jethrup had only one good eye, but with the aid of a strong lensed monocle he did not ever miss a thing. He hacked to clear his throat and gave her an opportunity to recover, then smiled gently. "My dear I thought we had gone over all that."

"The question is settler sir, I would never do anything to destroy Philip's chances."

"Bully. Bully. By gad, you remind me of my dear departed wife. She was a sensible woman too. Mind, I have nothing against you. I've watched you grow up to become as fine a woman as your mother. But it isn't a question of like or dislike eh? A Jethrup, that's what young Philip is. A Jethrup, my dear. A good marriage, a good merger of two important industries, a wonderful future for a boy. That's what we both want, eh? His happiness and future insured."

"You know that Philip doesn't love Catherine, Mr. Jethrup. He told me so."

The old man plucked his wisp of beard thoughtfully. "I know, young Sally. But he'll come around in time. Philip is a sensible young man. Another year and he'll be ready to do his duty as a Jethrup. A fine boy, Philip. I'm proud of him."

His complacency irritated her. She started to tell him exactly what she thought of an old man who wanted to do all the living and thinking for the young, then remembered her mother and shut her mouth again.

She turned and went into the house as, with a pleased little cackle, the old man turned his attention to his dog.

Philip smiled. He was standing in the little tiled vestibule, as handsome and reserved as ever. She gasped and stopped dead in her tracks, then laughed and held out her hand. In the old days she would have run and flung her arms around his neck, but they weren't children any more, and Philip was engaged.

"How nice to see you again, Philip. Your grandfather was just telling me that you returned today."

"I know. I heard him." He took her hand warmly. "The uniform becomes you, Sally. And how nice looking you have become."

"Have I?" She flashed him a smile as she went into the living-room.

"There may be some truth in your remark that. You're the second man this evening who's implied that I have something on the ball."

"I've always thought so." He pulled up his trouser legs to protect the creases and sat down on the sofa beside her. How many times had they sat thus, and how happy they'd been! Philip had never been high hat. She may have been a servant's daughter, but she had been his paymate, confidante friend.

He laughed self consciously. "It's strange, but I feel awfully embarrassed, Sally. You too?"

"A little. And that's rather silly don't you think? I mean, we were all children then and all our talk was kid stuff. Now you are an adult and a Jethrup, and I—well, I'm what I wanted to be, a stewardess."

"Are you happy, Sally?"

She met his deep brown eyes and smiled faintly. How many times had he asked her that too? "Very happy, Philip. Of course, I miss the country and mother. But I have a lot of fun in New York. You must come to the apartment some evening ad meet Helen. She's an operations agent, only a few years older than I, but quite a little mother. Yes I'm happy."

He studied his shoes a moment, then laughed bitterly. "And I'm not. So much for that old bunk about money being everything. I've not been happy for years."

"Philip!"

Her cry of horror, of sympathy, delighted the plump woman who came slowly into the room. She stopped and smiled gaily.

"Children don't tell me you're quarreling already? Really, I think it is most disgraceful."

Philip came to his feet gallantly. "Just a discussion, Mrs. Alliston. I'll give you five minutes alone with your daughter and then your birthday party begins."

Mrs. Alliston nodded her head, very pleased, as he hurried to join his grandfather on the porch. "Sally, he's a fine boy."

"And you're a fine mother." She charged across the carpet and flung her arms about her neck. "Did you get my present?"

"Sally, you shouldn't have spent so much money. Will you never learn economy?"

"But I spent it for you! It's a fine thing if a girl can't splurge on her own mother!"

Endeavors Class Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. John Moorcroft entertained the members of the Endeavors Class on Tuesday evening for their June Social evening. There was a good attendance present and an excellent programme provided. Mr. Clifford Elliott, of Frankford, a former member of the Class was special speaker, and gave a fine message that was much appreciated by the class members. Others assisting on the program were Mr. Melville Donnan conducting the Scripture reading, Mr. Stewart offering prayer, a duet by Mrs. Mac Sables and Mr. Elmer Post. Readings were given by Mrs. Sandy McCurdy and Mrs. Clifford Elliott and Mrs. Foster Wilson, a duet by Mrs. W. J. Fletcher and Mr. Kenneth Stewart. At the conclusion Mrs. Moorcroft and Mrs. Barragar served a fine lunch.

Reeve Elmer Post attended the sessions of County Council in Belleville last week.

The W.A. of Fuller United Church met at the home of Mrs. Ben Brough on Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Gordon Mitts conducting the meeting.

Mr. Charlie Wright held a very successful bee on Wednesday when the roof of his barn which was demolished in a wind storm some weeks ago was replaced by a modern hip roof.

Mrs. J. R. Stewart and Mr. Kenneth Stewart were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker at Eggleton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wilson, Donald and Glen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scamehorn, of Roblin on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Wilson, Sheila and Sandra Wilson were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bush of 4th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Doris of New Liskeard, Miss Verna Stevenson of Eldorado, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Donnan, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Donnan attended the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. A. Redshaw, of Whitby. Mrs. Davies, of Toronto, age 86, was also present. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chambers were former residents here and their many friends join in wishing them many more similar happy events.

Miss Jean Haggerty and Miss Marjorie Wright are campaigning this week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bishop at their cottage at James Lake.

Owing to poor health I find it necessary to discontinue the work and I therefore hereby tender my resignation as Clerk of Sidney Township, the same to take effect June 30th, 1946.

W. H. Nobes

Bleeker and Grills moved that they do not accept the resignation of the clerk at the present time.

Council adjourned to meet July 1st at 8 p.m.

RECEIVES DISCHARGE

Capt. S. L. 'Pat' LaFontaine, son of Mrs. M. LaFontaine, Tweed, who has been on headquarters staff in Kingston since his return from overseas last summer, received his discharge last week. After a short holiday, he will take over the duties of editor of The Frankford Advocate which he relinquished on his enlistment.

Sidney Council

The last session of the Sidney Council was held on the 31st of May.

Mr. B. Bleeker was appointed clerk pro tem, due to illness of our clerk Mr. Nobes. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

It was moved that road accounts under Voucher No. 6 be paid. A delegation from S.S. No. 7 Sidney representing the properties of Messrs. Lorn Sharpe, Gladson Waite, Richard Arnott, Geo. E. Wellman, Edgar Ray, C. Skinkle and Mrs. E. Donnelly, made requests to be transferred from S.S. No. 7 to S.S. No. 2 Sidney Township.

In the afternoon the Council took the necessary declaration and formed a Court of Revision for hearing appeals against the 1946 Assessments.

The first appeal heard was that of Mr. Geo. McLean for a reduction on land and a correction in his assessment on dogs.

It was moved that Mr. McLean's assessment be reduced by $200 on land and the error in the dog assessment be corrected.

Mr. Morley Richardson for exemption on woodlot was dealt with and a grant of exemption on 20 acres wood lot was allowed to the extent of $150. In the appeal of Mr. Richard Arnott for a reduction on his Assessment, no action was taken.

The assessor was instructed to transfer the assessment on three acres of the Harry Ketcheson property to Dr. Geo. Stobie.

It was moved that accounts on the May pay list be paid. The clerk was authorized to write the president of the Chatterton W.I. that the Township Council is willing to construct a road from the main highway into the Guffin cemetery provided a satisfactory agreement is made between the parties concerned.

The resignation of the clerk was presented to the Council as follows:—To the Reeve, the Deputy-Reeve and members of Sidney Council, Gentlemen,—

I wish to thank you and the members of all preceding Councils with whom I have served during the past twenty-nine years, for the goodwill and cooperation extended to me.

FIRST ALL EXPRESS TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

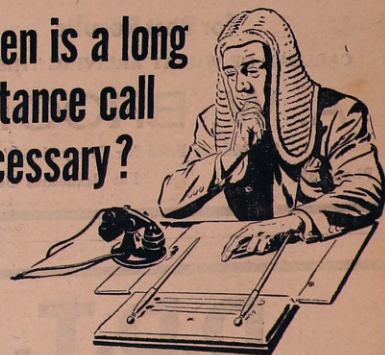

HISTORY was made in Canadian commercial aviation recently by one of Trans-Canada Air Lines' big, four-engine, Lancasters when it took off from Montreal airport on a special trans-Atlantic flight to Prestwick, Scotland, carrying an all express load, no passengers being aboard the plane. It was the first flight of its kind and was arranged to take care of the large number of shipments that had been flown to Montreal from as far east as Halifax and as far west as Vancouver by T.C.A.'s domestic service. Space for these shipments was not available on the regular trans-Atlantic flights notwithstanding a recent increase in schedules from three to four flights weekly.

Over 6,000 pounds of Canadian manufactured products made up the cargo, part of which is shown above being loaded into the aircraft from an express truck at the airport while the cargo agent and customs officer check each package. The shipments were distributed from Prestwick to various points in the United Kingdom,

When is a long distance call necessary?

You are the best judge. We think every call is important.

That's why we try our best to put it through quickly.

But more people are making more Long Distance calls than ever before — even more now than in the war years.

We are building new equipment and getting it into service as fast as we can. But right now there's often more traffic than we can take care of the way we'd like, and delays do occur.

We'd appreciate your help a little while longer. This summer, especially, please continue to ask yourself: "Is this Long Distance call necessary?"

WHEN YOU PLACE a Long Distance Call...

FIRST, give the operator the name of the distant city...

THEN, the telephone number of your party...

THEN, when the operator asks it, your own telephone number.

If you don't know the distant telephone number, please make a note of it for future use when you hear the operator repeat it.

ALFRED E. STRICKLAND

Following an illness of two years' duration, Alfred E. Strickland died at his home, Emma St., early on Tuesday morning.

Born at Harrow, England, the late Alfred Edward Strickland was in his 45th year, and was a son of Mr. Alfred E. Strickland and his wife, Ada Kane, now residing in Picton, Ont. For a time he lived in Picton and attended the Collegiate Institute there before going to the College of Pharmacy, Toronto.

For the past ten years he resided here and until a few months ago he conducted a drug store in the village. Prior to coming to Stirling he was in the drug business in Toronto for ten years. He was also a director of the Druggists' Association in the Quinte district for some time.

"Alf" Strickland was a good citizen and gave his support to all movements which had in view the advancement of Stirling. He was the efficient secretary of the Stirling Business Men's Association and served for a time on the Stirling Public Library Board. In religion he was a loyal and faithful member of St. John's Anglican Church and was active in the work of the parish. He served as People's Warden and as a member of the vestry council and was a member of the choir. He was also for some time superintendent of the Sunday School and took a leading part in St. John's Men's Association.

He was endowed with a pleasing personality and was popular and highly regarded by a host of friends and business acquaintances. Many friends regret his passing and will long entertain happy memories of their association with him.

Surviving him and to whom the sympathy of many friends will be extended are his wife, the former Mary Olive Fitchett; his parents; two sons, Roy, age 12 years, and Ronald, age 10 years; two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth (Mildred) Jenks, of Avon, N.Y., and Mrs. Lewis (Abbie) Rabble, of Deseronto.

The funeral took place from Duffin's Funeral Parlors at 1.55 p.m. Wednesday to St. John's Anglican Church for service at 2 p.m. Rev. C. C. Brazill, rector, officiated and was assisted in the service by Rev. A. S. McConnell, of Trenton, a former rector, and at the graveside by Rev. H. Swayne, of Picton.

The pallbearers were Messrs. J. B. Belshaw, B. Bedford, Walter Wright, Reg. Coombes, G. L. Johnstone and H. R. Tompkins.

Interment in Glenwood Cemetery, Picton.

Bethel W.A.

There was a splendid attendance at the Bethel W.A. meeting on Thursday the 20th of June at the home of Mrs. James Warren.

The president, Mrs. Don Heath, opened the session by calling on all to join in theme song and leading them in repeating the Lord's prayer. Mrs. Don Thompson read the 41st Psalm and Mrs. S. Elliott led in prayer. Mrs. T. F. Townsend gave a message, basing her remarks on "Divine Arithmetic" challenging all to live out some splendid rules in addition, subtraction, a multiplication and division. The group joined in singing "Faith of our Fathers." The committee in charge of the "shut ins" was asked for their report. $1.20 was paid for eight yards of broadcloth.

Mrs. Edgar McKeown was appointed Recording Secretary, following the resignation of Mrs. T. F. Townsend. Mrs. S. Elliott invited the members to her home for the July meeting. Mrs. Don Thompson, Mrs. Leslie Thompson and Mrs. R. Welbourn were named as a committee to prepare the program.

Following the business period Mrs. R. Shortt took charge of a further program, calling a reading by Edna Thompson entitled "Bag Your Troubles".

Mrs. Thomas McMullen brought a very full and interesting report of the W.A. Convention held in Albury on May 23rd. A very interesting feature being the appointment of Mrs. Harold Elliott of Bethel as president of the Prince Edward and Hastings Counties Belleville Presbytery Women's Association. Mrs. McMullen gave special stress to the inspirational address given by Mrs. J. L. Halpenny of Toronto.

Mrs. Leslie Thompson gave a reading "Obstacles which might just be another name for opportunities."

The solo "The Hills of To-morrow" was given by Mrs. Edgar McKeown with Mrs. W. Heath as accompanist. Mrs. T. F. Townsend who is moving to Deseronto in July was given a seat of honor and a message from the Association was read by Mrs. R. Welbourn. The message was accompanied by a beautiful Wedgewood vase a gift from the members. Mrs. Townsend expressed sincere thanks for the gift and for the loyalty and friendship of the group.

Mrs. S. Elliott read a poem "Bridge Builders". Several contests were enjoyed and a delicious afternoon tea was served. A very pleasant feature was a birthday cake with candles and the singing of "Happy Birthday" for Mrs. S. Elliott.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Albert Warren of Frankford.

Marriage Ceremony At Manse

(Regina Leader Post of June 19th)

At Westminster United Church manse, Saturday afternoon, Grace Lorraine Moynan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moynan, 3100 Albert St., became the bride of Gordon George Kennedy, 1240 Argyle St. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kennedy, 3531 West 40th street, Vancouver, B.C., formerly of Regina. Rev. J. Scott Leith conducted the ceremony. Miss Moynan wore an afternoon frock of butterfly blue and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley. She wore a coronet of roses in her hair and her only adornment was a pearl sunburst, belonging to her grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hutchinson attended the couple. Mrs. Hutchinson wearing a frock of pink net. Her corsage was of pink and blue flowers and she wore a coronet.

The bride's parents received the guests with the bride couple at a reception held at their home. An Italian lace cloth covered the tea table that was centered with a tiered cake embedded in pink tulle and rose petals. Pink tapers in candelabra were alight. Summer blossoms added to attractiveness of the rooms. Mrs. R. A. Hammond and Mrs. W. J. Arnall poured tea and servers were Misses Fran Smith, Lois Wahn, Pat Moynan, Cathy Hill, Isabelle LeHodey, Mrs. W. Tilson, Mrs. S. F. Norman, Misses Lloy Avery and Betty Lou Moynan looked after the register and Miss Helen Dettlor was in charge of the gift room. Toast to the bride was proposed by E. C. Leslie, K.C. After a wedding trip by plane to Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria, the bride and groom will make their home in Regina. The bride wore for travelling an oriental blue suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses.

Minister Honoured By Rawdon Circuit

On Monday evening, June 24th, over one hundred and fifty from the Rawdon charge gathered at Mount Pleasant Church hall and tendered their pastor and his wife a farewell party.

Mr. Carl Clancy was master of ceremonies and voiced the appreciation of the circuit to the honoured couple. Mrs. Harold Elliott led in a round of community singing with Mrs. Will Heath as accompanist. Readings were given by Mrs. Roy Thrasher, Mrs. Stewart Hoover, Mrs. Burton Morton and Miss Doris Pollock. Mrs. Frederick Beckett and Miss Lois Weaver contributed piano solos while Mrs. H. Elliott and Robert rendered a piano duet. Mrs. Marguerite McMullen and Mrs. Don Heath each sang a vocal selection.

Mr. B. C. Tucker and Mr. G. F. Spencer each spoke briefly, after which the pastor and his wife were given seats of honour and the Recording Secretary of the Circuit read an appreciative address, voicing the thoughts of those in attendance. Mr. Ross Hoard, treasurer of the Official Board, made the presentation of a well filled bill fold, and also spoke briefly. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend both graciously replied, thanking their Rawdon friends for the very pleasant surprise and the lovely gift. "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" was sung and the lunch committee served refreshments.

Among those on the circuit responsible for the evening were Messrs. Carl Clancy, Clarence Dunham, Will Heath, S. Brady, Ray Shortt, Ross Hoard, R. McConnell, Allan Reid and Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. Clifford Clancy, Mrs. Don Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Will Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Spencer, Mrs. Clifford Sine and others. A lovely bouquet of peonies graced the piano for the occasion.

Rev. and Mrs. Townsend have served on the Rawdon charge for four years and have made host of friends. Their work has been most satisfactory and the people are deeply grateful for the years they have laboured here. The leadership among the young people has been most effective, the official board meetings very harmonious, and during the four years two 75th anniversaries have been successfully carried through. The pupils of the five schools have benefitted from religious instruction. The manse has been greatly improved by the pastor's own efforts. Rev. Townsend has also hoping they won't be too nervous and forget everything when it is their turn to go on the stage.

There should be 33 girls completing the project at Maple Leaf and 43 girls completing at Stirling, so Miss Irvine, the Home Economist for the County, is looking forward to two very fine Achievement Days.

Music Festival Well Attended

Stirling Community Hall was filled to capacity for the musical festival presented by ten schools of Sidney Township under the direction of the music supervisor, Miss Grace Pittman, A.T.C.L., on Wednesday evening of last week.

The programme was given keen attention by the large audience and included numbers by S.S. No. 24, Miss J. McMullen, teacher; S.S. No. 19, Miss Crosby; S.S. No. 10, Miss Wallace; S.S. No. 17, Miss M. Bush; S.S. No. 7, Miss Pound; S.S. No. 22, Miss Hall; S.S. No. 12, Miss K. Bush; S.S. No. 20, Miss Sine; S.S. No. 13, Miss Phillips; S.S. No. 23, Miss Palmer. R. H. Macklem, B.A., I.P.S., acted as chairman.

good repair. There are club exhibits to prepare on "How to Look Your Best" and one member of each club must give a three minute comment on this exhibit. Skits or demonstrations on "Would you be Well Dressed" or "Making the Most of our Clothes" are also on the day's programme and in each club the girls are saying their parts over and over and anxiously
